Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, March 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] This comes under the heading of "Public Health and National Welfare." I just got some papers from Claremore. You remember those "Jamaica Ginger" victims in Oklahoma City? Well, there was a dozen of them come to Claremore, paralyzed, on crutches and cots, and it cured every one of them. Not only cured 'em of paralysis, but of drinking "Jake." Now I am not kidding about this cure; illness is too serious for that, so if you have any friends contemplating drinking "Jake," Claremore radium water is the only known antidote.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Mueller Coalition Collapses

Resignation Follows Split Over Unemployment Insurance Question

Bruening Reported in Line for Task of Forming New Government

BERLIN, March 27. (AP)—The coalition government of Chancellor Mueller, after surviving the stormy seas of post-war German politics for twenty-one months, and recently bringing the Young reparation plan safely through the Reichstag, crashed today on one of the many rocks threatening it in its financial program.

The Cabinet resigned when its component parties failed to agree on an unemployment insurance question. President Von Hindenburg accepted the resignation, requesting the ministers to remain in office until a new Cabinet could be formed.

Dr. Heinrich Bruening, a Centrist member of the Reichstag and one of the outstanding leaders of his party, was reported to have been suggested by Chancellor Mueller for the task of forming a new government.

MOVE NOT UNEXPECTED

The resignation of the Mueller Cabinet was far from being unexpected. Political circles had long believed that all that was holding it together was the necessity of seeing the Young plan through the Reichstag, and consolidating the achievements of the late Foreign Minister, Gustave Stresemann, in European politics.

The Socialists, who, with the

Missouri Scene of Disorder

Tear Bombs and Clubs Put Down Rebellion Against Factory Work

Twenty Convicts Injured in Second Strike in Twenty-four Hours

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) March 27. (AP)—An uprising of more than 1200 convicts in the Missouri penitentiary today, the second within twenty-four hours, was speedily put down with the use of tear bombs and clubs, which subdued about 400 of the most rebellious prisoners. Severe disciplinary measures were put into effect tonight to prevent further disorders.

Twenty convicts were injured, none seriously, in the melee, which took place at noon in the main prison dining-room after 750 convicts had refused to leave the hall. Prison guards and State militiamen dislodged about 400 of them after the others had fled outside under threat of an attack.

Earlier a strike against work by more than 500 convicts had forced suspension of operations at prison factories and about 80 per cent of the penitentiary's population had been locked in cells.

CONVICTS UNARMED

No shots were fired during the riot, but machine guns were trained on the prison court, scene of the disorder. The convicts had no weapons.

Warden Rudolph said tonight the situation is well in hand, but he is uncertain whether the backbone of the mutiny, in evidence for some time, has been broken. He said no effort probably will be made to operate factories tomorrow.

In a ringing address late today in the main prison courtyard to several hundred convicts who did not take part in today's disorders, Warden Rudolph laid down a new and severe set of penitentiary rules, designed, he said, "to make this a real prison instead of a kindergarten."

"We are through with methods of leniency," the warden shouted as he paced up and down in front of the silent group within earshot of cell houses containing the rebellious convicts. "We are going to clamp down and run this penitentiary on a hard-boiled basis. We are going to grant no special privileges."

WORK HALTED

Today's clash climaxed a rebellion which started after breakfast when fifty convicts refused to go to work in the chair factory, and which spread rapidly to five other factories where convicts, with no threat of violence, simply quit work.

The riot in the main dining-room was started by the same 750 who yesterday mutinied for two hours without violence because they objected to stew that was fed them for lunch. Today they ate their food, but when the signal to leave was given they stubbornly refused to move from their tables until routed.

Later Rudolph received reports from convicts that the outbreak was planned overnight as a general strike with the possible attempt to burn two or more of the factories so as to get out of work. Investigation into these reports was ordered.

Columbia Head Has Interview With Pope Pius

VATICAN CITY, March 27. (AP) Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, was received in private audience today by Pope Pius XI. The Pontiff bestowed the apostolic benediction upon him and his wife and daughter, who also were present at the interview, and presented them with medals commemorative of his jubilee year.

GRUNDY IN G.O.P. RACE FOR SENATE

Name Not Withdrawn Despite Running Mate's Actions and Rumors

PHILADELPHIA, March 27. (AP)—Senator Grundy, candidate for election to the seat in the United States Senate which he now holds by appointment, is still in the field for the Republican nomination.

It was authoritatively announced tonight that the Senator's petitions for the Republican nomination will be filed in Harrisburg next Monday, the last day for taking such legal action.

If the Senator had any intention of withdrawing from the race as a result of the action of his running mate, Samuel S. Lewis, in getting out of the contest for the gubernatorial nomination, he has changed his mind.

There have been widespread rumors that the Pennsylvania Senator, dissatisfied with the support he is receiving from State leaders, might announce his withdrawal from the Senatorial contest.

Public Domain Control Shift to States Favored

ROCK SPRINGS (Wyo.) March 27. (AP)—Perry W. Jenkins of Cora, Wyo., a member of the Commission on Conservation and Administration of the Public Domain appointed by President Hoover, today announced he has forwarded a report to the President recommending that the public domain be transferred to State control, giving States complete title covering everything from the surface down. He would transfer to the States title to reserved mineral lands, with stipulations yielding to the Federal government present royalties for purposes to which they now are devoted. He proposed also ultimate State administration of forests.

King in First Levee Since His Recovery

LONDON, March 27. (AP)—Bright spring weather today attracted a crowd to Buckingham Palace gates to witness arrival of guests—in cocked hats and knee breeches—for King George's first levee since his illness.

The scene recalled prewar days, as not since then have levees been held at Buckingham Palace. Today's ceremony took place there as the result of the use of St. James' Palace to house the naval conference.

The scene today was a brilliant one, with civilian guests arriving in picturesque court attire and members of the army, navy and air services wearing full-dress uniforms.

Former Judge Shoots Officer Who Halts Him

DECATUR (Ala.) March 27. (AP) T. E. Skeggs, former probate judge, drove across a boulevard stop sign last night, according to police, and then shot and probably fatally wounded Traffic Officer W. E. Wright when Wright reprimanded him.

Dying Engineer at Throttle of Runaway Train

ANN ARBOR (Mich.) March 27. (AP)—With the engineer unconscious at his throttle, Michigan Central passenger train No. 14 sped down grade between Jackson and Ann Arbor out of control last night. When the train had reached a speed of fifty-seven miles an hour on the down grade Fireman R. H. Van Order noticed the engineer, Floyd Finch of Jackson, slumped over on his seat.

Van Order jumped for the throttle and brought the train under control. He found Finch with his head covered with blood and unconscious. With the aid of a brakeman Van Order piloted the train into Ann Arbor, where Finch was removed to a hospital. He died later.

Van Order expressed the belief the engineer had been hit by a mail crane hook.

Public Building Measure Ready for President

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—Congressional action was completed today on the Elliott bill to authorize the appropriation of $230,000,000 for public building construction when the House accepted Senate amendments.

The measure goes to the President.

Appeal Won on Tiny Land Strip

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27. (AP) More than eight years of litigation over a strip of land an inch and one-half wide in the Sunset district here ended today with a State Appellate Court judgment in favor of Alfred Hennessey, property owner.

The court ruled that Hennessey owned the strip and that the home of Thomas Robinett, a neighbor, encroached on Hennessey's property. The two families have spent several thousands of dollars in the long legal battle over the ownership of the narrow strip.

PREMIER OF ONTARIO TO REFUSE BID

Ferguson Will Decline Invitation to Appear as Witness for Wets

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—An invitation to Premier Ferguson of Ontario Province, Canada, to appear as a rebuttal witness to the testimony given yesterday by former Premier Drury of Ontario before the House Judiciary Committee on government liquor control in Canada is to be forwarded by Representative Linthicum, Democrat, of Maryland, leader of the wet bloc.

Premier Ferguson, in Toronto, said, however, that he will decline the invitation.

"I am sure the committee will realize," he said, "that it is undesirable that the Prime Minister of this Province should attempt to influence the trend of legislation in a friendly foreign country."

He added that if the committee desires to gather data, the Ontario government will be glad to co-operate.

Commenting on Mr. Drury's testimony Mr. Ferguson was quoted in a Toronto dispatch as saying: "The best evidence of satisfaction of the public of Ontario as to the law is shown in the result of the last election. The Province repudiated Mr. Drury's policy and returned ninety-two supporters of the government out of a total of 112 members in its Legislature."

Flyer to Seek 400-Mile Mark

LONDON, March 27. (Exclusive) An attempt to hurtle through the air at a rate of 400 miles an hour will be made shortly during the Air Ministry test at Felixstowe by Squadron Leader A. H. Orlebar, who attained a speed of 358 miles per hour in the last Schneider Cup race.

The British Air Ministry has already announced that it does not intend to compete again in the Schneider races, but feels confident that the British marine plane is capable of beating the extraordinary record attained by Squadron Leader Orlebar at Calshot last September.

Byrd Sails for Home April 9

DUNEDIN, March 28. (Friday.) (AP)—Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd announced today that he will start for New York on April 9 aboard the liner Corinthic. He will arrive at Panama on April 30, which he expects will be about twenty days ahead of his two expedition ships.

The bark City of New York sailed from here last Sunday on its way to Papeete, Tahiti, the first stop. The steamer Eleanor Bolling is to leave Sunday.

Admiral Byrd said he will wait at Panama for his ships.

AMERICANS DRAFT PLAN FOR PACT PARTICIPATION

Basis on Which United States Will Share in Consultative Treaty With Naval Powers Defined

LONDON, March 27. (AP)—A committee of the American delegation to the naval conference tonight completed a definite plan for American participation in a consultative pact among the naval powers if one is finally adopted by the conference. The nature of this plan was not disclosed.

This is the first move of a definite nature by the Americans in the direction of a consultative agreement. It is in accord with Secretary of State Stimson's suggestion that his colleagues should prepare their ideas on such a treaty as soon as possible.

Ambassador Morrow, Senator Robinson and Ambassador Gibson worked almost the whole afternoon and intermittently again in the evening to complete the plan.

This is only one among several suggestions that the delegation will have before it for consideration early next week.

Decidedly out of the picture of conference activity during the negotiations among France, Great Britain and Italy, the Americans have been bending all their efforts to shaping a definite policy toward a consultative pact.

PEACE PACT PLANS

The other three powers today began active preparation of a treaty to preserve peace in the Mediterranean as an indirect method of bringing France and Italy into a five-power disarmament pact. When this treaty is completed, the Americans probably will be called on to approve or reject it, and the American delegates in framing a definite policy, have in mind this and other contingencies relating to political agreements they may have to meet. They feel their principal duty now is to be prepared immediately to answer, at any time the question is brought up, just how far the United States is willing to go when the various types of treaties are submitted for American consideration.

FOUR PACTS MAY RESULT

In order that there should be a sharp line of demarcation between such security and consultative agreements as may be devised at London, the Americans have practically decided to stand for the complete separation of any political pact from the limitation treaty. In this way, as at the Washington conference in the case of the four-power Pacific pact and the submarine treaty, each pact could be signed and ratified by those nations that desired to associate themselves with it, leaving the United States free to refuse to accept any security pact, but able to associate itself with a consultative pact that met its desires.

If the Americans gain their point, the London conference will almost inevitably produce four separate and distinct treaties—naval agreement, humanization of submarine warfare, a security pact for the Europeans and a consultative pact for the Europeans and the United States. The general impression is that Japan would be willing to sign a consultative pact on the same basis as the United States.

FRENCH POSITION

It is reported that what France particularly desires in a Mediterranean treaty is to have Great Britain, France and Italy pledge, in case of a dispute in the Mediterranean, to accept recommendations of the League Council regarding the situation as obligatory.

This point arises from Article XVI of the League Covenant, the exact meaning of which has been debated. The new treaty would make obligations definite, as far as Great Britain, France and Italy are concerned, in any dispute in the area covered by the pact.

In a talk with Dino Grandi tonight Ambassador Gibson, speaking for the American delegation, informed the Italian Foreign Minister that it is impossible for the United States to participate in the development of a Mediterranean security pact, and that the present phase of the disarmament conference here is considered solely a matter for Great Britain, France and Italy.

ELATION EXPRESSED

The French delegation radiated pleasure over the conference developments today. Secretary Stimson likewise was elated because the European powers had got busy on the political problem that has held up the negotiations.

Lobbying Funds to be Aired

Senate Committee Prepares to Question Both Sides on Law Campaigns

Report on Muscle Shoals and Claudius H. Huston to be Presented April 1

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—Methods employed by dry and wet organizations in supporting or opposing the prohibition laws, together with the amount of money expended, will be investigated by the Senate lobby committee.

Chairman Caraway of the committee said today the inquiry will begin as soon as the investigation of persons and organizations interested in Muscle Shoals is completed. W. B. Bell, president of the American Cyanamid Company, who has been called for Tuesday, is expected to be the last Muscle Shoals witness.

QUIZ BOTH SIDES

The lobby chairman said the prohibition inquiry in all probability will include the Anti-Saloon League and the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. He indicated that representatives of other organizations also will be called, but definite plans have not been made.

Some committee members are out of the city and a program will not be mapped out until they return.

Caraway said the committee will not inquire into the merits of prohibition, but will seek to learn only the methods employed by the organizations and how much money they have spent.

Representative Tinkham, Republican, Massachusetts, a wet, probably will be the first witness. He has asked permission to appear before the lobby committee to advocate an investigation of the Federal Council of Churches and the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals.

Whether these organizations will be investigated by the committee will be decided after Tinkham has testified.

Caraway said he hoped the prohibition inquiry will terminate the activities of the lobby committee, which has been holding hearings for more than five months. He estimated the prohibition investigation will not require more than two weeks.

WOULD END SESSION

"The committee was appointed to make an investigation of lobbying," Caraway explained. "I think we have brought to light the activities of lobbyists and I don't see any use of prolonging the investigation. We could remain in session indefinitely but I don't see any use of it."

A report on the Muscle Shoals investigation is being prepared for submission to the Senate when it reconvenes April 1 after a brief vacation.

The report, Caraway said, will discuss the activities of Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican National Committee and former president of the Tennessee River Improvement Association, which had advocated the Cyanamid company's proposal to lease the power and nitrate plant.

KEYES FATTENS IN PRISON

Ex-Prosecutor Gains Ten Pounds and Asserts Convicts Treat Him as Fellow-Sufferer

SAN QUENTIN, March 27. (Exclusive)—Asa Keyes, convicted Los Angeles District Attorney, talked to newspaper men today for the first time since entering the prison to serve his bribery sentence. His visitors discovered he has regained ten of the thirty pounds he lost while confined in the Los Angeles County Jail, that he had found most of his fellow-convicts friendly and that he is studying astronomy in his spare time.

"I have always been interested in astronomy," the former prosecutor declared, "but I never had time to study it. I am surprised at the large number of astronomical works in the prison library."

In his duties as distributor of newspapers, magazines and presents, Keyes, in the course of a week's time, is estimated to come into contact with 90 per cent of the prison's inmates, except those on condemned row. All of them, Keyes said, appear to accept him as a fellow-sufferer and apparently bear no animosity whatever for the thought that he sent most of them to prison.

"Four or five men a day come to me seeking advice on legal points," Keyes said, "I am glad to help them as far as I can."

His recovery of strength and weight he attributes to "good food, restful sleep, fresh air and sunshine." His face has regained color, also. He refused to comment on the latest developments in the Julian petroleum debacle, saying he is completely out of touch with the situation except what he reads in newspapers. That reading, incidentally, comes from papers printed outside California as a prison rule forbids the receipt of papers printed in the State.

Told that Louis Krause, private detective accused as a jury fixer in the Julian trials, had been quoted as saying the former prosecutor was "framed" into prison, his only comment was:

"I dislike that word. All district attorneys bear that charge made on every occasion by those they convict."

NAVAL PARLEY FORGES AHEAD

Scheme Arouses Opposition at Washington

Japanese delegation, told Mr. Stimson and Mr. MacDonald that the Japanese reply on the tentative American-Japanese agreement would probably indicate almost, if not wholly, complete approval.

In reply to various reports in the British press about the role the American delegation is taking in the present political discussions, the Americans today gave out the following statement to British newspaper men as an outline of the American position:

AMERICAN STATEMENT

"No responsible member of the American delegation has at any time urged or proposed to either the British or the French delegates any suggestion as to the solution of their problems at the naval conference. It is thoroughly recognized in the American delegation that problems must be solved by delegates directly concerned, and neither in the past nor in the future have or will the delegates attempt to intervene as between France and Great Britain.

"It therefore follows that reports regarding the activity of any particular American delegate in this sense are fictitious. Obviously the American interest in the conference and its success is vital, and in this period of uncertainty and conjecture one cannot do better than reproduce the following extracts from the Hoover-MacDonald communique issued on the Rapidan:

"'The part of each of our governments in promotion of world peace will be different, as one will never consent to become entangled in European diplomacy and the other is resolved to pursue a policy of active co-operation with its European neighbors, but each of our governments will direct its thoughts and influence toward securing and maintaining the peace of the world.'"

BORAH CRITICISES PLAN FOR CONSULTATIVE PACT

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—Opposition to American signature of a consultative pact at the London naval conference developed in the Senate today with Chairman Borah of the Foreign Relations Committee characterising a consultative pact not backed by definite pledges as a "pious fraud."

Senator Borah's declaration did not directly mention the offer of Secretary Stimson, chairman of the American delegation in London, to consider a consultative pact "with an entirely open mind." The Senator said, however, that someone should define more fully what a consultative treaty is.

President Hoover so far has been silent on the offer of Secretary Stimson to the London conferees to consider a consultative pact which involves no guarantee of military force by the United States.

Senator Borah spoke out after a conference with Senator Swanson, Virginia, ranking Democrat on the Foreign Relations Committee. Senators George, Democrat, Georgia, and Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, also members of this committee, likewise disapproved of any political pact.

Any treaty emanating from the London parley must get Senate ratification. As chairman of the powerful Foreign Relations Committee, Senator Borah will be called upon to take charge of that treaty before the Senate.

Senate leaders were plainly surprised at the London proposal for a consultative treaty, believing the President was firmly opposed to any manner of political pact in connection with the efforts for reduction of naval armaments.

JAPAN'S NAVAL STAFF OPPOSES AGREEMENT

TOKIO, March 27. (AP)—Vigorous opposition to Japan's acceptance of the tentative agreement by Japanese and American delegates to the London naval conference halted action today by the Japanese Cabinet, the ministers apparently believing their acceptance would endanger the Hamaguchi Cabinet's existence.

The naval general staff, supported by other influential elements, has opposed the inclination of the civilian officials to accept the agreement. The naval faction insisted that while it provides for Japan having a percentage of 69.6 of the total tonnage of the United States, the agreement is fatally defective because it does not concede Japan a 70 per cent ratio in big cruisers and provided for but 53,000 tons of submarines instead of 78,000 tons contended for by Japan. The tentative agreement at London would have permitted Japan 60.2 per cent of the American tonnage in big cruisers.

Oklahoman Charged With Stealing Equipment to Start Gas Station

SEMINOLE (Okla.) March 27. (AP)—K. C. Huckins, who, by his own admission, nursed an ambition to go into business for himself, but lacked the necessary funds, is held in a Seminole jail, charged with theft of equipment for an entire gasoline filling station.

A week ago Huckins installed his station here and did a thriving business until the law intervened. Chief of Police Sims says the prisoner admits theft of two pumps, two storage tanks, four oil barrels and other modern equipment at Shawnee, Okla.

WORLD BANK ASSAILED BY McFADDEN

Warning Also Given in Talk Over Radio, Against Reparation Bonds

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—Attacking the Bank for International Settlements and the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., Chairman McFadden of the House Banking Committee in a radio address tonight warned the American people against absorbing German reparation bonds, which he charged are illegal securities.

Speaking under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution on a coast-to-coast network, the Pennsylvania Representative asserted that the international bank had been formed "to head the financial division of the League of Nations" and for the purpose of mobilizing American financial resources with those of Europe "through the sale of billions of dollars' worth of German reparation bonds to our people here in exchange for our gold."

"They know that these entangling alliances," he said, "will eventually drag us into the World Court, the Bank for International Settlements, and eventually into the League of Nations."

In the Chamber of Deputies he twice opposed a question of confidence and twice was sustained—the first time by raised hands and the second by a vote of 319 to 262.

CONFIDENCE VOTED

The Senate voted confidence in Tardieu 145-124 on the question of credits necessary to finance the new undersecretaries of state provided in the new ministries established.

The two votes in the Chamber arose over the bills for ratification of the Young plan. In the first instance, Louis Marin, Nationalist leader, denounced the plan and then moved the previous question, which would call for an immediate vote. When the Premier asked for the Chamber's support so many hands went up it wasn't necessary to count them.

DISCUSSION BITTER

In the second instance the discussion was bitter. The Radical Socialists moved to defer debate until the return of Foreign Minister Briand from London, and the arguments of the radicals became so bitter the few ministers present left the government benches in sign of protest. But Tardieu emerged with a majority of 87.

Friends and foes alike saw the Premier's victories as clearing the ministerial situation.

AMERICAN'S KIDNAPERS CAPTURED

Mexican Authorities Send Soldiers to Round Up Remainder of Bandits

MEXICO CITY, March 27. (AP)—A dispatch to the newspaper Excelsior from Tepic today said that the three bandits who had kidnaped J. E. Bristow, American oil man, were captured when they entered Tepic to negotiate for ransom.

Their names are given as Emilio Perez, Jose Guerrero, and Jose Guerrero, Jr. The account says that Mr. Bristow was the victim of his own imprudence in entering a part of Nayarit which is beyond civil and military control and against which he had been warned. It was said he had located a gold vein and disregarded the advice.

Gen. Pablo Rodriguez has dispatched troops after the remaining bandits.

TEUTON CABINET GOES ON ROCKS

Centrists, Democrats and Populists, and the Bavarian People's party formed the coalition, will withdraw from it, and the new government, therefore, will have a center of gravity shifted farther toward the center of the Reichstag. The Centrists, probably under Dr. Bruening, will be logical leaders of the new coalition, supported by the Populists, the Democrats, Bavarians, Christian Socialists and Economic party.

For weeks the financial program of Finance Minister Moldenhauer has been causing trouble for the Cabinet, overtaxation as well as unemployment insurance. Dr. Mueller failed in his efforts to conciliate the views of the various party leaders.

QUESTION AT ISSUE

The question actually at issue was whether the government of the Reich would add the sum of 100,000,000 marks to a subsidy of the Federal Unemployment Institute, which is chiefly supported by obligatory contributions from employers and employees, or whether these contributions should be increased. It also was suggested that the existing scale of unemployment doles should be reduced.

Dr. Moldenhauer, Finance Minister and member of the Populist party, opposed the additional subsidy, maintaining it would throw the whole budget out of gear. The proposal to raise the obligatory contributions was opposed by both Socialists and Populists, and the lowering of the doles by the Socialists.

A compromise suggested by the Centrists, virtually postponing the issue until autumn, was rejected by the Socialists.

FREEDOM FIGHT WON BY SUNDAY

Evangelist's Son Wanted Here Over Marital Break Granted Habeas Corpus

CHICAGO, March 27. (AP)—A writ of habeas corpus was granted today to George M. Sunday of Los Angeles to permit his release on bonds pending his removal to the California city. The writ was granted by Chief Justice Normyle of the Criminal Court, before whom Sunday was brought on a fugitive warrant issued in California.

Charges against the son of the evangelist, Billy Sunday, were brought in Los Angeles by his wife, Mrs. Harriet Sunday, who accused him of misconduct. In her complaint Mrs. Sunday named Mauryne La Salle, Hollywood mannekin, as the woman with whom her husband fled.

MacDONALD PRESENTED ULTIMATUM

Labor Party Allows Two Weeks to Find New Plan to Aid Employment

LONDON, March 27. (AP)—Dissatisfied with the government unemployment policy members of the Parliamentary Labor party, the backbone of the labor movement, at a meeting last night presented what political circles called an ultimatum to the MacDonald ministry, giving them a fortnight in which to reply.

The ultimatum took the form of a resolution calling upon the government to find a new scheme for solution of the unemployment problem, explain why more progressive steps have not been taken and submit any decision as to policy which may be reached in the meantime.

Sheriff Tells of Confession in Paul Killing

NEW CASTLE (Pa.) March 27. (AP) Sheriff Wright of Phoenix, Ariz., today testified at the murder trial of W. Glenn Dague, that Dague confessed to him he had shot at Highway Patrolman Brady Paul who was fatally wounded on a road near here, December 27, last. The shooting occurred while Paul was seeking robbers who had held up a grocery store.

Wright said the confession which Dague later repudiated was made after Dague and Mrs. Irene Schroder were taken to the Maricopa County Jail at Phoenix after their surrender in the hills. Mrs. Schroeder was convicted last week in the Paul slaying, the jury recommending the death penalty.

ERLANGER FIGHT GETS UNDER WAY

Self-Styled, Common-Law Wife of Theater Magnate Pushes Claims on Estate

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—Mrs. Charlotte Fiscal Erlanger, who says she was the common-law wife of A. L. Erlanger, late theater magnate, today filed affidavits in Surrogate's Court in support of her claims for a widow's share in the $75,000,000 Erlanger estate.

She sets forth in the affidavits that she had lived with Erlanger as his wife since 1920, and the only time they were separated during that period was for seven days in February of last year.

She charges that Mitchell Erlanger, a former judge and a brother of the theater man, and a sister at that time "had jointly conspired" to spirit him away from her.

LONG AND SHORT SKIRTS NEEDED

Jean Patou Interprets Style For American Women

Lengthy Dress Gives Latins Greater Advantage

French Couturier Explains Mode's Possibilities

NEW YORK, March 27. (NANA) Upon his arrival in New York, Jean Patou, French couturier, was quoted as saying the American women's mode of dressing is all wrong. At the Savoy Plaza, where he is stopping, he was asked today for further comment on this judgment.

"I was probably misunderstood," the couturier said. "I was told American women did not favor the new styles, because they did not give them freedom of movement when participating in popular sports and other modern activities.

BOTH LONG AND SHORT

"For instance it was pointed out to me that a long skirt would greatly hinder a woman in properly driving an automobile. A woman playing tennis would look ridiculous wielding a racket while dressed in a long flowing skirt.

"When I heard this, my only remark was, "to adapt long skirts for day and evening is a mistake. There should be some discrimination. For morning and sports wear the dress should be exactly knee-length. For afternoon it is correct for the dress to be three inches lower. For evening the gown may be ankle length or worn with a train, which may be taken up over the arm."

STYLES FOR LATINS

When asked if it is possible to dress the American woman with the new Parisian mode, M. Patou replied:

"Between 1918 and 1929 styles were strongly influenced by the American clientele. They were rather simple in line and workmanship and in many cases lacked personality. They were thus easily copied in ready-made dresses.

"Unquestionably this frequently becoming fashion was well suited to the average American woman, with her slender figure and height above that of the Latin women. But it was often less suitable for the French, Spanish or South American type, with their shorter and full figures.

NOT READY-MADE ONE

"The new style, of which I was one of the originators, can be described as more dressy and less of a ready-made one. It requires more skill in designing and more craftsmanship in the handling of the material. It requires more fittings and it cannot so easily be copied for mass production without losing its beauty.

"This, after all, should be the dominant trait of any high-class style, which should be reserved for the few for whom it was designed by the art of the specialist as against the standardization which has prevailed for the last few years. A fashion should be a luxury and it should, therefore, not be one capable of being worn by everybody.

AMERICA CAN ADAPT

"It is my belief that the efforts and creations of the leading Paris dressmakers during the last seasons fulfill exactly this legitimate desire for luxury and individuality with the object of distinguishing the elite.

"The new styles are particularly well suited to the Latin silhouette. But they are also very successful with the true American type, whose lines can be properly termed the ideal modern figure, with its slenderness and grace. To this line the new fashion adds what must always remain most desirable for the elegant American woman: Individuality and personality."

"Will the high waistline be popular?" we asked.

"There is no standardization of the waistline. The natural waistline should be followed," replied M. Patou.

RESORT HOTEL BURNS

LONG BEACH (N. Y.) March 27. (AP)—Fire early today destroyed the $1,000,000 Hotel Lafayette, in Park avenue, here. The hotel was to have been opened for the summer within a few days and was unoccupied. The origin of the fire was not determined.

LABORER'S JUG FULL OF GOLD

Old Farm Building Yields $2000 in Gold Pieces, and Finder's Keeper

MARSHALL (Mich.) March 27. (AP)—William Caffery, laborer, called a taxi to take him home with his jug of $20 gold pieces.

Caffery was hired to do some cleaning on a farm near here owned by Charles Budlong. He found the jug containing $2000 in gold in an old building he was tearing down. The coins are dated 1850 to 1890. Prior to 1892 the farm was owned by a man named Lee, who was reputed to be wealthy but whose money was not found when he died.

The money belongs to Caffery unless heirs of Lee show up and prove their right to the property.

Rapid City (S. D.) Chamber Invites Capone to Make His Future Home There

RAPID CITY (S. D.) March 27. (Exclusive)—The Chamber of Commerce here has invited "Scarface" Al Capone of Chicago to come to the Black Hills of South Dakota to make his home.

The letter, signed by Dan Evans, president of the organization, was addressed to the gangster at Chicago.

Quoting Bible passages, the letter was characterized as a sincere invitation to the homeless racketeer to come to the West, where a man "is judged by the life he lives rather than by his record." To Miami, Fla., and Chicago, Ill., the letter carried a scriptural rebuke: "Him who is free of sin cast the first stone."

Authors of the message said that their act of hospitality was inspired by recent articles extolling the good and generous side of the beer baron, and that they believe that the colorful and romantic legend of crime that surrounds him is the result of imagination rather than of fact.

CARAVAN VISITS PORT OF PAST

Agua Bampo, Ghost Town, Greets Pathfinders

Revival Seen as Prospect With New Highway

Carr Pictures Area as Real Hunter's Paradise

BY HARRY CARR

"Times" Staff Representative

LOS MOCHIS (Mex.) March 27. (Exclusive)—Today's journey of the Automobile Club of Southern California pathfinding exdition was like an object lesson showing what American capital can do in Mexico if this projected road is completed. From Navojoa, we motored to Agua Bampo. At one time this was a prosperous Mexican seaport, where sailing ships landed to bring supplies to the mines and take away ore. The building of the Southern Pacific Railroad wrecked the town. It is a ghost town, with adobes whose windows look with empty, wistful eyes upon a glorious past.

We had a wonderful luncheon at an old ranch house in the middle of the empty town. We drank water drawn from a well sweep which has not been changed since the days of the Conquest and were served native Mexican dishes cooked on a stove of stone and mud invented by the Indians long before the white men came. The house belongs to Luis Torres, one of the deposed rebel chiefs.

HUNTER'S PARADISE

Completion of the projected automobile road will put this town back on the map. It is one of the most wonderful hunting and fishing resorts in the world. Turtles large enough to tow a boat are to be had in the gulf and so many ducks swarm on the marsh lands that it becomes tedious to shoot them. Ruined by the railroad, it will be revived by the automobile.

Riding through miles of organ cactus which stand like giant candelabra in the desert, we came at length to the crest where the fertile Fuerte River Valley spreads out, a lush jungle of palms and undergrowth. It is the edge of the tropics. The town of Los Mochis in this valley is particularly interesting as showing what American capital may do to Mexico. It is a vast agricultural project built on the sad remains of a socialist colony. It is a laboratory experiment of American capital in Mexico. I am going to look it over tomorrow.

SIGN ERECTED

As we passed the boundary of Sonora and passed into Sinaloa, with its old towns, its tropic vegetation and its historic valleys, the director of the club expedition erected a highway sign, marking the boundaries of the two states.

It seemed symbolic that the only thing they could find upon which to fasten the sign was an old Indian dugout canoe lying by the roadside.

At Mazjoa Capt. Morel of the Mexican Navy joined our party as special representative of Gen. Almazan. We were escorted to the borders of Sonora by a flotilla of cars from the State of Sonora. At the boundary we were met by Col. Serrano, special representative of the Governor of Sinaloa.

Texas Husband Accused Tunney in Alienation Action for $500,000

BRIDGEPORT (Ct.) March 27. (AP)—John S. Fogarty of Fort Worth, Tex., today withdrew his $500,000 alienation of affection suit against James J. (Gene) Tunney, retired heavyweight boxing champion. The withdrawal was accepted by Judge Yeomans at a hearing in Superior Court.

Fogarty charged he had lived happily with his wife at Fort Worth for many years until Tunney met her when training at Hot Springs, Ark., in 1924.

At that time Tunney, "by his arts, blandishments and seductions," it was charged, alienated the love and affection of Fogarty's wife and destroyed the happiness of his home.

He also charged that Mrs. Fogarty started divorce proceedings against him in Fort Worth at Tunney's behest, and that the fighter promised to marry her if and when she could get the decree.

Misconduct was charged on several occasions, and Mrs. Fogarty traveled with Tunney representing herself as his wife, the husband declared.

Counsel for Tunney said in court that no monetary settlement had been made.

SCHOOL DAYS NOT OVER, BRIDE LEARNS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27. (Exclusive)—Iolanthe Koch, who became a bride at 17 years of age, thought her school days were over when she took on the duties of a household. NOVELIST IN APPLICATION FOR DIVORCE

Dorothy Carman Files Suit in Nevada and Will Write While Waiting

NEW YORK, March 27. (Exclusive)—After writing a series of modern novels advocating changes in church, social and family life, Dorothy Carman, New York author, decided to use her penchant for change today by filing an action in Reno looking to the rearranging of her own marital affairs.

The "Mr. Carman" in the case seemed to be somewhat of a mystery among New York acquaintances of the young novelist today, but her publishers stated that they believe the writer's husband resided with her in Maplewood, N. J., up to a few months ago.

Mrs. Carman asks an absolute divorce. She has taken up residence beside Lake Tahoe, in the nation's divorce mecca, according to dispatches, and is spending her three months' waiting period preparing a new novel in which it is believed she will seek to win the public over to her idea on modern divorce.

Government of Irish Free State May Quit Office

DUBLIN, March 27. (AP)—The Irish Free State government, headed by President Cosgrave, tonight considered the advisability of resigning after an unexpected defeat on an opposition bill during the day, but finally postponed decision until tomorrow.

Political circles generally expect the ministry to announce their resignation when they meet the Dail then. Resignation does not involve a general election, the constitution providing for a change of government within the statutory life of the Dail without an appeal to the country.

Twenty members of the Dail were absent when the government was defeated by 66 votes to 64. The vote came on the second reading of a bill extending the operations of the old-age pensions act.

Gangsters Kill 'Clutching Hand'

NEW YORK, March 27. (Exclusive) — The "Clutching Hand," known to police as Giuseppe Parranovich, who was thrice arrested for murder and each time went free, was dealt the sterner justice of gangdom today in Brooklyn.

Three men sat in an untenanted top floor apartment on Sackett street and waited until the "Clutching Hand" strolled by. Then they emptied their three pistols at him and six bullets tore into him, while at least nine others splattered against the wall of the house he was passing.

President Wires Assertion Party Has Met Tests

BANGOR (Me.) March 27. (AP)—The State Republican organization in convention here today adopted an eleven-plank platform without a dissenting voice being raised from the floor.

The prohibition plank approved "the course" of President Hoover, pledged him "our support" and held that candidates elected as Republicans are in "honor bound to conform in their actions."

Praise of the State and national administration was voiced.

MESSAGE FROM HOOVER

President Hoover, in a telegram to the convention, declared "the party has met the issues before the country with constructive measures.

"The party's record of legislation and adminsitration justifies the continuing confidence of the people," the Chief Executive said.

Arthur M. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture, principal speaker, asserted the Federal Farm Board is attempting to work out a plan whereby New England agriculture through possible co-operation with producers in other parts of the nation can organize and "achieve" beneficial results.

KEYNOTE ADDRESS

Representative Nelson of Maine, in the keynote address before the convention appealed for a plank in the platform "so plain and unequivocal that he who runs may read that Republicans of Maine stand first, last, and all the time" in support of the national administration, President Hoover and the Federal Constitution.

"At this time, when Republican national policies are on trial, when demagogues, for selfish ends, seek to thwart the execution of the Republican program and to discredit the President of the United States, when nullification is openly advocated in the market place, the people of the country are looking to this convention to see where Maine Republicans stand on these important issues," he declared.

TWENTY-ONE HURT WHEN BUS CRASHES

Transcontinental Coach Skids on Icy Highway and Angelenos Among Victims

LAS VEGAS (N. M.) March 27. (AP)—Twenty-one persons are in the Las Vegas Hospital suffering from injuries received last night when a Pickwick transcontinental bus skidded on an icy highway and turned over near Tecolote, fifteen miles southwest of here.

Only two persons were seriously hurt. They are Leroy Lighter of 4920 Druid avenue, Los Angeles, who suffered a broken leg, and Cook Wilson of Denver, who has several fractured ribs.

The top of the bus was torn off. The bus was en route from Los Angeles to Denver.

Included among passengers cut and bruised are:

Miss Maye Hesten, Cincinnati; Mrs. Gladys Daniels, St. Louis; Mrs. Ella Brewner, Hollywood; Mrs. J. K. Liggett, Campoint, Ill.; Talbert S. MacConnell, Brooklyn; Melden Hein, Mrs. P. A. FEDERAL JUDGE QUITS FOX CASE

Declares Charges True in Prejudice Action

Thanks Bankers for Trying to Save Producer

New Jurist Named to Hear Receivership Suits

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—Declaring that the facts in an affidavit of prejudice filed against him were true, Federal Judge Coleman today entered an order referring all of the proceedings before him in the Fox Film and Fox Theaters corporations litigation to Judge Knox, presiding jurist of the United States District Court here.

His action was based on an affidavit of prejudice filed by Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., in each of three receivership proceedings brought against William Fox and the Fox corporations.

The only thing he could do under the law, Judge Coleman said, was to decide whether the affidavit was true. This he had done, he asserted, and found that the principal facts outlined in it were true. He concluded his remarks by expressing appreciation to counsel for creditor banks for their co-operation in attempting to save the Fox corporations from receiverships.

After Judge Knox ascended to the bench to take over the case, Samuel Untermyer, attorney, declared there is but one question to be decided in the entire matter and that is whether the trust agreement under which Mr. Fox, H. L. Stuart and John E. Otterson were to control Mr. Fox's stock was in force or had been abrogated. With this point settled, Untermyer said, the entire situation can easily be cleared up.

Ralph Arris, counsel for all three trustees, read a lengthy statement to the court in which he maintained that Untermyer had given a biased view of the situation. He said there are "dozens of legal questions to be answered."

Judge Knox set next Monday afternoon for the next hearing.

ECKENER PLACE ON HONOR ROLL

Geographic Society Medal Given Zeppelin Pilot

Award in Recognition of Globe-Circling Flight

Plans Made for New Visit to Americas in May

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener's name was inscribed on a roll of modern immortals in geography and exploration tonight when the National Geographic Society presented its special gold medal for his globe-encircling trip in the Graf Zeppelin.

Rear-Admiral Byrd, homeward bound from conquests of the Antarctic, cabled his congratulations for "your noteworthy achievements in advancing aeronautics and especially your pioneer flight around the world."

JOINS PIONEER RANKS

Flanked by the flags of America and Germany and the historic banner of the society which Peary carried to the North Pole, the dirigible skipper joined the ranks of ten other pioneers. Only three of them, Charles A. Lindbergh, Floyd Bennett and Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd, entered through aeronautical achievement.

In accepting the "exceptional honor," he said the glory was shared with his officers and crew and the United States Navy Department, "without whose support we could not have been successful."

"We honor Dr. Eckener," said Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the society, "for the years of experiment, inventive genius, and patient research which culminated in his astounding achievement.

NODS RECOGNITION

"His circumnavigation of the earth was a marvelous feat in aerial engineering and navigation. It symbolizes the advance of science which tends to bind peoples more closely in friendship and in understanding."

Washington assembled all its color for official tribute to the genial skipper. He nodded recognition to the many friends he had made since his first mission to America in 1924 when he flew the Los Angeles to Lakehurst for delivery, according to the terms of the Treaty of Versailles.

Diplomats of twenty-six nations, members of the Cabinet and of Congress, ranking officers in the Army and Navy, and others high in the Federal and social life of the city and nation paid their respects.

PLANS ZEPPELIN TRIP

Dr. Eckener will confer tomorrow with Navy Department officials to arrange for the use of dirigible facilities at Lakehurst for the May flight of the Graf Zeppelin. He expects to leave Germany May 10 for South America and proceed to North America to arrive in New Jersey May 20.

Arrangements for transporting mail on the trip were made today in a conference between the skipper and Postmaster-General Brown. Postage on the return trip from the United States to Germany was fixed at $1.20 an ounce for letters and 60 cents for postcards.

GOODSELL LEAVING TURKEY

ISTANBUL, March 27. (AP)—Dr. Fred Goodsell of Berkeley, Cal., for twenty-three years active in the Near East as missionary, welfare worker and educator, is leaving Turkey to fill the newly created post of executive vice-president of the American Board of Foreign Missions in Boston.

MAN SOLVES ECONOMIC RIDDLE WITH TWO WIVES

CLEVELAND (O.) March 27. (AP) Frank Ipollito was much put out today at the law which upset the tranquillity of his menage just because it happened to be a little overpopulated.

Ipollito had surrounded himself with one regular wife, one working wife and five assorted children and considered that he had reached a happy solution of modern home and economic problems.

Between Ipollito and the employed wife there was a very comfortable income for the legal Mrs. Ipollito to run the establishment. Mrs. Ipollito's two children and three of Mrs. Theresa Scilla, the auxiliary wife, called the two women mother indiscriminately.

Ipollito told police each woman was his wife, although he was married to only one. Mrs. Ipollito stayed at home during the day, took care of all the children, did the housework and cooking. Mrs. Scilla worked. The whole family ate together and apparently lived happily. Both women defended Ipollito and declared they didn't want their home broken up.

The scheme worked very well for twelve years and might have worked just as smoothly another twelve had not the police become curious. There was some questioning. The children went to the detention home. Ipollito was charged with contributing to the delinquency of Mrs. Ipollito's children and Mrs. Scilla was charged with contributing to the dependency of her children.

Ipollito was indignant as were the two women, who said they were satisfied. It's all up to the Juvenile Court.

ARTIST DENIES LOVING SQUAW

Marchand Testifies in Trial Over Wife's Murder

Intimacy With Indian Girl Treated Lightly

Says He 'Kidded Her Along' to Get Art Model

BUFFALO (N. Y.) March 27. (AP) Henri Marchand, artist, took the witness stand today to tell of an intimacy without love with Lila Jimerson, Seneca Indian on trial for plotting the murder of his wife.

His relations, he told the jury and a packed courtroom, were established and maintained in the name of "professional necessity;" they constituted his method of getting a reluctant model to pose for his Indian museum groups. The method, Marchand testified, had been used with other Indians in other places, notably on a Canadian reservation.

He did not know, he told the court, that Lila, disappointed when his attentions ceased, had plotted, as charged by the State, to have old Nancy Bowen, Seneca squaw, kill Clothilde Marchand. He did not know, he testified, that Lila had used letters to convince the Indian the artist's wife was a "white witch," who had placed a curse on Chief Charlie Sassafras, Nancy's husband, and killed him, and would do the same to her.

"KIDDING HER ALONG"

He did not know, he averred, when he was motoring with Lila Jimerson, on the afternoon of the 6th inst., that old Nancy was at the moment beating down with a hammer and smothering with a drug the woman he had married thirty-three years ago.

Never at any time in the ten or twelve years he had known the defendant, Marchand said, had there been any word of marriage.

Dist.-Atty. Moore, who placed the artist on the stand, read a letter written by Marchand to Lila and quoting from it, asked:

"Why did you tell her she was of a higher type than other Indians?"

Marchand's answer did not satisfy the prosecutor and he repeated the question by saying:

"I do not know what you call it in French, but we people here say 'just kidding her along,' wasn't that it?"

"Yes," agreed the witness.

The witness insisted it was not love, nor even "some attachment," suggested by the District Attorney, that motivated the letters he had written Lila. It was compassion, the gray-haired Frenchman said, compassion for a woman who was ill, a victim of tuberculosis.

HIS BREAK WITH GIRL

The prosecutor finally reached the chapter in Marchand's story of his break with Lila.

"What had you done last fall to make it seem you were cold toward her, as this letter says?" the District Attorney asked, holding up a letter previously read to the jury.

"I called her down because she was a liar," Marchand explained. "She sent me letters in a different handwriting with another name."

"How many times did you talk to her about this?" Moore pressed.

"Just that one time," said Marchand and then with a smile continued: "We had quite a session; I told her I was through with her."

Marchand, answering questions of the prosecutor, verified a sentence in a letter and for the second time during the day Lila interrupted with a clear-cut and shrill:

"You are a liar."

Marchand testified he gave Lila money on several occasions with which she paid doctors' bills for treatment of tuberculosis.

Court adjourned with Marchand on the stand. Throughout his recital of his private life, his four children sat in the courtroom.

Sisters Stab Each Other in Duel Over Man

MEXICO CITY, March 27. (AP)—Two sisters, Dominga and Angela Ayala, last night fought a knife duel for love of a man and wounded each other so severely they were taken to a hospital where they occupy adjoining beds.

The duel followed a party at the home of Dimas Garcia who was Angela's sweetheart. Dominga had hidden her love for him until the merry party when she gave her thoughts voice and was promptly challenged by Angela—the victor to get Dimas. The sisters went into the kitchen of the house and fought desperately with knives until both fell exhausted from numerous wounds. The question of who will get Dimas is still unsettled.

Junkers Plane Claims Records

DESSAU (Germany, March 27. (AP) The Junkers four-motor G-38, the largest existing land plane, today claimed two world records for speed and distance.

The plane flew from Dessau to Leipsic at a speed of 174 kilometers (about 109 miles) an hour, and also covered a distance of 206 kilometers (about 130 miles.) Both tests were made with a useful load of five tons. The Junkers works say that the machine is capable of even greater speed.

LOS ANGELES WOMAN'S BROTHER SUCCUMBS

KANSAS CITY, March 27. (AP)—Frank H. Millard, 68 years of age, of Chicago, vice-president of the Diamond Crystal Salt Company of St. Clair, Mich., died suddenly last night in St. Luke's Hospital here. His physician said death resulted from heart disease. Mr. Millard, a former president of the Illinois Athletic Club, was taken to the hospital Monday after he became ill on a train en route from Los Angeles to Chicago. He was returning to his home after a vacation. He leaves a sister, Mrs. Ella French Aldrich, Los Angeles.

SENATORS PLAN TO QUIT JUNE 1

Leaders Agree to Restrict Remaining Program

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—Senate leaders have agreed on a restricted legislative program for the rest of the session looking toward adjournment by June 1.

The schedule slated for enactment is confined — aside from the tariff measure and appropriation bills—to the pending proposals to place Muscle Shoals under government operation; to transfer prohibition enforcement to the Justice Department, and to reorganize the Federal Power Commission.

El Rector de la Universidad de Colombia Recibido por el Papa

CIUDAD VATICANA, Marzo 27. El doctor Nicholas Murray Butler, rector de la Universidad de Colombia, fue recibido hoy en audiencia privada por el papa Pío XI. El pontífice les dió la bendición apóstolica a él, a su esposa y a su hija, que se hallaban presentes en la entrevista, y les regaló medallas conmemorativas de su año de jubileo.

Habló el doctor Butler extensamente con Su Santidad del trabajo de la Biblioteca Vaticana, donde se están catalogando una inmensa cantidad de tesoros de muchos siglos de edad. Dijo al papa que admiraba sobremanera los métodos empleados por el cardenal Ehrle en la dirección de esa labor, y la superior guía e inspiración del papa mismo.

Después de la audiencia, visitaron los Butlers al cardenal Pacelli, secretario de Estado papal.

Por un Hombre, se Apuñalan dos Hermanas

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Marzo 27. Dos hermanas, Dominga y Angela Ayala, tuvieron anoche un duelo a cuchilladas por el amor de un individuo, y se infligieron heridas tan graves, que fueron llevadas de urgencia a un hospital, donde ocupan camas adyacentes.

El duelo vino a raíz de una tertulia en casa de Dimas García, el novio de Angela. Dominga amó a ese mismo hombre en secreto hasta el día de la alegre reunión, en que dió voz a sus amorosos pensamientos. Angela la retó inmediatamente a un desafío, estipulando que se quedaría con Dimas la que saliera victoriosa. Dirigiéronse las hermanas a la cocina de la casa, y allí riñeron cuchillo en mano hasta quedar ambas agotadas por las numerosas lesiones que se causaron. Queda todavía en pie la cuestión de quién ha de llevarse a Dimas.

Piérdese un Avión con Valioso Correo

WASHINGTON, Marzo 27.—Glover, encargado del correo aéreo, ha anunciado hoy que el avión del Western Air Express, que, con su piloto Maurice Graham, desapareció el 10 de Enero entre Los Angeles y Salt Lake City, llevaba 200 cartas certificadas, que contenían $300 en billetes y $1700 en títulos.

Ha corrido much el rumor de que ese aeroplano llevaba como $300,000 en billetes y títulos negociables, y que no era difícil que hubiese sido intencionalmente destruído por Graham.

Este se elevó en Las Vegas (Nevada) en medio de tupida tormenta de nieve, a las 10 p.m. del 10 de Enero. No se ha descubierto huella alguna, ni del piloto, ni de su avión.

Muere un Maquinista Yendo su Tren en Rápida Marcha

ANN ARBOR (Michigan), Marzo 27.—Muerto el maquinista en su compartimento, víctima de una zapata que se soltó, y yendo el tren a todo escape y cuesta abajo entre Jackson (Michigan) y Ann Arbor, el fogonero de un convoy expreso del Michigan Central, que corre entre Chicago y Detroit, paró el tren con felicidad, y luego, con ayuda de un guardafrenos, lo condujo hasta esta estación, donde llegó a media noche de ayer.

El maquinista, Floyd Finch, recibió un golpe que le aplastó la cabeza, dando por la zapata del freno, que se aflojó y fue lanzada hacia el compartimiento del desventurado operario.

Madre que Ahoga a sus Tres Chicos, y Luego, se Cuelga

HARRIMAN (Tennessee), Marzo 27.—La señora de 28 años, Dorothy Welsh, mató a sus tres muchachitos, y luego se suicidó ahorcándose en su propia casa, en D'Armond, poblado cercano a ésta.

Los cuerpos de los chiquillos, Freddie, Edgar y Sherman Coolidge, de 8, 7 y 5 años, respectivamente, fueron hallados a flote en un estanque cercano a la casa, y el cuerpo de la señora Welsh, colgando de una viga. El fúnebre hallazgo fue hecho por la madre de la suicida.

Emisión de Sellos de Correo Especiales

El ministerio de Correos está preparando la emisión de dos nuevos sellos especiales de dos centavos, que conmemorarán dos sucesos históricos de los Estados Unidos. Tal anunció ayer el adminitrador de correos de esta ciudad, señor P. P. O'Brien.

Uno de ellos conmemorará el doscientos sesenta aniversario de la fundación de la Provincia de Carolina, y el otro, el trescientos aniversario de la fundación de la Colonia de la Bahía de Massachusetts. Ambos serán puestos a la venta en la agencia filatélica del referido ministerio el 11 de Abril próximo, y poco después, y a medida que lo permita el tiro, en otras oficinas de correos.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

II.

Ya en el siglo dieciocho se hallaba ahí la vieja iglesia, y cuando aquel chiquillo cumplió diez horas de nacido, hizo su padre que lo envolvieran y se lo llevó a la iglesia, donde lo mandó bautizar con el nombre de "Benjamin Franklin" (Even in the eighteenth century the old church was there, and when this same little boy was ten hours old, his father had bundled him up and carried him into the church, and there he had been baptized "Benjamin Franklin".

Trabajo le ha de haber costado al padre de Franklin encontrar nombres diferentes para sus diecisiete hijos e hijas (It must have been hard work for the Franklin father to find different names for his seventeen sons and daughters). ¡Calculen ustedes—dieciséis hermanos y hermanas tenía Benjaminillo! De grande, se acordaba de haberse sentado a la mesa con trece de ellos (When he grew up, he could remember sitting at the table with thirteen of them). A veces, casi siempre, en verdad, era bien sencilla la comida en aquella mesa. Los muchachos de ambos sexos tienen gran apetito, y la bolsa de la familia Franklin era muy escasa y había que estirarla (Sometimes, in fact, nearly always, the food on the table was very plain. Boys and girls have large appetites, and the Franklin family's purse was thin and had to be stretched).

Student Couple Dead in Auto

JONESVILLE (Mich.) March 27. (AP)—Lowell Durfey and Cecile Nye, 17-year-old Jonesville high school students, who had been missing since Monday night, were found dead this morning in Durfey's sedan, parked in a cemetery near here. The two students had left the Jonesville High School Monday night following a football banquet.

No indications as to what caused the deaths of the two were found by those who discovered the bodies.

A New Day Dawns for Ability!
Fighters will win!

Read the above heading twice!

A new day dawns for ability . . . fighters will win!

Is there anything truer than that? Think of your own self, in your own position . . . have you the ability . . . physical ability . . . mental ability . . . to carry on . . . to forge ahead of the man-power competition that lurks nearby?

Your ability is measured by your physical and mental condition. If it is poor, then you are in danger of standing still . . . of losing your position to other competitive individuals who are in better health . . . who know the value of keeping in trim . . .

This advertisement is written to force you to open your eyes . . . to take an inventory of yourself . . . of your health . . .

You may consider yourself to be in the best possible health. Perhaps you are. Yet, are you qualified to judge? As you are an expert in your line . . . are not health authorities expert in theirs?

Those questions which have arisen since you have read this advertisement . . . about your body . . . your health . . . your mental ability to carry on . . . why not have them answered by an expert? Why not come in and have a thorough physical examination to see just where you do stand in relation to the demands made upon you to keep in trim . . . to become more efficient?

Pink Waronker's System of Health Culture has put hundreds of men and women in the best physical condition . . . it has helped those already enjoying good health to retain that health.

It has helped stout people reduce to normal weights . . . thin people to gain much needed weight . . . nervous people to return to normal . . . ailing people to regain vitality.

Whoever you are . . . whatever you do . . . you do need Mr. Waronker's services. However you feel . . . he can help you.

VAPEX

Discovered in England . . .

imported from England

. . . NOW ON TWO CONTINENTS, VAPEX IS THE ACCEPTED RELIEF FOR COLDS

VAPEX
VAPEX

ENGLAND discovered this modern way to fight a cold. During the war, with a terrible epidemic of influenza raging, chemists in a government laboratory completely escaped infection. Tests proved that the chemicals with which they worked gave off a healing vapor which killed the germs of common colds. . . . These same chemicals, greatly concentrated, are in Vapex today. . . . The Vapex formula is a jealously guarded secret. All the Vapex essence used in America is imported from England. There, as well as here, Vapex is widely used as a swift, sure relief for colds. A drop on your handkerchief in the morning gives you all-day-long comfort. The high concentration of Vapex makes the vapor last. Use it at night, too, to let you sleep. Put a drop at each end of your pillow. The vapor is delightfully refreshing. . . . Always insist on V-A-P-E-X in the trim, white box with the green triangle. Never accept a cheaper substitute. A bottle of Vapex contains fifty applications and costs only $1. So, one application of Vapex only costs 2c. Surely that is not too much to pay for all-day-long relief. . . . E. TAX COLLECTION UP TO ESTIMATE

Receipts Predicted to Exceed $550,000,000 by Monday

Total Will Fall Below Last Year by $50,000,000

Government Building Plans to be Speeded Up

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—Receipts from the first quarter's payment of the tax on 1929 incomes were shown today to have reached $542,432,341 on last Tuesday. This is taken at the Treasury as an indication that the estimates of the department of a total of more than $550,000,000 for the three months will be borne out.

The collections Tuesday were $9,783,624, which left the total $36,000,000 less than collected in the same number of days last March and the indicated aggregate for the month approximately $50,000,000 less than the $601,000,000 collected in March of last year.

SURPLUS ESTIMATED

At the time the tax reduction was decided upon Treasury experts had predicted that there would be a surplus of $225,000,000 at the end of the 1930 fiscal year. The tax reduction, however, was estimated to amount to $160,000,000, half of which would come out of the 1930 fiscal year and the other half out of the 1931 fiscal year. This left an indicated surplus of $145,000,000. Since then the Farm Board has been given $100,000,000 but there is a possibility that this money will not be expended until after next June 30.

With an indicated surplus of $45,000,000 if the Farm Board appropriation is used this year any unexpected appropriations by Congress would endanger the balance and a large expenditure might wipe it out. If tax receipts for the second quarter, however, come up to the expectations aroused by the first quarter's receipts the government will end the fiscal year with its budget balanced.

SPEED IN BUILDING

Regardless of the outlook for balancing the budget, the government's building program will be carried on for the remainder of the year at an increased speed. The money to provide for this will come out of the Treasury over a period of years and will not affect the present year for which appropriations already have been made.

In addition to starting new projects under the terms of the Keyes-Elliott bill passed this week, the Treasury plans to spend $50,000,000 or more from former appropriations in carrying on this work which will include fifty to 100 projects authorized before but not started.

MAIL LOSS IN GRAHAM PLANE TOLD

Currency and Securities Carried by Missing Air Pilot Total $2000

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—Assistant Postmaster-General Glover, in charge of air mail, announced today that the Western Air Express plane which, with its pilot Maurice Graham, disappeared en route from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City on January 10, carried 200 registered letters which contained only $300 in currency and $1700 in securities.

Reports have been current that the plane carried about $300,000 in currency and other negotiable securities and that Graham might have been murdered by bandits and his plane destroyed.

Graham took off from Las Vegas, Nev., in a blinding snow storm at 10 p.m. on January 10. No trace of either pilot or plane has been discovered.

Provincetown Fire Loss High

PROVINCETOWN (Mass.) March 27. (AP)—This old sea town of artists and fishermen on the tip of Cape Cod was recovering today from the worst fire in years. A blaze last night destroyed the high-school building, the upper part of the Center Methodist Church, a residence and set small fires on the roofs of twenty other homes. Officials estimated the loss at $100,000.

Aid was summoned from four near-by towns. Ten firemen from Hyannis were injured when their truck overturned.

Nogales Greets Local Boosters

NOGALES (Ariz.) March 27. (AP)—A special excursion train with fifty members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce aboard reached this city this afternoon and after being officially welcomed to the border were granted the freedom of the two cities of Nogales.

The trade boosters were met by hundreds of persons at the local railroad station.

Christopherson Measure Wins Approval

House Judiciary Committee Acts Favorably

First Recommendation from Wickersham's Group

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—The first of the National Law Enforcement Commission's recommendations to strengthen the prohibition laws was approved today by the House Judiciary Committee when it favorably reported the Christopherson bill to authorize service by publication of padlock injunctions on absentee owners of speakeasies and other nuisances.

The committee also considered the Stobbs bill to modify the Jones law to define minor offenses of the dry law and to fix the maximum penalty for them at six months and a fine of $500.

NEWS OF MIDDLE WEST

These news briefs of happenings in the Middle West are collected by The Times' Chicago correspondent, and are sent by leased wire to Los Angeles. Efforts are made to obtain late news which will be of interest to the many former residents of that section, who are now in California.

MISSOURI

Clifford D. Van Dyne, 35 years of age, one of Sedalia's leading business men, vice-president and general manager of the American Disinfecting Company, died in a St. Louis Hospital following an operation.

The Bank of Centralia has been closed by its board of directors and turned over to the State Finance Department. The board posted a notice on the doors saying the closing was for the best interests of depositors and creditors. The bank was organized January 2, 1880, and had deposits of $300,000.

KANSAS

The Lonely Sentinel, the old cottonwood on the Arkansas River at Fort Dodge, has received a marker, the gift of the Business and Professional Women's Club. This is one of the famous trees of Kansas, and at one time was one of the three which were the only trees between Dodge City and Council Grove.

Will H. Smith, 76 years of age, retired farmer and stockman, perhaps the oldest citizen of Nemaha county in point of residence, died at his farm home one-half mile west of Seneca following cerebral hemorrhage. Mr. Smith had lived there continuously for seventy-two years.

The bodies of Will Schrader, 25 years of age, and Helen Starr, 20, were found in a car parked on an obscure country road twelve miles southwest of Raymond. Both had been shot by a shotgun found in the car. A suicide pact is suspected.

ILLINOIS

Forced by the snowstorm to abandon their automobile while taking five prisoners to the State farm at Vandalia, two deputy sheriffs had to borrow money from one of the prisoners to continue to their destination by train. The prisoner was sentenced on a bad-check charge.

Charles D. Merritt, 67 years of age, grand treasurer of the Grand Encampment of Illinois Independent Order of Odd Fellows, is dead at Salem. He leaves his widow, one son and two daughters.

WISCONSIN

Investigation of fox-farm operations in Dane county, which are said to have resulted in losses of more than $100,000 to South Wisconsin citizens, have been started by Dist.-Atty. Riser.

The Bank of Hortonville at Hortonville, capitalized at $50,000, has been closed because of frozen assets, the State Department of Banking announces. The bank organized in 1895, had total deposits of $456,966. Its resources were $520,829 as of December 31, 1929.

Legality of the Wisconsin Tax Commission's ruling subjecting income from Liberty bonds and Wisconsin county highway improvement bonds to taxation is protested in an appeal taken into Circuit Court at Milwaukee by George D. Van Dyke.

MICHIGAN

The Ypsilanti City Treasurer reports $98,579.83 unpaid taxes for 1929 to the County Treasurer. This is more than $30,000 in excess of the amount unpaid last year. Unemployment is the general reason given by taxpayers for not being able to pay.

Gust Papke, who testified his wife refused to let him use tobacco in their home in Detroit because its odor might discourage visits by spirits, has been granted a divorce.

INDIANA

The heavy snows of this week will have no more effect on crops and gardens in Indiana than an equal amount of rain, according to experts of the Purdue University agricultural experimental station at Lafayette.

While women were preparing for a chicken pie supper at the Methodist Episcopal Church at South Milford the church was destroyed by fire. Fire departments of Kendallville and Wolcottville managed to save near-by buildings.

Dr. Alice B. Williams, 63 years of age, died at her home in Columbia City of heart disease. From 1925 to 1929 she was county Coroner.

OHIO

Declaring her reputation has been damaged through her name being brought into a sensational divorce case, Miss Mary Braun, singer, of Hamilton, O., has filed suit gainst Mrs. Roberta E. Mosby for $250,000. Mrs. Mosby and her husband, Gilbert H. Mosby, drug manufacturer, are engaged in divorce litigation.

Akron is out of organized baseball once more, after a two-year trial in the Central League. Richmond, Ind., will supplant Akron.

Sister Magdalene, 88 years of age, a nun at Good Shepherd Convent, Cincinnati, is dead, the result of pneumonia.

NEBRASKA

A trap set for burglars by her husband, which she had forgotten, resulted in Mrs. F. C. Miller of Lincoln, having her left foot shot off.

Horace M. Higgins, who has served three and a half years on the Omaha Board of Education, has submitted his resignation.

Organized search for bodies of the four men drowned a week ago, when a motor boat capsized in rough water on the Missouri River near Union, has been abandoned. Individuals will continue to search the river as far south as St. Joseph.

MINNESOTA

Josephine M. Low, 79 years of age, is dead at her home in Slayton. She was active in women's club work and in Eastern Star circles.

E. A. Nordstrom, cashier of the Bank of Yillmar, was responsible for a forger being landed behind the bars after a hot chase.

George Schemeising of Redwood Falls, a former commissioner, has been named to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Commissioner Nels Larsen. Mr. Larsen was burned to death when his automobile turned over on a country road two weeks ago.

The State Bank of Dovay, closed four years ago, has paid depositors a third dividend, of 10 per cent, making a total of 50 per cent to date.

Herman Buchanan has been elected town clerk for Madison for the thirty-eighth consecutive time.

IOWA

State Senator Bergman of Newton suffered a slight stroke of paralysis while waiting in the office of a doctor.

W. B. Palmer, chairman of the board of directors of the Palmer Candy Company and president of the Palmer Fruit Company, succumbed on a train near Milford, Utah, on a return trip from California. Death was due to heart disease.

Iowa stands sixth in States in mileage of secondary roads surfaced, according to the Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

Z. Rayburn, 72 years of age, widely known farmer, died in his home at Seney, following an illness of several days. Rayburn had given large donations to Morningside College and the Methodist Hospital.

Two large deer, with their antlers firmly locked, were found dead in a field on Frank Fogarty's farm near Irwin.

SOUTH DAKOTA

Between 12,000 and 14,000 acres of State school lands in Tripp county were struck off to bidders at the annual school land leasing in Winner. Appraised rentals ranged from 10 cents to 50 cents an acre.

Growing use of electric ice boxes has resulted, so far as Chamberlain is concerned, in an advance in the price to be charged consumers of Missouri River ice.

KENTUCKY

Oil and gas rights on a tract of ninety-six acres near Niagara brought $12,300 when offered for sale by Sheriff Soaper.

Mrs. Susie Whalen, widow of Col. James Patrick Whalen, appeared before County Judge Fox and formally renounced the will disposing of $750,000, electing to take her dower rights.

Empress Greets Envoy and Wife

TOKIO, March 28 (Friday) (AP)—Empress Nagako granted an audience today to Mrs. William R. Castle, Jr., wife of the American Ambassador to Tokio. She was accompanied to the palace by Ambassador Castle and the entire Embassy staff and their wives.

Empress Nagako's customary audience was omitted when Ambassador Castle presented his credentials to Emperor Hirohito on January 24, last, because she was then observing a year's mourning for her father, Prince Kuni.

WOMAN BLAMED IN SLAYING

HARRISBURG (Pa.) March 27. (AP)—Dr. M. Reispeil Goho was shot and fatally wounded in his shoe store here today, assertedly by his secretary, Mrs. Margaret Bitner, who then killed herself.

...IS REWARDING CAREFUL SAVERS

IMPORTANT ADVANTAGES

...those who Invest for Income

No reinvestment problem—no marketing problem—no fear of capital being frozen or of shrinking—no interruption of earning power—no brokerage on purchase or sale—no property taxes in California—and, most important of all—no worries.

These investment advantages, proven for over 41 years, mean much to the thousands of Pacific States Savings' customers who rely on our 6% facilities for income.

If you are not enjoying all these advantages, an opportune time to get them is on April 1—now approaching.

We shall be glad to undertake all the details of transferring your funds from other cities—or converting your securities.

Every advance in science makes new demands of Antiseptics—and Listerine meets them all

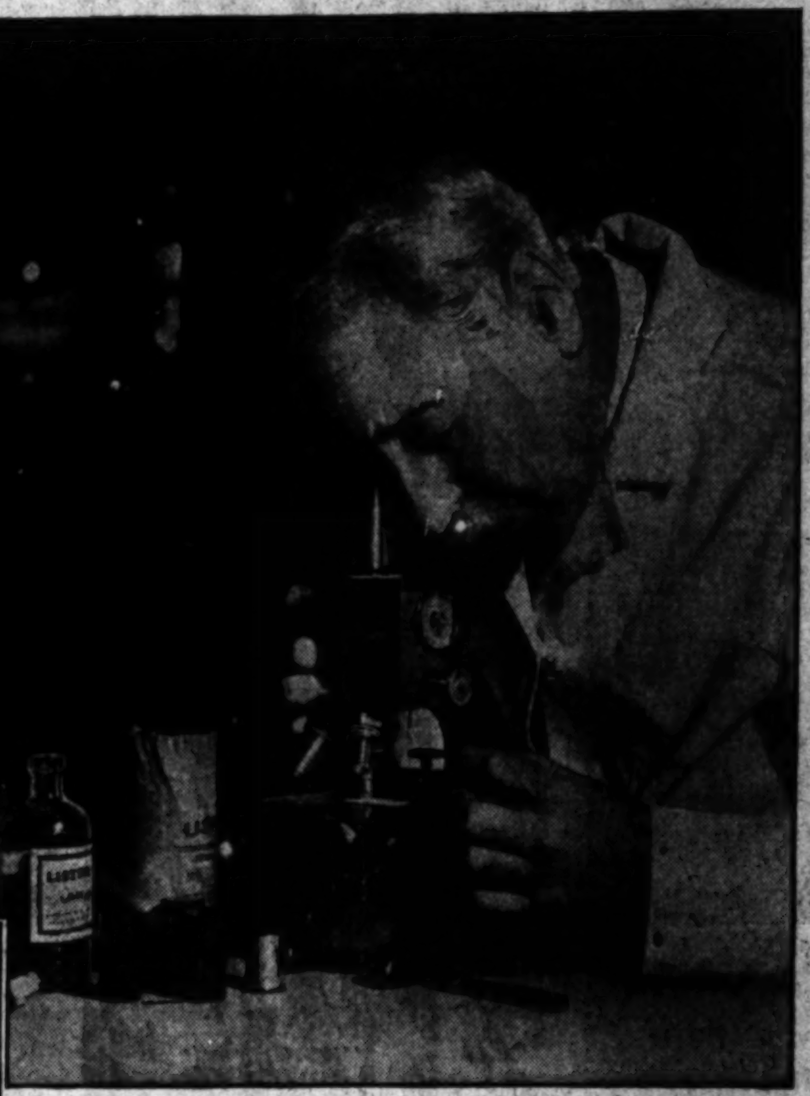
1 Kills 200,000,000 germs in 15 seconds. (Fastest killing time accurately recorded by science.) This is 20 times faster than government requirements.

2 Has penetrating power equal to 3% solution of carbolic acid.

3 Absolutely safe to use; non-poisonous, non-caustic.

4 Passes all tests of the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States Government, and is approved by three nationally known laboratories, and The Lancet of London, outstanding medical journal.



Laboratory tests show that full-strength Listerine kills not only the pus and typhoid germs in 15 seconds, but also such dangerous invaders as the Streptococcus, pneumonia, catarrh, influenza and acidophilus odontolycus germs type I and type II.

In the prevention and treatment of disease, medical science has made mighty strides forward in the last decade.

As a result, greater efficiency is demanded of antiseptics and germicides. Those which cannot meet these new requirements are rejected. Those which can meet them find wholesale acceptance. Listerine has successfully passed every scientific test to which it has been put. More than adequately, it has met every modern requirement.

These triumphs, preceded by fifty years of use in the hands of physician and layman alike, establish it as the antiseptic best suited to personal use—safe and healing in effect, yet with power to kill germs in the fastest time possible to measure accurately.

Listerine passes germicidal test in three great laboratories

The standard method used by the Bureau of Chemistry of the U. S. Government to test germ killing power and the penetration of an antiseptic in the presence of body fluids, is the Reddish Germicidal Method. Using this exact technique, three bacteriological laboratories of national repute in New York, Philadelphia, and Boston, have tested Listerine repeatedly.

Their records show that full strength Listerine Kills Staphylococcus Aureus (the pus germ) and Bacillus Typhosus (the typhoid germ) in counts ranging to 200,000,000 in 15 seconds.

Kills twenty times as fast as U. S. Government requires

To qualify as an antiseptic or germicide, under Government standards, a preparation must kill Staphylococcus Aureus (the pus germ) within five minutes.

Note that full strength Listerine kills this germ in 15 seconds—twenty times as fast as required.

Special Note: In the measurement of killing power, 15 seconds is the quickest time science has been able to record accurately. Any claims [by others of speedier killing are open to serious question.

Listerine's penetrating power enables it to reach germs readily

To destroy germs a germicide must first be able to reach them when they lie below the surface of tissue. Obviously penetrating power is vital to the value of any solution. Listerine has this power to an amazing degree. Using the accurate Petri dish method, the three laboratories mentioned above show Listerine to actually have penetrating power equal to a 3% solution of carbolic acid.

Acclaimed by "Lancet," high medical authority

No higher endorsement can be given an antiseptic and germicide than that of The Lancet of London. This great medical journal never bestows approval on a practice or a product until it has been thoroughly tested. After conducting its own research, The Lancet unreservedly endorses Listerine as a safe antiseptic of high germicidal potency.

Listerine—non-poisonous, non-toxic, absolutely safe

Listerine may be safely used full strength in any body cavity. It is non-poisonous, non-irritating, and actually has a soothing and healing effect on tissue.

Contrast these qualities with those of harsh, 'metallic, or poisonous solutions which damage tissue. This factor of safety cannot be overestimated, especially if any antiseptic is to be kept in a home where there are children.

Effective against sore throat, dandruff, and halitosis because germicidal

Listerine has been found to be an excellent treatment for a great many ailments. Many of these ailments are alike in that they are caused by germs. And Listerine's success in checking them is due primarily to its germicidal power.

As a mouth wash and gargle it is highly successful in preventing colds and sore throat which are of germ origin and in checking them once they have taken hold.

Many dermatologists agree that dandruff also is a germ infection. If this be true, you can understand why Listerine is accepted as a superior treatment for dandruff. In addition to its germicidal action, Listerine has remarkable cleansing powers. Moreover, it dissolves and removes the loose particles of dandruff.

Halitosis (unpleasant breath) yields to Listerine first because Listerine is a powerful deodorant. When halitosis is caused by infections of the nose, mouth, gums, or throat, Listerine gets at the seat of the trouble by attacking the infection itself.

It is always wise to use Listerine full strength; in this way you are certain of its effect. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

Celebrating "Seven Magic Years"

Saturday! The May Company Prepares a "Three Million Dollar Thank You" .... Genuine and Sincere.... to Our Multitude of Friends Throughout Southern California!

Intertwined with the history of Los Angeles—city of rigid standards and high ideals—is the history of The May Company of yesterday. Part and parcel of the new Los Angeles, city of aspirations and progress....is The May Company of Today....ever building and planning for the greater Los Angeles, civic and cultural metropolis of all the West that is to be!

Hands accomplish much—brains accomplish more. But when the heart directs hands and brains... wonders are achieved! And the heart directs this celebration. Every one of the 3200 May Company co-workers is stirred as no commercially conceived event could stir them. If you could but go behind the scenes and see the extraordinary enthusiasm that is back of this celebration, you would understand the deep sentiment and true feeling that prompts this statement: In all our "Seven Magic Years," no sale like this!

THE MAY COMPANY'S 7TH ANNIVERSARY SALE!

What does this Seventh Anniversary Sale mean? Simply the highest ideals of a sincere, conscientious group of men and women who have worked untiringly—visited the foreign cities and markets of Europe—to make every item in this event a token of genuine good will . . . and an appreciation for the wonderful growth The May Company has made in Los Angeles . . . a growth made possible only by the loyalty and patronage of our friends throughout Southern California.

Everything is Out and Ready, Saturday! No prices Mentioned Here! But Every Price Card Tomorrow Will Prove a Distinct Revelation to Everyone!

Every year we study and sincerely strive to better our efforts. The preparations for this celebration have exceeded those of any former May Company sale so far, that there can be no comparison. The merchandise, we can say with pride, is an array such as has never been seen in this store!

Four Significant Facts

1. Practically everything in this good-will celebration is BRAND NEW—and of certified quality—$3,000,000 worth—at lowest prices of the year.
2. Every Anniversary Sale price is due to noted manufacturers' price concessions in appreciation of our large regular business—enabling values that are quite impossible at any other time.
3. Every item in this celebration was selected, tested and personally examined by an executive committee of merchandise experts . . . before it was allowed to enter this event.
4. Every department is represented—hundreds of special values all over the store. We have earnestly endeavored to provide better service, wider assortments, larger quantities and greater values than ever before.

351,000 People Can't Be Wrong

In "Seven Magic Years" The May Company has enrolled on its books over 351,000 people who have opened accounts with us. According to latest 1930 census, this is an average of ONE OUT OF EVERY FOUR PERSONS! This proves two things. That the average increased population of Los Angeles is being reflected in the growth of The May Company. Second: that the city's shopping public has agreed that an account was an essential factor in modern life.

A charge account at The May Company gives a detailed and compact record of expenditures invaluable in planning a family budget. A charge account makes it unnecessary to carry large sums of money. May Company charge accounts are automatically placed on a mailing list to receive direct notice of important store events which might otherwise escape attention. Anticipating the important merchandising event of our "Seventh Anniversary" The May Company invites people of good standing to open charge accounts at once, so they may derive the maximum benefit of savings this event will bring!

Look for 20-Page Circular at Your Door Today!

Please remember: May Company circulars are different—decidedly different! Every item in this 20-page Anniversary circular has been selected, tested and approved by a merchandise committee of experts. Check every item carefully—make notations of your needs—then use this 20-page circular as your shopping guide! Watch for this The May Company's circular—at your door today!

Doors Open at 9 A. M. Sharp Saturday!

Special officers to assist with traffic.
Over 6,000 employees to serve you.
Extra street car and bus service.

Why
HUNTINGTON PALISADES
"On Santa Monica Bay"
Is The Best Place To Live

HUNTINGTON PALISADES is to metropolitan Los Angeles what Southern California is to the entire world—the magnet that attracts people who eagerly seek a more fortunate place in which to live. Just as Southern California's matchless climate, its scenic granduer and its bounteous flowers have induced millions of people to sever home ties and forsake life-long associations, so is Huntington Palisades enticing people of culture, of discernment, of enviable position and of wealth to come here and make their permanent homes. Huntington Palisades is the perfect interpretation of the real Southern California that people of the four corners dream it to be—and more.

Improvements Costing $1,100,000 Completed

All Improvements are installed—and paid for—no assessments. Utilities are underground—no poles to mar the view—no need to tear up the paved drives.

Perpetual Deed Restrictions

The entire property is carefully and perpetually restricted for residences only. An architectural committee supervises the character of homes that are planned.

Worthy Citizens for Neighbors

Property like this appeals to people with whom you'd be proud to associate and whose children offer splendid playmates for your children.

Unequalled School Facilities

Grade schools nearby—with no dangerous boulevards to cross and the children may go unattended. High schools easily accessible and the new U. C. L. A. and numerous colleges only 8 minutes away.

Close Proximity to Recreation

The Riviera Country Club—the pivot point of the 1932 Olympic games—Uplifter's Club, Brentwood Country Club, numerous Beach Clubs and Riding Academies afford a full round of healthful diversion for old and young.

A Private Bathing Beach

The privelege of a sandy bathing beach is vested with each site. Here residents and their friends may enjoy the thrill of surf bathing away from the crowds—a very important factor.

Graced by Fine Old Trees

And nowhere else within 40 minutes of downtown Los Angeles can you find ocean front property with trees fifty years old—their value is conservatively estimated at $750,000.

Quickly and Easily Accessible

Two of America's proudest thoroughfares—Beverly Boulevard and Wilshire Boulevard afford direct access to downtown Los Angeles and city and country north and south are accessible over Roosevelt Coast Highway.

Close to Shops and Theaters

It is only five minutes to Santa Monica—a modern city with fine stores, theaters, churches, banks and other essentials to modern living.

Today's Best Buy

Now is the time to buy, build and live in Huntington Palisades. A comparison of prices for fine large homesites with less desirable property elsewhere, will convince you that Today's Best Buy is Huntington Palisades. Prices are destined to increase . . . the variety of selection is narrowing. Come today and see Huntington Palisades—you'll want to buy—and buy now.

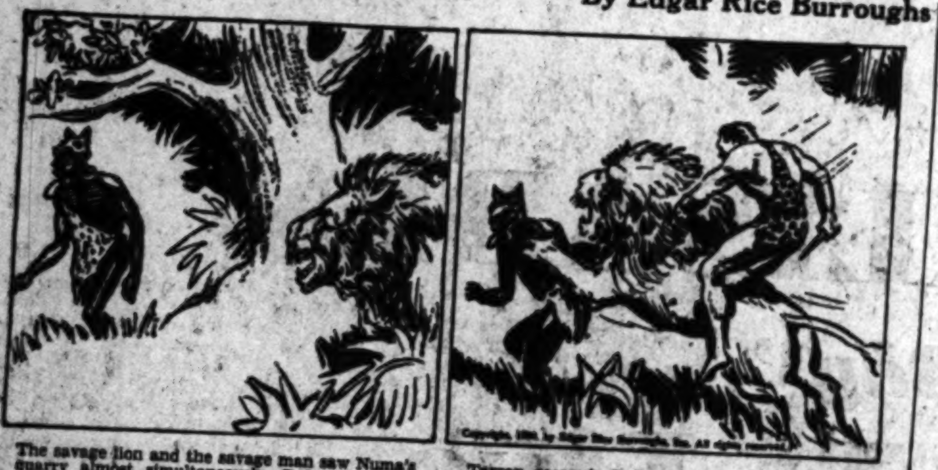
TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

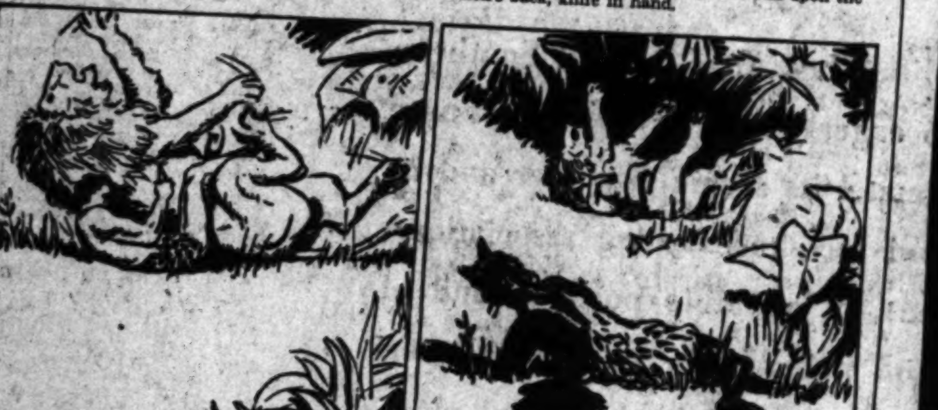
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Copyright, 1930, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

The savage lion and the savage man saw Numa's quarry almost simultaneously. Before it came in sight their sensitive nostrils had told them it was a man, and Tarzan's had told him also that it was a stranger. The scent spoor was that of a black, old and male. Alone through the gloomy jungle, now came into view a wrinkled, dried-up weirdly garbed fellow.

Tarzan recognized the headgear of the witch-doctor. The first intimation the black man had that he was in danger was the crash of the twigs as Numa charged through the bushes not twenty yards behind him. Before he could turn the lion seized him. At the same instant the ape-man dropped from an overhanging limb full upon the lion's back, knife in hand.



As he alighted he plunged his knife into the tawny side behind the left shoulder, tangled the fingers of his right hand in the long mane and wound his powerful legs about the beast's torso. With a roar of pain and rage, Numa reared up and fell backward upon the ape-man; but still the mighty man-thing clung to his hold and repeatedly the long knife plunged into Numa's side.

Where he had fallen beneath the spring of the lion, the witch-doctor lay, torn and bleeding, and unable to drag himself away and watched the terrific battle between these two lords of the jungle. His sunken eyes glittered and his wrinkled lips moved over toothless gums as he mumbled weird incantations to the demons of his cult. Numa, clawing and biting the air, struggled fiercely.

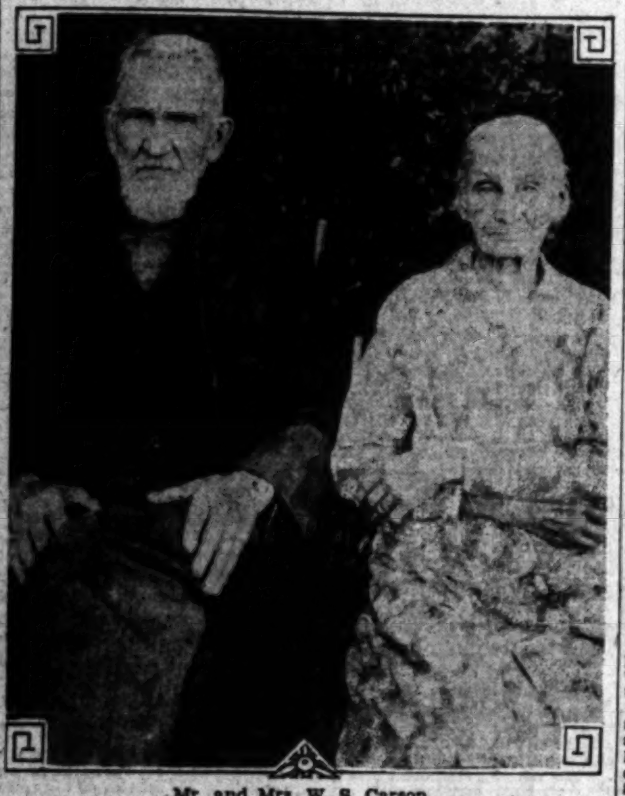
COLTON COUPLE LONG WEDDED

Sixty-fourth Anniversary Observed



Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Carson

COLTON, March 27.—Celebration today of their sixty-fourth wedding anniversary is affording friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Carson of 178 East K street an opportunity to express to them the real interest of their townspeople in the unusual event.

Mr. and Mrs. Carson were married at Pleasant Plains, Ill., March 27, 1866, and came to California in 1902. In spite of the fact that Mr. Carson is now 87 years of age and his bride of sixty-four years is past the eighty-fifth milestone, they possess all of their faculties, wear glasses only when their read, and enjoy life to the fullest extent. Their three children reside here, and they are spending the anniversary day with them.

BUSINESS BOOMING FOR PLANT

Citrus By-Products Made in Ontario Demanded in Excess of Output

ONTARIO, March 27.—A chant of "good business" unusual in its tenor is sounded by Homer Torrence of the Exchange Orange Products plant of this city which avers that business is so good that orange trees of the district will have to bear exceedingly large crops this year if all the orders received by the company are to be filled.

The plant manufactures products from cull and off-size oranges for a world-wide market. Last year's citrus crop was so bountiful the firm ran at full capacity day and night manufacturing products that found sale as soon as manufactured. The demand created for the products promises to be greater than the supply unless the citrus crops prove as bountiful as last year. To meet the situation the company is building a large warehouse at the factory in which a portion of the season's output will be held back for more even distribution through the season.

Manufactured at the plant are orange oil, made from the rind of oranges, and pectin, which is used in making jellies and orange juice. The nation is taking to pure-fruit-juice drinking in a greater measure than ever, according to Torrence. Within ten years the company has grown from a one-room marmalade manufacturing effort to one of the largest institutions of its kind in California.

Palms Will Be Planted Along Colton Avenue

REDLANDS, March 27. — Colton avenue from the Santa Ana River bridge near Colton to the orange groves of Redlands is to be planted to Washingtonia palms by the State Highway Department, Will Collett reported to the Chamber of Commerce directors today.

As a member with Earl Cromas of the beautification committee, Collett gave assurance that the State highway is to be beautified, promise to that effect having been given by E. Q. Sullivan, division engineer, and Bert Meek, State Director of Public Works.

E street out of San Bernardino has been planted to Lombardi poplars, Collett reported, and the palms will be a continuation of this. The palms will be planted in groups of three or five.

The planting program was initiated by the local chamber, which interested the State in beautification of highways, according to Cromas, who suggested also that letters of commendation be sent to George Hinckley, City Engineer, and the garden section of the Contemporary Club for their part in city street beautification.

Sacred Hearts' Parish Starts Building Fund

REDLANDS, March 27.—A drive to raise a building fund was begun today among the members of Sacred Heart Parish.

At a recent parish meeting plans were made to build a new rectory and to acquire a larger convent for the Sisters of Mercy, who teach in the two parochial schools.

The present rectory or dwelling of the pastor has been used for more than a quarter of a century. It has no accommodations for an assistant, who is now obliged to live elsewhere. The proposed new rectory will be large enough to house both pastor and assistant, and to accommodate visiting missionaries who conduct special services at the church.

Owing to the growth in attendance at Sacred Heart School and the consequent increase in the number of teachers, the present Convent of the Sisters of Mercy is inadequate. A larger and modern building will be acquired.

The goal of the drive is $15,000, which is believed a sufficient amount to begin the improvements.

Forty hours' devotion begun Sunday morning, was concluded last evening at Sacred Heart Church. Rev. Father Fintan Roche, a brown-robed friar of the Capuchin branch of Franciscans, preached the final sermon on the Holy Eucharist.

Spring Festival in Upland Today

UPLAND, March 27.—A threefold program of spring activity is on the municipal slate tomorrow. Annual spring festival is planned by the merchants. More than 200 entries have been received for the annual kite-flying contest and the Chamber of Commerce opens officially in new offices, with Claire Kirk, first full-time secretary Upland has ever had.

The kite contest has drawn entries from here, Etiwanda, Cucamonga and Alta Loma. Merchants are co-operating in giving a number of prizes for types of kites and distances flown.

Last year the merchants ran out of string for the kites. This year they have their shelves lined with it in anticipation of a great demand.

Prizes are also offered for the best-decorated store windows here.

OFFICIALS NONCOMMITTAL

San Diego County District Attorney and Foreman of Grand Jury Do Not Admit Proposed Quizzes

SAN DIEGO, March 27.—While it was commonly understood at the Courthouse that the county grand jury's first active investigation would be into the fatal shooting of Thomas J. Wasson, retired army engineer, neither Dist.-Atty. Stephen Connell nor William Kettner, foreman of the grand jury, would concede this as that body assembled for meeting today.

The second investigation proposed to be undertaken concerns affairs of the California Land Buyers' Syndicate. The syndicate was charged with violation of the State Corporate Securities Act in two civil suits for damages filed by its clients some weeks ago. Audit of the firm's books by the Corporation Commissioner's investigators has been completed and placed with the District Attorney. The latter, questioned yesterday morning if the audit had been placed in his hands, said it had not. In the Wasson case an investigation was asked by both Sheriff Ed Cooper and the District Attorney after the two officials failed to agree on the cause of Wasson's death. Wasson was shot twice in the back, by his own gun, apparently. The District Attorney and the Coroner reported the death as accidental.

CHURCH TO AID CHERRY FESTIVITIES

Vicar of St. Stephen's to Welcome Japanese Groups to Beaumont Blossom Fete

BEAUMONT, March 27.—Support of the St. Stephen's Episcopal Church here has been give nin co-operation with the Japanese Cherry Blossom Festival for Sunday. "In a willing spirit of co-operation," said Rev. Harry B. Lee, young vicar, "St. Stephen's has invited St. Mary's Japanese Episcopal Church of Los Angeles to be the guests of the church next Sunday."

About fifty of the Japanese members have accepted the invitation. Rev. John M. Yamazaki, rector of St. Mary's, has written, saying he will come, bringing two bus loads of members of his congregation.

Among those coming will be the Japanese Boy Scout Troop No. 33 and the Japanese Girl Scout Troop No. 72, all members of the church.

The party will arrive at about 10:30 a.m. and will make headquarters at the home of Mrs. Brice H. Gantt. They will march in a body to the church for the morning service, at which Yakazaki will be the preacher. After the service a picnic lunch will be served and then the group will go to Cherry Valley to participate in the festival.

Yakazaki has expressed his enthusiasm and interest in the festival and is only too happy that he and his friends will be able to be present. Beaumont is joining the St. Stephen's congregation in extending to this group a warm welcome and pleasant time.

Ventura County Pioneer Woman Heeds Last Call

VENTURA, March 27.—Mrs. Martha S. Ready, widow of the late W. E. Ready, died last night at the Big Sisters' Hospital at the age of 79 years. Her death resulted from pneumonia, which developed following a fall Tuesday in the yard of the home of a friend here, in which she suffered a broken hip.

Mrs. Ready was born in 1851 and spent her childhood in Mankato, Minn. She came to Ventura county as a young woman and taught in Ventura and Mound schools for a short time.

Shortly after her arrival here she and Mr. Ready were married. They lived on their ranch on the Foothills road until his death recently, following which she resided in this city. Mrs. Ready was a member of the Presbyterian Church and the Order of Eastern Star and was a charter member of the Wednesday Afternoon Club.

She leaves three sons, Charles E. Ready of this city, Virgil E. Ready of Tulsa, Okla., and Lester S. Ready of Berkeley; two daughters, Mrs. William Stuck of this city and Mrs. Don S. Ready of Dos Palmos, and a number of grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon here, followed by burial in Ivy Lawn Cemetery.

Flower Show Opens Today in Santa Barbara

SANTA BARBARA, March 27.—Thousands of varieties of flowers and plants and exhibitions of spring gardens will adorn the corridors of the Courthouse this weekend when the annual County Spring Flower Show is in progress. An unusual amount of interest is being shown in the floral event this year, according to Hugh P. Dearing, chairman of the show. Dearing said that entries are coming in from all parts of the county and are increasing in number as the time for the closing of entries on Friday noon draws near.

The grand opening of the flower show will take place at 2 p.m. tomorrow and will be open until 8 p.m. on Saturday. The show will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Exhibitors in the show may be either amateur or professional and there will be no entry fee or admission charges to the public.

This is the first time in the history of county flower shows here that this has been the case.

Boathouse Used for Laboratory

PASADENA, March 27.—Through the generosity of William G. Kerckhoff, a large concrete building, now used as a boathouse by the Palisades Club at Corona Del Mar, will be remodeled to provide a modern marine biological station for the California Institute of Technology, it was announced today.

The laboratory will supply specimens for biological research at the local scientific school and will afford an opportunity for first-hand research at the seashore.

A survey of marine animal life has demonstrated, according to California Institute officials, that the harbor of Balboa, with its sand flats, seashore and breakwater, as well as the rocks and tidepools of Laguna Beach, furnish unusual opportunities for investigation of sea life.

BROODER-HOUSE FIRE BURNS BABY CHICKS

REDONDO BEACH, March 27.—Fire, believed to have been started by an overheated lamp, completely destroyed a brooder house containing 200 baby chickens at the W. E. Edmunds ranch in the Villa tract early this morning. Stock in the remaining buildings on the place was saved with difficulty.

"MOCKING BIRD" SINGS IN PERRIS NOW

Festival Valley Preparing For Its Second Production

Colorful Principals in Classic of Hills

Left, G. R. Gough, Elsinore banker, as Olema, fiery two-gun Basque miner, the "heavy" of the play, and right, Miss Louise Logan of Riverside, as Marquita, the Mexican girl "vamp."

PERRIS, March 27.—The winter rains have been soft and soaking in Perris Valley, and now the hills are covered with green velvet through which gayly colored wild flowers are poking their heads. The smell of sage permeates the air and birds are singing in the eaves of the old adobe in Festival Valley, where "Mocking Bird" will be given its second annual production in the Perris Bowl.

The author of "Mocking Bird" is E. Marguerite Slaughter and the writing of this beautiful Indian play grew out of her contacts while Riverside county chairman of history and landmarks and southern district chairman of history and landmarks of the California Federation of Women's Clubs. Because of this and because one of the clever actresses in "Mocking Bird" is Mrs. Grace Talbot, Riverside county president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Pearl La Force Mayer, composer of the English songs in "Mocking Bird," is a San Diego club woman, Mrs. Slaughter has designated the opening day on April 5 as "federation day," and all federation women are extended a special invitation to attend this desert fantasy.

Written for the community, its historical data correct, the spiritual theme interweaving the romance like a silver thread, almost the entire corp of actors have been drawn from Riverside county talent. G. R. Gough, president of the First National Bank of Elsinore, is one of the handsomest villains ever seen in an outdoor play, and is very clever in his portrayal of Olema, the Basque gold-mine owner. Miss Louise Logan of Riverside is a graceful and most convincing vamp, as well as an accomplished rider in her impersonation of Marquita, the Mexican vamp.

Other principals in the cast are W. B. Trueman as Ysidro, the aged Indian chief; Mrs. Grace Talbot as Carlotta, the aged faithful Indian nurse; George Hewett as the padre; Chief Ho-To-Pi as Mocking Bird, the Indian poet-musician, and Lou-scha-enya, as Rosita, the beautiful Indian maid.

ALARM CLOCK RINGS HIT

Wife Uses Timely Missile on Husband on His Return from Journey, in Argument Over Boarder in Home

PASADENA, March 27.—Mrs. Edna Farnham, 30 years of age, of 261 Ramona Place, failed to make good her asserted promise to get her husband a job, but she was so successful in her attempt to hit him on the head with an alarm clock that surgeons were forced to take six stitches in his scalp today.

George L. Farnham, 35-year-old truck driver, went to Idaho and later to Oregon at the urging of his wife, who promised that her relatives in those States would give him work, according to the police.

When Farnham returned home last night after a fruitless month's search for work, the authorities assert he discovered that a 17-year-old youth, Howard Douglas, had been boarding in his home during his absence.

The truck driver pulled Douglas out of bed and was starting to beat him with his fists, assert the police, when the alarm clock, hurled by Mrs. Farnham, struck him in the temple and stunned him.

After recovering somewhat Farnham blackened his wife's eyes and broke her jaw, according to the report of the Pasadena Emergency Hospital, which administered first aid.

Although a complaint sworn to by Farnham against his wife and her asserted boarder was dismissed in Police Court because of the law forbidding a husband to testify against his wife, Mrs. Farnham is scheduled to be prosecuted for contributing to the delinquency of her four minor children, according to City Prosecutor John W. Joslyn.

RAMONA TO LIVE AGAIN IN PAGEANT

Eighth Annual Event Near Hemet to Be Presented in April and May This Year

HEMET, March 27.—The 1930 presentation of the Ramona Pageant will be staged here on the afternoons of April 26 and 27, May 3 and 4, and May 10 and 11, according to an announcement made today by Edward Poorman, president and manager of the Ramona Pageant Association.

Elaborate preparations, including improvement of the road to the Ramona Bowl at the outskirts of this city, beautification of the amphitheater itself and advance arrangements to accommodate record throngs of visitors, already are well under way.

An intensive campaign is under way to make the eighth annual presentation this year the most notable in the history of the colorful community drama, both from the standpoint of hospitality to visitors and perfection of the production itself, according to Poorman.

He states that he plans soon to announce the personnel of expansive committees of leading citizens of the twin cities of Hemet and San Jacinto who will direct the physical details of arranging to play hosts to visitors from all parts of the world who make the pilgrimage to view the outdoor spectacle, which has come to be known as Southern California's historic Oberammergau.

The cast this year will number approximately 200 with prominent citizens of the twin cities, descendants of the pioneers who took part in the actual episodes recounted in the Ramona novel and drama, in principal roles, supported by students and Indians from the Cahuilla reservation.

With a very few exceptions, it is expected that the cast of principals will be the same as that of the 1929 presentation, which was hailed as the most successful ever given, both in point of dramatic artistry and attendance. Approximately 30,000 persons in the aggregate viewed the six showings last year.

The play will be amplified this year, both from a musical and spectacular viewpoint, according to the plans of the association. Everything for the comfort and convenience of visitors will be provided, from parking space for 5000 automobiles at the bowl, to drinking-water fountains in the aisles of the amphitheater.

HIGH-POWERED WIRE KILLS GRAZING COW

VAN NUYS, March 27.—Among the fatal accidents in San Fernando Valley chronicled by the police yesterday, was the death of a cow belonging to Dr. W. A. McCullough, and valued at $175. The cow was grazing near an iron fence. A high-power wire fell across the animal's back, from a pole above, causing electrocution. Workmen of the light and power company were forced to cut the wire before it could be disentangled.

LAST RITES TODAY FOR VENTURA MAN

VENTURA, March 27.—Funeral services for Thomas Jones Mullis, retired rancher and resident here for twenty-five years, will be conducted Friday morning here, followed by burial in Ivy Lawn Cemetery. Mullis, who came here from Iowa some years ago, died Sunday night. He leaves a sister, Mrs. Bessie Dawe, of Sioux City, Iowa.

Cannery to Try New Stunt With Lima Bean Crop

SAN FERNANDO, March 27.—While waiting for the apricot-packing season to start, the Fernando Canning Company plant here has decided to can dried, cooked lima beans.

The work will be in the nature of an experiment, as it is stated this will be the first time that lima beans dried and then cooked have been canned for commercial sale. The beans will be brought to the cannery in bags. Later they will be soaked and vacuum packed and then cooked in large retorts.

Heretofore, it is pointed out, all lima beans offered to the consumer have been canned in a green stage.

Valley Area Ablaze With Wild Flowers

CHATSWORTH, March 27.—Lovers of wild flowers will get their heart's fill by motoring into the western end of San Fernando Valley. Fields are now a blaze of yellow with California poppies, saffron-hued violet and scores of other posies. Great fields of blue lupin will soon be in bloom.

Recent heavy rains have served to perk up the green of grasses, and to bring out the wild flower blossoms on all hillsides, and in the fields alongside the many valley highways.

BOY HURT IN MOUNTAINS

Vernon Shoemaker of Inglewood Struck on Head by Dislodged Boulder While Climbing Peak

PASADENA, March 27.—While clambering up the slope of Mt. Josephine with other members of an Inglewood elementary school nature-study excursion, 12-year-old Vernon Shoemaker of 3523 Center avenue, was struck on the head by a dislodged boulder today and probably fatally injured.

Although the accident is reported to have happened at 10 a.m., it required more than three and one-half hours to get the boy from the inaccessible mountain region to the Pasadena Emergency Hospital. Mt. Josephine, near Strawberry Peak, is located ten miles north of this city and three miles southeast of the new Tujunga Dam.

Teachers in charge of the excursion were forced to use ropes and an improvised stretcher to pack the victim three miles down the mountain. From that point, young Shoemaker was driven by automobile down the Arroyo Seco by C. L. Olding, an employee of the Los Angeles county schools. Olding declined to talk to reporters, but it was learned from other sources that a large rock dislodged by another child had struck the boy and pinned him against a tree.

Shoemaker was given first aid in the Pasadena Emergency Hospital for a six-inch laceration of the head and a probable decompressed skull fracture. Dr. Joseph P. Szukalski reported that the boy has slight chance to live and ordered him transferred to the Los Angeles General Hospital.

WATER HEARING AT RIVERSIDE

Palm Valley Company Asks for Snow Creek Diversion

Southern Pacific Companies, Southern Sierras Protest

Outcome May Have Bearing on Palm Springs' Future

RIVERSIDE, March 27.—A hearing, results of which, it was declared, may affect the future growth of Palm Springs, was conducted here yesterday by the State on the application of the Palm Valley Waetr Company to divert water from Snow Creek for domestic purposes. The hearing was held in the Council chamber of the City Hall, in charge of Harold Conkling, deputy in charge of water rights.

Maintaining that additional water is necessary to the growth of Palm Springs, and that the only possible source from which domestic water can be obtained is Snow Creek, a tributary of the Whitewater River, the Palm Valley Water Company introduced testimony of its president and secretary to support its application to divert throughout the entire year one and one-half cubic feet per second. The application was protested by the Southern Sierras Power Company of Riverside and the Southern Pacific Company and the Southern Pacific Railway Company of San Francisco. All three protesting companies have water rights on Snow Creek.

OLD QUESTION ASKED

It was the old question often asked in Southern California. "Is there enough water for all?" The Palm Valley Water Company argued that additional water is of vital importance to the desert resort. The protesting companies maintained that granting the Palm Valley Water Company's application to divert water from Snow Creek will endanger their water rights, which although not now developed will be developed as needed. Witnesses for the Palm Valley Water Company were A. F. Hicks, president, and also president of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce, and John B. Holditch, secretary and general superintendent and manager of the company.

Testimony of the growing need for additional water for the desert resort was given by the witnesses under examination by Attorney C. L. McFarland, counsel for the water company. Included in the evidence offered by the water company was a table showing that the average flow in miner's inches used by the company had increased from 14.3 in 1927 to 24.15 in 1929.

WITNESSES CROSS-EXAMINED

Neither the Southern Sierras Company nor either of the Southern Pacific companies introduced any testimony, but counsel for both companies cross-examined the witnesses.

Attorney Frank Thunen for the Southern Pacific Company and the Southern Pacific Railway Company declared that his companies had no desire to interfere with growth of Palm Springs but merely wished to protect water rights needed for future development of the railway.

The Southern Sierras Power Company must defend its water rights in Snow Creek in order to supply water to land which it owns in Snow Creek Canyon, Attorney Henry C. Coil, counsel for the power company, declared, in statien his company's stand in opposing the Palm Springs application. Coil declared that land owned by the company may be developed as resort property and therefore must have water.

The decision of the division of water rights probably will be reached within two or three weeks, it was announced.

Centenarian in Doheny Case at Home Once More

UPLAND, March 27.—Charles E. Harwood, "grand old man" of this city and one of the outstanding figures of the local citrus industry, now living in his 100th year, returned to his home here last night from Washington, where he was one of the character witnesses for E. L. Doheny, California oil millionaire.

Harwood and Doheny have been close personal friends for years and when Harwood learned of his friend's predicament, offered himself in any capacity to give him help. Because of his great age, Doheny protested against Harwood making the long trip to Washington, but the centenarian declared he was going to "stick by his pal" and made the long trip to and from Washington in Doheny's private car without suffering any illness.

Although Harwood will celebrate his 100th birthday anniversary in a few months, his mind is clear, his voice is strong, and his step is firm.

Pier Bonds of Beach City Sold

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 27.—The $122,000 pier bonds recently voted here were sold to Dean Witter & Co., Los Angeles, for par and a premium of $2989. The bonds draw 4.61 per cent. Built in 1915 the 1400-foot structure is the longest concrete pier on the Pacific Coast. When the bids are let, work will start on a 500-foot extension estimated to cost $60,000, and repairs to the pier costing approximately $62,000 will be done. A boat landing built at the end of the 500-foot extension will permit the landing of seafaring vessels. Fishing from the pier is one of the features attractive to Huntington Beach, and with the extension, anglers may leave from this point on barges for deep-sea fishing.

Milnor Luxury Wares Chain Reports Surprise

Business Following Market Crash Sets Mark

Nine Months' Earnings Equal to $1.52 Per Share

Running contrary to the general expectations that sales of so-called luxury goods would be most severely affected by the depression following the market break, Milnor, Inc., in reporting for the first nine months of its fiscal year to February 28, last, yesterday announced the company had experienced the largest quarter in its history during the last three months of the period.

Net profits after charges but before Federal taxes for the nine months ended February 28, last, amounted to $152,000, equal to $1.52 a share on the 100,000 shares of common stock outstanding or at the annual rate of $2 a share. These earnings represent an increase of 18 per cent over the $128,750 reported for the previous comparative period for which the earnings were $1.25 a share on the same number of shares.

Sales for the twelve months ended December 31, last, were $885,780 as compared with $754,257 in the preceding twelve months, an increase of 17 per cent.

The current month is expected by officials to establish a new monthly record in sales, which are stimulated by increased traveling on the part of the public.

With twenty-four shops now in operation including four in the Hawaiian Islands, two in Beverly Hills, one at Agua Caliente, and others in the Bowman-Biltmore hotels, on the coast, the company is planning to expand in the Northwest through the opening of four additional stores this year.

Finance Unit in Expansion Step

Commercial Discount Company has acquired all the automobile conditional sales contracts held by the Fay Securities Company aggregating nearly $1,000,000, and will shortly open an office in San Francisco in order to meet the enlarged business demands, a substantial portion of which is in Northern California, J. E. Coberly, executive vice-president of Commercial Discount, announced yesterday.

There is no merger of the two companies involved, Mr. Coberly said, explaining that the Fay Securities Company is liquidating its business. He also declared that this acquisition is in line with a policy of the Commercial Discount to consistently expand its activities in the automobile finance field.

Richfield Oil Buys Stations

Richfield Oil Corporation of New York, subsidiary of Richfield Oil Company of California, has purchased Clifton F. Williams & Co. of Schenectady, N. Y., operating six service stations and seventy dealer accounts in Schenectady county which will mean an approximate distribution of 4,000,000 gallons of gasoline annually, C. M. Fuller, president of the parent company, announced yesterday.

Richfield has already placed in operation a bulk storage plant on the canal at Schenectady, including 60,000 barrels of steel tankage, as well as necessary facilities for outgoing tank-car shipments. Sales on the Atlantic Seaboard for 1930 will approximate 250,000,000 gallons, Mr. Fuller said.

MACMILLAN DECLARES USUAL STOCK EXTRA

Directors of the Macmillan Petroleum Corporation have declared an extra dividend of 2 per cent in stock in addition to the regular quarterly cash dividend of 50 cents a share both payable April 15 to stockholders of record the 31st inst., S. M. Batterson, secretary, announced yesterday. This is the fourth consecutive quarterly dividend of 2 per cent in stock that has been declared in addition to the cash dividends.

COAST COUNTIES NET UP

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27. (Exclusive)—Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company had operating income of $568,068 last year, compared with $435,857 in 1928, according to its annual report to the Railroad Commission.

Belgrano Named Pacific National Insurance Head

F. N. Belgrano, vice-president and director of the Bank of America of California, was yesterday elected president of the Pacific National Fire Insurance Company of San Francisco. Mr. Belgrano is well known throughout the State in the banking and insurance fields, and has served as State Commander of the American Legion.

Fifteen members were elected to the board of directors, including three from Los Angeles. The Southern California directors are H. R. Erkes, vice-president and chairman of the board of management, southern division, of the Bank of Italy; Irving H. Hellman, vice-president, Bank of America of California, and C. R. Bell, senior vice-president, Bank of America of California.

Other members elected to the board include L. M. Giannini, Robert Carlson, George W. Peltier, James A. Bacigalupi, Arnold J. Mount, F. N. Belgrano, A. E. Sbarboro, George A. Webster, B. F. Vandenberg, Jr., R. J. Mayle, Howard Whipple and R. R. Yates.

Pacific National Fire Insurance is owned by the Transamerica Corporation.

Pennroad Buys Stocks of Two Southern Rails

NEW YORK, March 27. (Exclusive)—The Pennroad Corporation announced today it had bought stocks of the Southern Railroad and the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. The corporation also confirmed officially its ownership of common and preferred shares of the New Haven and the Boston and Main railroads; stocks and bonds of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton and the Detroit and Ironton railroads, and stock of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railway. The amounts of the holdings were not stated.

"The aim of the management has been to invest in securities of companies yielding steady returns and those having attractive future possibilities," said Henry H. Lee, president at the first yearly meeting of stockholders of the corporation in Wilmington, Del.

"At the end of 1929, the corporation had on hand $16,710,925 in cash and demand loans and securities costing $120,538,051." At today's meeting W. W. Atterbury, E. B. Morris and J. S. Alexander, directors, whose terms were expiring, were reelected.

PICKWICK EXTENDS TIME FOR RIGHTS

Members of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange were notified yesterday that inasmuch as the usual five days' notice of the issuance of rights was not given the exchange, Pickwick Corporation has agreed to extend the privilege to all purchasers of Pickwick common stock to the close of business today. The stock will sell ex-rights today.

TRUST ACQUIRED

NEW YORK, March 27. (Exclusive)—Majority control, or approximately 75 per cent, of the common stock of American Founders Corporation, has been acquired by United Founders Corporation on the basis of an exchange of stock. The exchange offer expires at 3 p.m. tomorrow.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, March 27. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says:

Sheet steel mills in the West are receiving encouraging orders from diversified manufacturing lines and from the outdoor roofing industries. Activity in the concrete reinforcing bar market is more promising and considerable new work is developing. Industrial steel lettings have picked up slightly in the East, although the total tonnage placed is not extremely large.

Cast iron pipe trade is improving. March orders for bolts, nuts and rivets are not expected to equal those placed in February.

Iron and steel warehouses generally report demand is confined to limited tonnages. Pig iron is moving slowly.

COST OF STOCK EXTRA HIGH

Companies Abandoning Quarterly Payments for Annual Distributions; Expenses Estimated

BY EARLE E. CROWE

As the recent actions of the Transamerica Corporation and several other companies indicate, in substituting the annual payment of stock dividends for the quarterly plan, the cost and labor of issuing shares four times a year is proving too burdensome for corporations. Within the year it would not be surprising to find most companies similarly situated, either adopting the same policy or abandoning stock dividends entirely.

Originally, it is probable the distribution of extra stock dividends quarterly was a trading proposition, or designed to stimulate speculative interest. Scores of companies adopted the stock dividend policy last year during the peak months of the stock market when it was no longer feasible to increase cash dividends. How many will continue the payment of stock is debatable, but it seems likely that the mechanics of distribution will at least be revised.

LABOR MULTIPLIED

Some years ago it was the vogue to pay cash dividends monthly. This practice gradually was superseded by the quarterly plan, mainly because of the cost and detail involved in distributing dividend checks each month. Stock dividends multiply the labor and cost several times.

To issue stock every three months to an extensive list of stockholders involves the maintenance of a trained clerical force throughout the year for this particular purpose. Letters must be addressed and mailed, inquiries answered, addresses checked regularly, issuance and sales of fractional scrip handled, transfer ledgers kept regularly up to date, and other details must be satisfactorily adjusted.

Besides the cost of maintaining this special force of workers throughout the year, there is the expense to consider of printing and engraving of warrants and certificates, expense of announcements, correspondence, postage, etc. The payments of the transfer agent are also increased substantially.

When all of this labor is consolidated into one single operation during the year, the monetary saving amounts to a considerable sum, according to corporation officers familiar with the operation. In issuing annual stock dividends or rights to stockholders, the whole operation is cleaned up in from two to three months with the temporary employment of a few extra clerks. Naturally there is a material reduction also in printing costs, postage, book-keeping, etc.

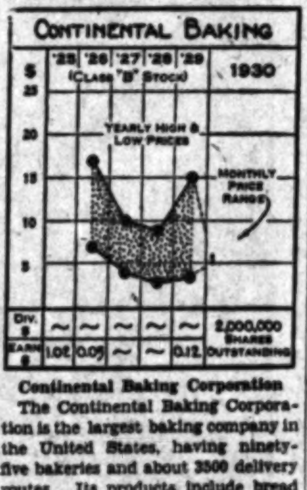
COST ESTIMATED

For a relatively small company with approximately 500 stockholders it is estimated the total cost of distributing stock dividends quarterly ranges from $600 to $700. This includes printing, engraving, legal fees, clerical hire, postage, transfer charges, etc.

One large company with more than 100,000 stockholders estimates the cost of issuing stock under subscription warrants at from 15 to 20 cents a share. This is only an annual charge, and obviously would run considerably higher if the distributions were made quarterly.

In this connection, another company selling shares regularly under the customer-ownership plan estimates its sales cost at approximately 60 cents a share. If the same shares were distributed through investment bankers it is estimated the cost to the company would run about $2 a share. This is one instance where it evidently pays to maintain an efficient sales and clerical force regularly through the year.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



Continental Baking Corporation

The Continental Baking Corporation is the largest baking company in the United States, having ninety-five bakeries and about 3500 delivery routes. Its products include bread and cake sold under various established brands. Products are sold under such names as "Wonder Bread," "White Rose Bread," "Certified Bread," "Merit Bread," "Hostess Cake" and "Sunshine Cake." The present plants are understood to have a capacity adequate to care for much more production without any material capital expenditures.

During 1929 a three-year program of expansion was completed representing an expenditure of $12,600,000. Two new bakeries, acquisition by purchase of two more in Tacoma, Wash., and major addition to twenty-nine bakeries, completed the program for that year. Expansion, however, is to continue along conservative lines.

Financing Plan of Rock Island Still Pending

NEW YORK, March 27. (Exclusive)—Conferences on the modification of financing of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway are proceeding actively between officers, bankers and certain large stockholders of the railroad, it was learned today. No decision has been reached yet, but it is likely that some announcement will be made following the meeting of directors of the railroad next week.

Two weeks ago, when the dissatisfied ones of the stockholders, led by United States and International Corporation as the owner of 41,400 shares, first came to light officials of the company stated that they had no intention of reconsidering their plan for selling $32,228,000 convertible 4½ per cent bonds to shareholders. That they have granted the series of conferences now under way is not necessarily a sign that they will yield, but is probably an indication of the support which their opponents have mustered.

Issuance of the bonds and certain necessary amendments to the articles of consolidation depend upon approval by stockholders at their annual meeting on May 1. The absence or dissenting vote of one-third of the outstanding stock or approximately 430,110 shares would block the plan.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, March 27. (AP)—A fair amount of inquiries is being received on foreign wools. Sizeable orders have been booked on Australian 64s-70s wools for import. Brokers are able to buy small quantities in the primary market against these orders. Small orders are being received for South American cross-bred wools for import, but little has been purchased against these orders, because holders in the primary market do not appear interested in the prices offered.

WORLD TRADE GAIN SIGHTED

General Easing of Credit Conditions Viewed as Favorable to Widespread Revival

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, March 27.—There is a well-founded belief that the cheapening of credit throughout the world will do much toward reviving international trade. All nations are reporting a drop over the preceding year. The total export of merchandise from the United States in February was $351,000,000 compared to $441,751,000 in the corresponding month last year. But imports for February were $281,000,000 as against $369,440,000 in the same month last year.

Great Britain reports the same situation. So do France, Germany and Italy—a contraction both in exports and imports.

Canada's business outside her borders was $1,000,000 a day less this February than in February, 1929; her exports were down $15,569,000 and her imports off $16,120,000.

The Dominion, however, shows an increase of $4,998,000 in imports for the eleven elapsed months of the present fiscal year, while her exports dropped $218,186,000, largely wheat and flour.

No wonder Canada's exchange has been weak during the period.

The second largest steel plant in the world is about to begin construction in the Ural Mountains of Russia, where a contract for the expenditure of $182,000,000 has been given to Arthur G. McKee & Co. of Cleveland, O., by the soviet government.

When the McKee organization which has been in the steel plant construction business for twenty-five years, completes its job, the plant, which will employ 40,000 workers, will have a finished-steel capacity of 2,100,000 tons.

The soviet government will supply all labor and materials in the construction, while the American firm will supply the machinery—mostly from the United States—and train the Russians how to handle it.

A rich body of magnetite ore lies nearby. Coking coal, 200 miles away, will be tapped by the new Southern Siberian Railroad now under construction.

And while this is going on, a new $55,000,000 power plant to adjoin the steel works is to be built. This contract, however, has so far not been let.

Greece is expected to borrow $40,000,000 from American and Allied bankers soon. An American firm Ulen & Co., are helping to modernize Greece.

Few citizens of the United States have made a more enviable name outside than Henry C. Ulen, the head of Ulen & Co., whose construction and engineering activities are now world-wide.

This American firm is building a railroad 1000 miles long in Persia and another across the Andes. It is carrying on extensive railroad construction work in Colombia and Central America, and it is just now building a modern system of waterworks in ancient Athens, Greece.

Henry C. Ulen, the head of the organization, was born in Lebanon, Ind., but became a world traveler early in life. He saw the need of a better type of construction in various parts of the world.

He returned to Lebanon and from this little city started the work which has brought him both fame and fortune.

Ed Howe, Kansas philosopher and writer, also born in Indiana, makes this statement about Mr. Ulen:

"I regard such a man as more notable and useful than Shakespeare, Demosthenes, Peter the Great and many of the other tiresome favorites of history. I love the story of the poor boy who makes good, and I hear Henry C. Ulen was not only poor when a boy, but noisy and lazy; he hated school, and mothers in Lebanon said to their sons: 'Don't play with that Ulen boy.'"

Which proves again that there are no success rules in life.

New Lease on Life Sought by Union Oil

Union Oil Company of California in letters mailed to stockholders is requesting the latter to act on the proposal of directors to extend the term of existence of the corporation for the further term of fifty years from the 24th inst., and to amend the articles of incorporation with respect to the issuance of shares of its capital stock.

The present fifty-year term of existence of the corporation as prescribed by its articles of incorporation will expire October 17, 1940.

The proposed amendment to articles of incorporation with respect to issuance of stock more definitely defines the power of corporation in this regard, giving the board of directors on a two-thirds affirmative vote the right to issue stock in exchange for property to be acquired; to grant conversion privileges to holders of any bonds, debentures or evidences of indebtedness, and to offer and sell pro rata to its stockholders shares of its capital stock and of any future increase thereof at a price fixed by the directors. Both proposals require the written assent of the holders of two-thirds of the outstanding stock to become effective.

Bendix Aviation Earnings Show Higher in Year

CHICAGO, March 27. (Exclusive) Bendix Aviation Corporation today reported 1929 net income after all charges and income taxes of $7,416,406, equal to $3.53 a share on 2,097,454 shares outstanding, as against $6,186,045, or $4.44 a share on 1,390,000 shares in 1928.

Gross profits after cost totaled $12,765,769, as against $7,990,923 in the previous year.

Current assets as of December 31, last, totaled $25,573,141, against $35,765,649 at the end of 1928, while current liabilities were $3,542,312, against $2,750,694. Surplus was $11,076,531, as against $11,444,180. Total assets were listed at $70,986,235, as against $72,476,338 in the previous year.

DO YOUR INVESTMENTS PAY 6% TAX FREE?

FEW conservative investors are able to average 6% on their securities after deducting Federal and State Taxes.

That is one reason why corporations and individuals in steadily increasing numbers are turning to California District Bonds, which yield 5.50% to 6%, exempt from all Federal Income Tax and California Personal Property Tax, and backed by strong legal safeguards.

Principal and interest on these bonds are payable from an ad valorem tax levied upon all lands in the issuing district and collected with and as a part of general county taxes, from which it cannot be separated.

We are offering issues of this character in serial maturities, priced to yield 5.30% to 6%. No matter what type of securities you are accustomed to hold, we believe you will find these issues worth your consideration. Let us send you full details without obligation. Use Coupon below.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—Further covering by near-month shorts was supplied on a moderate opening advance in the cotton market today and prices later reacted under realizing and some scattered selling, which was accompanied by rumors that some cotton was being prepared for delivery in the South. The volume of business tapered off on the declines, however, and the midafternoon market was comparatively quiet, with old crop months ruling about 4 to 5 points net lower, while the new crop was net unchanged.

TRUSTEE STANDARD OILSHARES --- Series "B"

Will Standard Oil Double In Value During the Next Ten Years?

In 1912, total assets of the 23 leading Standard Oil Companies at the right whose stocks underlie Trustee Standard Oilshares, Series "B", were approximately $479,000,000. By 1928, these assets had increased to $4,880,000,000, a gain of over 916%, or an average of 57% per year.

Judging by this record, it is only reasonable to assume that these 23 Standard Oil Companies should not only double in value in the next ten years, but perhaps treble or quadruple this present value or even better.

Prices on Trustee Standard Oilshares, Series "B", are fixed daily based on prices of the underlying stocks. Now is the time to purchase this strong fixed investment trust at bargain prices to participate in the future growth of the great Standard Oil group. Average annual return for the past seven years, assuming the existence of the trust, would have amounted to over 14% per year on today's market price.

Trustee Standard Oilshares Series "B"

. . . are composed of the following Common Stocks, together with a cash reserve fund designed to insure a minimum annual distribution of 60 cents per share.

Extra Income For Banks and Corporations With no Extra Risk

Corporations paying Federal Income Taxes at the flat rate of 11% will find reserve funds invested in tax-free bonds at 6% net the equivalent of 6.74% from a taxable issue.

California Municipal Improvement Bonds through the medium of our convenient 6% Certificates provide an investment which banks and corporations as well as the private investor can well afford to hold. These Certificates are currently priced to yield 6% completely exempt from Federal Income Taxes, including the Surtax.

Principal and interest are payable semi-annually February 1st and August 1st. Certificates are issued in convenient $500, $1000, and $5000 denominations with any desired maturity from 1 to 10 years.

In the current issue, these 6% Certificates represent actual proportionate ownership in 8,366 separate municipal improvement bonds, constituting direct liens ahead of all mortgages on property appraised at more than $13,600,000 or more than 22 times the amount of this issue.

Many banks and corporations have found our 6% Municipal Improvement Bond Certificates an ideal method of increasing the net return from their reserve funds. We shall be glad to discuss the advantages of these bonds with corporation executives at any time. Call us by phone or send name and address below for detailed literature.

HEAVY SELLING HITS UTILITIES

however, United States Steel closing with a fractional net loss. Among the strong spots at the close were Barnsdall A, Associated Dry Goods, Lambert and General Gas A, up 2 to 4 points. Rails were comparatively quiet, although Chicago Great Western preferred rose 2 points to a new 1930 high.

Utilities suffered most heavily in the selling. American Power and Light, American and Foreign Power, Columbia Gas and Consolidated Gas lost 2 to 4 points. Macy dropped 6 points to a new low for the year at 137. Montgomery Ward sagged more than a point, dipping a shade below its previous 1930 minimum. A. M. Byers, Johns-Manville, Vanadium, Standard of New Jersey and Westinghouse Electric closed about 2 to 4 points down.

Commodities eased a little. After an early advance wheat futures sagged fractionally below the previous close.

At Winnipeg corn closed off about ½ to 1 cent. Cotton futures ended the day 10 cents higher to 40 lower.

Foreign exchanges sagged, leading to reports that Europe was again buying stocks in this market. Sterling cables again dropped 1-4 cent, touching $4.86½.

Grain Futures Turn Off After Early Advance

CHICAGO, March 27. (AP)—Led by wheat all grain prices turned downward today toward the last after scoring early gains. Reserve power flattened out at least for the time being, and values gave way under larger selling to realize profits on bulges. Export developments as to North American wheat were disappointing, and Farm Board advices that United States spring wheat acreage probably would be reduced more than Department of Agriculture figures indicated failed to act as a counterbalance.

Wheat closed easy at the same as yesterday's finish to ⅛c lower. Corn closed unchanged to ⅝c off, oats ¼@⅜c down, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 5 cents.

Late setbacks of wheat values contrasted rather sharply with a rising trend which was shown until after mid-day owing a good deal to upturns in Liverpool quotations and to unfavorable news about the crop prospect southwest. Lack of rain in Kansas and Oklahoma, together with prevalence of high winds, was complained of, and there were forecasts also of a hard freeze tonight in the hard winter wheat section.

Corn and oats were swayed almost together by the action of wheat.

Provisions responded to fluctuations of the hog market.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Bulls Dominate Local Stock Dealings, Forcing Several Issues to New Peaks

Operators for the advance continued to hold the upper hand on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. Under widespread trading the list forged ahead into higher territory, carrying a number of issues to new peak levels for the year. After getting away to a slow start trading accelerated rapidly and while few issues receded fractionally the main body of stocks closed in an upward direction.

Macmillan Petroleum, Southern California Edison and Transamerica led the activity from the opening. Macmillan was particularly outstanding with an extended advance of 1 3-4 points to another new top for the year at 29 3-4. The close was at 29½, after a turnover of 4100 shares. Officials of the company denied that any financing plans were contemplated at this time.

Southern California Edison transferred briskly and advanced to a new recent high at 64 1-4, and after a temporary reaction regained the high point on the final sale, up 5-8 net on sales of more than 4000 shares. The rights advanced 10 cents to a new peak at 3.85 on a particularly rapid turnover. Transamerica, the third most active issue, made an early advance to 45 1-4 but dropped back to close at 44 3-4, down 1-8 net.

Pacific Mutual Life was another strong spot, bounding up more than 2 points to a new top at 90 1-4 and closing at 90 1-8. The rights advanced sympathetically with a jump of 20 cents to a new high at 4.05. Pacific Gas and Electric scored a new 1930 peak at 71 on an advance of 1½ points. Pacific Finance was also active, firming up 1-4 to 37½.

Barnsdall featured oil operations by following up a sharp advance on the previous session with a jump of 2 5-8 to a new high and close at 33 3-8 and a turnover of 2000 shares. The balance of the oils while trading in fair volume held more or less steady.

Sales totaled 64,487 shares valued at $1,524,383; previous day, 55,123 shares valued at $1,155,989.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Fokker Aircraft, which has consistently featured operations for the past week or more, continued to lead all other operations by a wide margin on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday. More than 5000 shares changed hands, and after ranging between 29 5-8 and 28 3-4 the issue closed at 29½.

With the exception of Pacific Indemnity, which slumped 1 3-4 to 42 1-4, only fractional changes were marked up at the close for the general list. Arkansas Natural Gas "A," a dormant issue on this board, provided a surprise with a turnover of 2600 shares and an advance to 15 1-4 points. Cities Service scored another new 1930 high at 41 1-4, where it ended up 7-8 net. The balance closed fractionally mixed.

Kinner Airplane and Motor, under pressure of selling, led the volume of sales among the smaller-priced issues and slumped 12½ cents to 1.42½, having sunk to 1.35 at one time during the session. Big Jim and Exeter Oil traded rapidly to record improvement while Tom Reed dipped 5 cents to 80 under pressure of liquidation.

Sales totaled 84,752 shares valued at $393,236; previous day, 49,775 shares valued at $342,618.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27. (AP)—Erratic changes in speculative sentiment gave the stock traders a weird day, which finished on the upturn after several reversals. Trading was heavy, 62,291 shares changing hands, the cash turnover being $2,626,417. There were eight new highs and no lows.

Utilities again provided the majority of thrills. Pacific Gas and Electric, Pacific Lighting common and Pacific Lighting rights set new highs, continuing their rather sensational and well-sustained march into high ground begun early this year. The rights held their fractional gain, but the others slipped back slightly, the close finding them a bit below their highest marks for the session.

Pacific Public Service was again taken steadily, showing technical signs that generated considerable enthusiasm among speculative followers. San Joaquin suffered another slump, losing 2 point of the recent climb.

Other new highs set today were: Bond and Share, 15, Crown Zellerbach A, 85, Crown B, 84, Douglas Aircraft, 20½, Tide Water Associated Oil 15¾, and First Securities of Ogden, 133. The latter was up 2½, and Douglas, 3, while Crown A and B were up 1½ and 1, respectively. Leighton A gained 2.

Transamerica scored an early gain, but lost it. West Coast Bancorporation added a point.

Oils generally lost ground. Tide Water preferred sank 1½, and most of the leaders took fractional dips on gasoline price cut news.

UTILITY INCOME UP

NEW YORK, March 27. (Exclusive)—Federal Light and Traction Company reported today consolidated net income for 1929 of $1,579,868, equal after preferred dividends to $3.04 a share on the average common stock, against $1,426,364, or $2.92 a share on the average common in 1928.

Convertible

Quasi-Utility Bond . . . Yielding over 7%

Continuing cheap money and a rising bond market emphasize the desirability of purchasing bonds at this time which yield a high rate of fixed income. When such a security also offers an opportunity to participate in future profits of the company through conversion privileges, the issue merits the special consideration of far-sighted investors.

We are recommending to our clients a bond combining these two attractive features. The issuing company holds a long-term public utility franchise to serve two communities with a population of approximately 2,000,000 in one of the most rapidly growing sections in America.

These bonds are priced at 95 and interest, to yield over 7.00%—decidedly attractive income in itself without considering the liberal common stock conversion privilege of great potential value.

We will gladly furnish detailed information without obligation. Phone VAndike 7161 or send name and address below.

AVIATION INDUSTRY IN AMAZING GROWTH
Kinner Motors Outstanding In Great Development

The manufactured output of the aviation industry increased nearly 40% in 1929 over 1928. This substantial gain—from a total valuation of $62,000,000 in 1928 to nearly $100,000,000 last year—strikingly reflects the amazing growth of the industry. An even greater record of expansion is looked for this year.

Of the 1929 output, engine production aggregated $26,495,830. Kinner motors contributed substantially to this total. Kinner's strong position in the industry is shown by the fact that forty-nine airplane manufacturers used Kinner motors last year, and the announcement that virtually all leading manufacturers of small planes are planning their use this year.

Kinner Stock, listed on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange, offers unusually attractive possibilities. Write or call for full information about Kinner's increasing leadership in the aviation industry.

EARNINGS...
Better than average

THE control gained by the United Founders Corporation of the American Founders Group, through an exchange of shares, focused national attention on the operations of this great investment organization.

An outstanding fact, of vital interest to investors is the better than average rate of gross earnings of the five companies in the American Founders Group since the first unit was formed in 1921. This covers periods of depression as well as inflation.

With consolidated resources of $300,000,000 this position of the United Founders Corporation is unusually happy in relation to world-wide diversification of investments, close and intelligent supervision of holdings, and the obtaining of valuable and accurate investment data in both domestic and foreign fields.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—An advance in the call money rate and fears of a large increase in Federal Reserve brokers' loans, which proved unfounded, had a restraining effect on bullish enthusiasm in today's curb market. Prices bounded upward at the opening, but met heavy offerings on the rally and then backed and filled all day, leaving closing quotations irregular. Trading failed to maintain the swift pace set yesterday, although the day's sales exceeded 1,500,000 shares and were the second largest of the year.

Public utilities assumed the leadership of the early advance, but the pressure of realizing sales finally slowed them up and forced some of the leaders below yesterday's closing quotations. American Superpower, Columbia Gas (new) and Electric Bond and Share established new 1930 highs and then cancelled their gains and closed lower. American Gas and Electric, Cities Service, International Superpower and National Power and Light 6 per cent preferred attained new peaks.

Reports that gasoline stocks in storage were being drawn upon for the first time this year brought some fresh buying into the oils, but Gulf and Vacuum were among the few issues to show net gains at the close. Standard Oil of Ohio dropped 4½ points and Humble 1⅝. Indian Territorial closed unchanged at 47¼ after touching a new top at 47⅝.

Gas stocks were mixed. Houston Gulf and Lone Star Gas moved into new high ground, although the latter lost its gain, while the United Gas issues lost more than a point each.

Deere & Co. jumped 10 points to another new record high at 725, but the new stock showed a net loss of 2½ at 142½, after having crossed 148 for the first time. New 1930 highs also were recorded by Aviation Corporation of America, Corroon & Reynolds preferred "A," Holophane, Insurance Company of North America jumped 8 points and Cuneo Press preferred 1½.

Curb bonds moved irregularly higher.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Moderate receipts were disposed of in fairly good season at generally steady rates, although lower grade cows were a little slow selling. Steers suitable for killers were lacking in fresh receipts but cows were plentiful with some selling to feeders.

A load of 1071-pound intermountain steers held over from Wednesday brought 11.25. A part load of 708-pound Mexican steers made 10.50 with some low grade 681-pound kind at 8.25. A load of 709-pound steers from Arizona made 8.50 to a feeder buyer.

A package of 734-pound Arizona heifers brought 9.00, with some plainer 494 pounds at 8.25. A few head of medium weight cows brought 8.50@9.00, with bulk of common to medium quality at 7.00@8.25 and low cutters and cutters 4.50@6.75. A few odd bulls brought 7.25@8.25, with one 1040-pound animal at 8.85.

CALVES—Vealers were in good demand at strong to 25c higher rates. Three loads of 218 to 258-pound Californias made 15.50@16.00, with weights up to 350 pounds going at 13.00@15.00 and cull and common calves of all weights at 8.50@11.50.

HOGS—Trade was practically at a standstill in the hog yards with most of the desirable eastern butchers without bids. Buyers claimed that the dressed product is not moving and they do not care to take on much additional stock at present levels. Sales made during the forenoon were considered around 25c lower. Two loads of 154 to 183-pound California butchers made 10.75, with a load of common 148-pound Nebraskas at 10.25. Good desirable weight easterns are quoted at 11.25 to possibly 11.50. A few 338-pound packing sows brought 9.00.

SHEEP—Offerings of eight decks of fed wooled Utah lambs were considered fully 25c lower at 8.50 straight, these lambs averaging 87 to 90 pounds. A package of common 88-pound ewes turned at 3.25.

FERRY PROJECT FOR SAN DIEGO

Diesel-Electric Automobile Carrier on Tapis

Contract for Design Let to Local Architects

Cost of Craft Estimated at Around $325,000

BY WALDO DRAKE

Contract for the design of a 200-foot steel Diesel-electric automobile ferry, to cost approximately $325,000, was awarded yesterday to Lambie & Mabry, local naval architects, by the Automobile Ferry Company of Coronado. The designers announce that it is hoped to build the vessel at a local shipyard.

Preliminary plans of the ferry, which will be operated between San Diego and Coronado, embody the latest developments in electric drive and hull design. Her main Diesel-electric engines of 1500 horsepower will give her a loaded speed of thirteen knots, power being generated by four Diesel-driven electric generators. All auxiliaries will likewise be electrically operated. As an additional refinement in design, the ferry will have two Oertz streamline rudders, similar to those in use on the new trans-Atlantic liners Bremen and Europa.

The new craft, scheduled to go into commission by January 25, 1931, will have a capacity for sixty automobiles and several hundred passengers, having a fifty-six-foot beam and a loaded draft of eight feet, six inches. The designers expect to have plans and specifications ready for distribution to shipbuilders for bids about May 10.

Messrs. Lambie and Mabry also have designed a 180-foot Diesel cruiser for Zane Grey and a seventy-foot cruiser for Paul Whittier. Bids for construction of the Grey yacht are being asked for in Dutch and German yards, while the Whittier boat is now in frame at the Terminal Island plant of Harbor Boatbuilding Company.

SHIFT OF ARIZONA WOOL TRADE INDICATED

Local shipping interests see a permanent diversion of the Arizona wool production through Los Angeles Harbor in the 1600 tons which have been dispatched to the Boston market on steamers of the American-Hawaiian Line. Heretofore, Arizona wool has either gone direct to the North Atlantic markets by rail or by rail and water via Houston and Galveston.

Fred A. Hooper, district manager of the American-Hawaiian Line, declared yesterday that appreciably quicker dispatch can be assured wool growers via this port, the wool being brought by motor trucks over the 700-mile haul from Phoenix. Shippers expressed the opinion that a factor in diverting the Arizona crop through the local harbor has been the joint effort of the San Pedro and Wilmington chambers of commerce for a revision of rail rates in wool, cotton and copper from Arizona points.

The new motor tankship Athelregent of the British Molasses Company, arrived on her maiden voyage yesterday from Middlesboro, Eng., where she had just been commissioned. She carries a 4000-horsepower Burmeister and Wain Diesel, a host of new navigation aids, and has a capacity for 100,000 barrels. She is chartered for three trips between here and United Kingdom for the Shell Company, Balfour, Guthrie & Co., agent. A sister-ship the Athelsultan, built four months ago, is due here this week with molasses from Java and will load fuel oil for Japan.

North German Lloyd's motor liner Trave sailed for Germany yesterday on the return of her first voyage in the Pacific-European service, after embarking several passengers and loading 950 tons of cotton and borax. She is one of five vessels operated here on a three weeks' service, the schedule of which will be changed by the merger of North German Lloyd and Hamburg-American Line, which also has a fleet plying here.

Four hundred and four passengers, the largest returning list in many weeks, are due here from Hawaii on the Lassco flagship City of Los Angeles this morning. The liner also has several thousand tons of sugar, pineapples, bagasse, coffee and general merchandise. Travelers include Herbert Durant, author, of Bronxville, N. Y.; Gen. Henry C. Hodges, U.S.A., retired; Edward D. Stair, publisher of the Detroit Free Press; Harold G. Gaze and Joseph H. Sharp, Pasadena artists, and Moritz A. Kretschmer, Pittsburgh architect. Lassco's combination passenger and freight steamer Diamond Head will sail tomorrow with fruits, building materials and airplane parts for Hawaii.

Fred Hooper, local American-Hawaiian impresario, was yesterday in search of a truck to transport his fur coat to town from tidewater. It was shipped here from Boston aboard the American-Hawaiian freighter Kansan when Mr. Hooper returned from his recent east coast tour, excess baggage limitations of the railroads preventing his bringing it overland. Capt. O. M. Rogers, the Kansan's skipper, declared it gave him more worry en route than a Tehuantepec hurricane.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27. (AP)—For the first time in several years the Cunard Steamship Company will send one of its annual round-the-world liners into San Francisco this year, Arthur B. Sweeney, Pacific Coast manager of the line, announced here today. The vessel will be the Samaria. She is due to sail from New York on December 3, and will arrive in San Francisco on December 21 after calling at Los Angeles. The cruise of the vessel will end at New York on April 10, 1931.

The liner President Monroe, engaged in the Dollar Line's San Francisco to Manila and Singapore direct service, will call at Guam on her next outbound voyage, R. Stanley Dollar, executive of the line, announced here today. The vessel will sail from here on April 22, and under her tentative schedule will arrive at Guam on May 8 and Manila on May 13. This will be the first time that a Dollar passenger vessel has called at Guam, company officials said.

TACOMA, March 27.—Three large carriers berthed here today to load cargo for Australia, Europe and South America. The motorship Samuel Bakke of the Knutsen Line, arrived early this morning to lift 1000 tons of box shooks and general cargo for the return voyage to Iquique. She sailed at 4 p.m. Doors, lumber and 500 tons of box shooks comprised the cargo of the motorship Eknaren, General Steamship Company charter, which arrived from Manila and sailed at 4 p.m. for Australian ports via Manila.

SEATTLE, March 27.—Preparing for departures early next month, units of the Alaska Codfishing Fleet are being overhauled here, and three of Seattle's seven whaling "killer" ships are in the Lake Washington shipyards being overhauled for departures in early May for the Arctic.

The Tanginak is being made ready to leave with the Westport and Moran for the whaling station at Port Hobron, Kodiak Island, the Unimak and Kodiak. The other two being overhauled, will go with the Aberdeen and Paterson to the Akutan station in Western Alaska.

Two other ships awaiting opening of navigation on the Bering Sea and Arctic Ocean are the trading schooner C. S. Holmes and the Alaska government schools supply ship Boxer.

PORTLAND, March 27.—Municipal terminals of this port will soon appear in new coats of paint, it was revealed today at a meeting of the Commission of Public Docks. The commission opened bids ranging from $17,000 to $35,587, and decided to award the painting job at an adjourned meeting tomorrow.

Norton, Lilly & Co. addressed a communication to the commission requesting an assignment of space at Pier A, Terminal No. 1, for a first-aid station. The commission announced it would determine upon a location for the proposed station.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, March 27. (Exclusive)—After holding fairly steady on buying support which came from a large up-town trade, interest and scattered sources futures at the rubber exchange of New York today succumbed to persistent selling in the final few minutes of business and yielded 10 points following their morning levels.

Trading, however, throughout the day, was dull with the bulk of the business transacted in the May position, which was steadily absorbed by a broker who handles an account for a London rubber firm. In the last few minutes dealer selling took this position down 10 points to 15.50, at which price it was unchanged from the previous close. The final tone of the market was barely steady with prices unchanged to 10 points net lower. Sales amounted to 132 lots, the equivalent of 330 tons.

One of the unfavorable news items of the day was an increase of 1134 tons of crude rubber shipped to this country during the week ended the 22nd inst. These totaled 9844 tons as compared with 8710 in preceding period.

London spot closed dull and unchanged at 7 9-16d, while in Singapore the spot delivery dropped ⅛d to 7⅛d in a stagnant market.

The outside spot prices here declined ¼c to 15¾c. Outside prices were:

	Spot	Apr.	May-June	July-Sept.
Smoked ribbed sheets	15¾	15¾	15⅞	16¼
First latex crepe	16
Clean thin brn. crepe	14
Amber No. 3	14

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"The Ship from Shanghai." Reviewed in today's Times.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Happy Days." Fox Grandeur film amazes the public and shows the great possibilities of the future. The subject matter is a minstrel show by the stars.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Phantom of the Opera." The phantom comes to life again in a revival of the old thriller. Some had dialogue.

Figueroa, Fig. at Santa Barbara—"The Love Parade." A mythical kingdom full of song and love and foolish farce supplied by Messrs. Lubitsch and Chevalier.

Filmarte, 1228 Vine—"The Girl With the Bandbox." Opens tonight.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Sally." Marilyn Miller makes a successful screen debut, presented in musical comedy and technicolor.

Grauman's Chinese, 6925 Hollywood Blvd.—"Rogue Song." Lawrence Tibbett makes a powerful impression on screen fans in a vagabond romance of nearly great quality.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6706 Hollywood Blvd.—"Street of Chance." A good picture about a gambler and his luck. With William Powell and Kay Francis.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"[illegible]." Reviewed in today's Times.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Dangerous Paradise." Reviewed in today's Times.

Palace, Broadway between Sixth and Seventh—"The Vagabond Lover." Rudy Vallee is snapped in careless postures with his orchestra while he sings of love.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Honey." Reviewed in today's Times.

Ritz, 5500 Wilshire—"The Love Parade."

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Beloved Rogue." Reviewed in today's Times.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Rio Rita." Bebe Daniels emerges from silence a singer, in this Ziegfeld operetta.

Tower, Bdwy. at 8th—"Second Choice." Dolores Costello has a hard time making up her mind and that's the story. Jack Mulhall is involved somehow.

United Artists, Bdwy. nr. 9th—"Hell Harbor." Romance flowers 'neath tropic skies and is made exciting by blood and murder and daily riots. With Lupe Velez and Jean Hersholt.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"The Bishop Murder Case."

Warners' Downtown, Hill at 7th—"Under a Texas Moon." Opens today.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Hold Everything." A rough and ready musical with Joe E. Brown and Winnie Lightner in uproarious roles.

Westlake, 638 Alvarado—"The Bishop Murder Case." Being an expose of the crime elegant, so fastidiously handled that even your best friend can't tell you what's what. Basil Rathbone is Philo Vance.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"East of Suez." Lenore Ulric dazzles theatergoers with her dynamic personality in this Somerset Maugham love tale of a half-caste.

Biltmore, 5th nr. Grand—"The Perfect Alibi." Crime is rendered pleasantly comic through the efforts of the personable Madge Kennedy.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Let Us Be Gay." A sophisticated bit of entertainment, presenting Violet Heming, the New York star.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1735 Vine—"Helena's Boys." May Robson again attacks the problems of eternal youth and romance in a lively horse play about a new thought in the ways of love.

Majestic, Bdwy. at 9th—"New Moon." The popular operetta is well put on, featuring the song hit, "Lover Come Back to Me." Perry Askam and Josephine Houston.

Mason, Bdwy. nr. 1st—"Rah, Rah Daze." Reviewed in today's Times.

Mission Play, San Gabriel—The beautiful annual pageant of the settling of California, up to its usual standard. With R. D. MacLean.

Music Box, 6126 Hollywood Blvd.—"Romantic Young Lady." A light, almost whimsical mood, is reached in this play by Martinez-Sierra. Two old ladies give charming portrayals.

Pasadena Community—"Spindrift." Reviewed in today's Times.

President, Bdwy. at 8th—"Your Uncle Dudley." Taylor Holmes plays a small-town character and indulges in some of his popular humor.

Vine-street, 1615 Vine—"Rope's End." A study of the perfect crime; excellently staged and portrayed by Noel Madison and Dwight Frye.

Hollywood in Japan Planned

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27. (AP)—After nearly two decades of stardom on American and European stages and in motion pictures, Sessue Hayakawa, Japanese actor, will sail from here on the liner Asama Maru Saturday to construct a "Hollywood in Japan."

He said, however, that his "Hollywood" will not include "the sensations, the morals and the theme songs of the cinema capital."

HUGE ROAD FUNDS BILL APPROVED

Colton Measure Aiming at $30,000,000 Building Aid Backed by Committee

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—The Colton bill, authorizing appropriation of $30,000,000 for Federal highway aid in the fiscal years 1931-1932-1933, was approved today by the House Public Roads Committee.

Under the measure $5,000,000 will be added to the sum already provided for 1931, while the remainder will be expended during the next two years.

In the expenditure of any amount more than $7,500,000 the Secretary of Agriculture, who will administer the funds, will be required to give preference to projects on highway systems already receiving Federal aid.

Smith Offers to Serve as Steel Strike Mediator

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith revealed today that he had offered to arbitrate between the Structural Steel Board of Trade and the Iron and Steel Workers' Union in difficulties in Chicago, Newark, N. J., and Cincinnati.

He said the board of trade already had accepted his offer and that he is awaiting an answer to a telegram which he sent to P. J. Moran, president of the union.

Mr. Smith denied rumors of a sympathetic strike of steel workers on the Empire State Building—the 1000-foot skyscraper which is going up on the site of the old Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Alumni Hear Wickersham

PHILADELPHIA, March 27. (AP)—The most important work of the law is the solution of equations between human restraint and human liberty, George W. Wickersham, chairman of President Hoover's Commission on Law Enforcement, declared tonight in addressing the alumni society of the University of Pennsylvania law school.

"But for the law there would be no liberty and but for restraint there would be no freedom," he said.

ARE YOU A VICTIM OF PYORRHEA?

PYORRHEA is a very common and very dangerous disease of the mouth. It has been estimated that eighty out of every one hundred adults in the United States suffer to some extent from pyorrhea.

The time to check pyorrhea is in its early stages. When the gums look bluish-red and swollen, and bleed easily, that is the time to visit the dentist.

From pyorrhea, pus forms around the teeth which causes bad breath and poisons one's food. The tonsils also may be infected, and the pus flowing into the stomach also causes ulcers and other stomach diseases. Neglect of pyorrhea is certain to cause the loss of all your teeth.

Even at late stages the dentist can help you very much.

If you have any suspicious signs of pyorrhea visit a dentist using the Parker System at once. He will make no charge for examination and will tell you whether or not you have pyorrhea or some other trouble. Dentists who use the Parker System are all fully qualified to save your teeth if they can be saved. You will also find their fees for work are surprisingly low.

UNION AGENT ACCUSED BY PAVING MAN

Council Committee Hears Protest Against Licensing Ditch-Machine Operators

The Building and Safety Committee of the City Council yesterday afternoon took under advisement the effort of several union labor agents to have an amendment to the licensing law adopted requiring operators of ditch-diggers and paving machines to take out licenses.

This action was taken after a hearing, during which E. R. Werdin, president of the Los Angeles Paving Company, declared that L. A. Parker, union business agent, had been accused in a criminal complaint of intimidating, threatening and coercing the paving company employees.

Parker, who was present, denied any information of a criminal warrant having been issued against him. He admitted, however, when questioned by Werdin, that he had called off Werdin's employees in the midst of a job because one nonunion man was at work.

In addition to Werdin, several contractors and engine builders addressed the committee, pointing out the uselessness of placing the ditch-diggers and pavers under the license law. They demanded of Parker to explain the difference between forcing this scheme upon such workers and upon the ordinary automobile driver. Parker did not answer, but one of his companions said the danger was in the lack of a starter on the trenching machines.

The substance of Parker's argument was that injuries to workers might be reduced if the union-proposed amendment was passed.

FEDERAL JUDGE CRITICIZES JURY

Divided Verdict Rendered in Liquor Trial

Two Defendants Convicted and Others Freed

Court Declares Prohibition Law Here to Stay

"One of the disgraces of our country is the growing disregard of law and legal restrictions," said United States District Judge Killits of Toledo, now sitting in Federal court here, yesterday, when a jury in the case of Nick Bruno and three others, accused of violations of the national prohibition act, returned a verdict finding only two of the defendants guilty.

The court reprimanded the jury, saying that he felt that a jury of judges, "experienced in the wiles of bootleggers," would have found all four defendants guilty from the evidence adduced during the seven days of the trial. The four, Nick Bruno, Peter Connley, alias Walker; Herman Quirin and Joe Verda, were accused of operating a still, the largest in California, on Bruno's ranch near Elsinore. Bruno and Verda were acquitted and Connley was found guilty of one count of conspiracy and five other counts and Quirin was found guilty of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act.

CANADA SYSTEM FAILS

During his discussion of the verdict, Judge Killits, who is 72 years of age and has been on the bench many years, referred to the Canadian system of government control of liquor, saying he does not believe that type of restriction would be effective in the United States. He added that the Ontario system is a failure.

"The one way in which this problem can be solved is by the rousing of the middle-class public opinion into action," said the court.

"The court is not surprised at your divided verdict. But I believe that you would be justified in finding all defendants guilty of conspiracy at least.

"It is a peculiar fact that in practically every case of this kind there is a 'mysterious stranger.' In Ohio there is a large quantity of mysterious things, too.

STATES FAVOR LAW

"There is only one way," continued the judge, "in which the prohibition law can be taken out of the Constitution. That is by the Legislature, not the people, by the Legislature, in thirty-six States voting to take it out. That is impossible. I feel sure your own State would not vote for its repeal and I don't think Ohio would. I know Indiana, Kentucky and many other Southern States would not. Now that it is in, the question is what to do with it. We don't want the Canadian system.

"For a number of years I put in from ten to twelve weeks each year in Canada. I want to say the government control, as in Ontario, is a failure. There is no doubt about it. Last year, while in Toronto, in one issue of the Toronto Star I saw where thirty-six drunks appeared in one Police Court. Some blame it on the Americans discharging their personal liberty. I want to say that I have seen a great many Canadian drivers drunk, but no Americans. You can't mix gasoline and alcohol.

DESTRUCTION ORDERED

"The fever in which this country is being developed, the way in which alien races are being assimilated, have much to do with the unrest. The liquor problem has materially contributed to the unrest. I don't lose any opportunity to plead . . . but the problem must be

ACTION FOR REMOVAL OF HYDE TAKEN

Commissioner of Public Works Said to be Holding Office Illegally

Formal notice that Public Works Commissioner Hyde is holding office illegally, and an order to withhold his salary, were given President McGuire of the Board of Public Works, City Controller Myers and City Treasurer Powell yesterday by Attorney Ernest E. Noon, for Walter J. Niederer, secretary of the J. Niederer Company, cabinetmakers, 3409 South Main street.

The notice, Attorney Noon explained, is preliminary to the filing of quo warranto proceedings before the Attorney-General.

The basis of the attack upon Hyde's position is the fact that he formally, with a written notice, resigned December 21, last, to take effect January 1, but has continued to hold the office, according to the complainant, in an illegal manner.

Commissioner Hyde was one of the first appointees of Mayor Porter and was regarded as the "star" of the administration. He announced his resignation three months ago and then said that he had notified Mayor Porter that he would continue to exercise the functions of the office. Hyde was out of town yesterday. Mayor Porter said Hyde had verbally retracted his resignation. He added that he is pleased with Hyde's work and, if ousted, will reappoint him.

City Attorney Werner yesterday would not venture an opinion as to the effect of the charge. It is regarded as improbable, however, in the event Hyde is ousted, that all acts of the board since January 1 can be overturned, it being pointed out that Hyde, even if holding office illegally, is an officer de facto.

PORT TOPS INTERCOAST TRADE LIST

Los Angeles Shipments Put New York in Second Place for Fiscal Year

Intercoastal commerce of Los Angeles Harbor during the year ending June 30, 1929, was greater than that of New York by a margin of 419,301 long tons, it is revealed in the annual report of the United States Shipping Board, copies of which reached this city yesterday. Marked by a considerable increase over that of the previous fiscal year the volume of eastbound and westbound commerce of this port totaled 4,212,173 long tons, as against 3,792,872 long tons for New York.

Eastbound shipments out of Los Angeles were greater than the combined shipments of San Francisco Bay (which embraces Oakland and Richmond,) Portland, Seattle and Tacoma, with 350,000 tons to spare. Figures for the principal ports of the Pacific Coast follow:

EASTBOUND

Port—	Long tons
Los Angeles	2,880,743
San Francisco	1,357,984
Grays Harbor	462,880
Portland	434,411
Everett	419,072
Seattle	379,962
Tacoma	342,046

WESTBOUND

Port—	Long tons
Los Angeles	1,332,430
San Francisco	1,033,890
Seattle	297,359
Portland	202,103

New York, the report shows, led Los Angeles in eastbound shipping by only 241,556 tons, and was far below it in point of westbound com-

Barber Head Denies Price Backsliding

If barbers in Los Angeles are sliding back from the price of 35 cents for a shave, established in January, to the old price of 25 cents they are not members of the Master Barbers' Association, according to President Henry Guio.

"Our association includes about 400 barbers in Los Angeles," Guio said, "and of that number 90 per cent put the 10-cent increase into effect in January. The other 10 per cent did not raise the price because of near-by nonmember competition.

"Of the 90 per cent of our membership which increased the price, not more than ten shops quit 35 cents to go down to 25 cents, and four or five of them have gone back up again.

"We believe the level of barber shop service and standards of living justify and demand a 35-cent price for a shave, and call upon the public to help us make barber shops more sanitary, better in every way and to make the barber a more prosperous citizen."

TALL OFFICE STRUCTURE TO BE BUILT

Height-Limit Building Will be Erected on Figueroa Near Fifth Street

Announcement of a height-limit office and store building to be constructed on the west side of Figueroa street, between Fifth and Sixth streets, was made yesterday by Shore Brothers Company, Figueroa-street realty brokers.

Frank Good, heading a group of eastern capitalists, recently purchased the site, which has a frontage of 120 feet and a depth of 165 feet and preliminary sketches of the building have been completed by Walker & Eisen, architects. Preliminary plans call for a thirteen-story structure of modern, straight-line design.

Further work on the plans is being held in abeyance pending a decision by an eastern corporation to lease several floors of the building.

First Session of Dedication Ceremonies Held

Delegates from Many Lands Attend Gathering

Importance of Institution Told by Speakers

Significant of the importance of the event and indicative of its far-reaching effect, an assemblage of eminent educators, scientists, college and university presidents which filled Josiah Royce Hall gathered yesterday afternoon for the first session of the two-day dedication ceremonies of the campus and buildings of the University of California at Los Angeles.

One hundred and sixty-eight official delegates from universities and colleges throughout the country and a number of foreign ones, as well as scores of especially invited educators and students in many lines, made as impressive a gathering of men, each pre-eminent in his particular field, as the Westwood campus is apt to witness in many years. In greeting them, Prof. Earle R. Hedrick, chairman of the faculty committee on the dedication, presiding, said that "it augurs well for the future of this institution that these men, like high priests of learning, have come to advise and bless us in these ceremonies."

Two other sessions similar to the opening one took place last night and this morning and this afternoon at 2 o'clock the final part of the formal dedication will take place with the presentation of the buildings and campus to the Governor of California, who will accept them in the name of the people of the State.

PRESENTATION TODAY

At this service President William Wallace Campbell of the University of California will preside. Following an invocation by Dr. Carl S. Patton, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Los Angeles, the formal presentation will be made by William Henry Crocker, chairman of the Board of Regents of the university. In the absence of Gov. Young, the acceptance will be made by Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan. There will be addresses by George Edgar Vincent, former president of the Rockefeller Foundation, and Dr. Ernest Carroll Moore, director of the University of California at Los Angeles.

In his introductory remarks at yesterday's ceremonies, Prof. Hedrick said:

"All dedication is of the souls of men. There is no thing nor name nor ideal that has meaning that can be dedicated to a cause, save only God, without the conscious intention of living men to carry out that cause, to be themselves dedicated to it; there is no dedication that is not miscarried unless it be confirmed and hallowed by the devoted acts of men throughout the years to come. So be it, God willing, here.

SPEAKERS PRAISED

"What better reason for the ceremony and circumstance which we shall conduct here than the establishment by the State of California, aided by this great community which surrounds us, of this plant, that there may be conducted in it what is to be forevermore, and increasingly throughout the years, a seat of learning?"

The speakers of the afternoon Prof. Hedrick described as men whose lives and works illustrate the one aim of a true university—the increase of human knowledge. Of Dr. Arthur Holley Compton, professor of physics, University of Chicago, who spoke on "The Relation of Physical Science to Philosophical Thought," he said:

"He towers above the crowd by virtue of his original discoveries. Throughout all the scientific world his name and his work are known, and will be forever, for he has increased amazingly the world store of knowledge."

Dr. Compton spoke of a remark recently made by Dr. Robert A. Millikan to the effect that man's greatest discovery of all time is that

by Harry Carr

THERE is something about Mexico that goes straight to your heart. The minute I cross the border a feeling of peace and sweet contentment goes greasing over my troubled soul.

I love even the smells . . . the dulce sellers wandering down the street with tables on their heads, the melancholy sweet old eyes that look shyly out from the black rebozas, the little newsboys who offer you papers (which you can't read) with appealing dark eyes that haunt you . . .

No one is in a hurry; you get there when you get there, and it doesn't matter much either one way or the other.

A LOVELY BARTENDER

Even the bar-rooms have a charm.

The boy behind the bar had a gentle eager courtesy. He was really worried for fear you might have preferred Nogales beer to the Hermosillo brew.

When you asked the Mexican street players who wandered in to sing "Cielito Lindo," the barkeeper sang it with them in a charming voice; and almost leaped over the bar to tell them to play "Amapola del Camino" for the señor, because he said it was such a lovely little song about a poppy growing by the roadside.

COWBOY IN GOLF SOCKS

I think nearly all Americans in a foreign country instinctively hate one another on sight.

There was that shrimp from New York who came in from one of the dude ranches. He was gotten up to outdo "Daredevil Dick, the King of the Cowboys;" but under his rolled-up overalls he had on a pair of ornate golf stockings. We looked at him as though he were a worm who was not even worth the trouble of stepping on, and he looked back as though to inquire as to whether it was any of our damn business.

COFFEE A LA PUNK

A fresh hotel waiter brought us the wrong thing. We gave him a dirty look and walked out as though to say: "Oh, well, you are too dumb to get it right, so give me the check and don't strain your brain by trying."

Then we went down the street where a little Mexican woman served us the vilest coffee ever poured into a human stomach, and we had to stand out in the rain on the sidewalk while she set the table—the place being so small. And we loved it.

CHARM

The reason you forgive these people everything is the charm that is in everything they do and say.

One night we went to a dinner given by a Mexican Mayor. One of the greatest judges in Mexico was there. He sang Mexican songs at the top of his voice. When some one told a little joke he furiously rubbed his little hands together and jumped up.

ERENDUM QUIZ GROWS

More Bell Petition Circulators Called for Questioning on False Names of twenty additional Bell cement ordinance referendary petition were yesterday given to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Moses and will in for questioning regarding false signatures and forged names to have been turned in by them. With the twenty-six hereto as being subject to questioning, the total now is forty-six.

As before, the names were turned in by W. J. Mosher, private investigator for Mayor Porter, following a survey of the petitions which are now in the hands of City Clerk Dominguez.

QUIZ RESULT NOT GIVEN

The result of the questioning of the twenty-six petition circulators, whose names were given Deputy Moses Wednesday, was not made public yesterday. They were to be interrogated as to the hundreds of assertedly forged and fictitious names, which were found on the petitions when checked by the City Clerk.

"Two men appeared here this afternoon and connected the names of others not heretofore mentioned," Moses said. "We attempted to find Jack Steele, but we were told by relatives that he had left the State. He may return and when he does we will summon him to this office."

Steele will be questioned regarding the asserted circulation of petitions for the referendary and which it is said by Arthur Weber of the Home Zone Protective Association, were never filed.

City Clerk Dominguez will have

AS A general thing, at 7 o'clock of an evening there is a queue of men eager to collect on the day's races or "get down" on the next day's before the grilled cage in Doc Dorothy's pool room at Butte, Mont.

On this night, for some reason or other, there was none. Doc himself lounged on the counter behind the grill, idly shuffling a stack of silver dollars with his left hand.

"Oh, George," he called across the room to a man studying a blackboard on the wall. "I've got just one ticket on the Agua Caliente Sweepstakes left in this book and it's an even ten—70-FF."

"Funny," said George. "I was just thinking about that sweepstakes. I'll take it."

Six weeks later George Fischer of Butte, Mont., was notified by telegram that he had drawn Victorian in the Agua Caliente classic.

"Funny," said George. "I had a hunch I was going to hit somewhere on that ticket. Guess I'll go down and see that race."

So George was hanging over a rail at Agua Caliente when Victorian came home ahead, carrying $51,750 for George on an aristocratic equine nose.

"Funny," said George. "I never won anything before."

Incidentally, George had just lost a $2 bet—the price of the one

WESTERN SCHOOLS PRAISED

Drs. Dewey, Barnes, Here for U.C.L.A. Dedication, Note Freedom from Traditional Handicaps

Dr. John Dewey, philosopher and member of Columbia University faculty, who is here to attend dedication ceremonies at the University of California at Los Angeles, said yesterday at the Chapman Park Hotel that California schools are freer from tradition and routine than eastern schools, and that "California is more willing to start new things, to undertake educational experiments, than the East."

"It might be added, also," he said, "that California schools are closer to the people and their needs than are the Eastern schools."

VIEW SUPPORTED

This view found a hearty supporter in Dr. Albert C. Barnes, founder and head of the Barnes Foundation of Meriam, Pa., a fellow-traveler of Dr. Dewey.

"The relative freedom of the West, as against the effete conditions of the East, will be a great help in putting education on a sound basis," said Dr. Barnes. "I find less snobbery, less worship of social traditions, of social counterfeits here than in the East."

Both Dr. Barnes and Dr. Dewey expressed themselves as being of the opinion that progressive ideas are gradually gaining ground. Among the obstacles in the path of educational progress, it was observed, are political entanglements involving the educational systems. With the removal of such complicating factors, it was further declared, the road will be cleared for vast improvement.

RUDDER BLAMED IN AIR TRAGEDY

Inquest Jury Gives Verdict on Beery Plane Crash

Ship Declared Used Without Permission of Owner

Witnesses Describe Mishap That Took Three Lives

Failure of the rudder and fin equipment on the plane owned by Wallace Beery, film actor, sent the ship crashing to the earth in a wash off Valley Boulevard last Monday, with a toll of three lives, a Coroner's jury found yesterday at an inquest at the Coroner's office.

Witnesses included investigating officers, experts and others. The jury reached the verdict that in its belief George Maves, 24 years of age, pilot in the employ of Beery, was piloting the ship and was operating it without the permission or consent of the owner. Maves, his wife, Cynthia Darneille Maves, 22, and Linville Haydon Hayes, 28, also a pilot, riding in the plane with him, were instantly killed.

BOLT BELIEVED CAUSE

Questioned by Deputy Coroner Monmort, Deputy Sheriff Morgan of the Sheriff's aviation detail and Charles N. James, assistant superintendent in charge of flying personnel of the Western Air Express and an eye-witness, expressed the belief that the crash occurred as the result of a bolt attached to the rear portion of the ship snapping. The bolt was exhibited and showed that a hole had been bored through it to hold a cotter pin.

Beery testified that on the previous day he had taken the ship, apparently in the best of condition, in the air for a flight, that it had been inspected on the 18th inst. by the United States Department of Commerce and a new license issued for a trip he contemplated making to Mexico. He asserted that he had not given Maves permission to take up passengers.

PLUNGE DESCRIBED

Alexander Feher, 1407 Garfield avenue; Freeman L. Wood, 104 East Valley Boulevard, and others told of seeing the plane plunge to the earth.

S. J. Burns, mechanic of the United Airport, testified that Maves, his wife and Hayes took off from the airport about 10 a.m. the morning of the accident. Time of the accident was set at approximately 1:32½ p.m. by a watch of Maves which was identified at the hearing by Beery. The motion-picture actor was represented by C. O. Bacon, attorney.

FRENCH PLAY WILL BE PRESENTED AT U.C.L.A.

Rostand's play, "Cyrano de Bergerac," will be presented by the French department of the University of California at Los Angeles, April 4 at 8:15 p.m. in Royce Hall Auditorium on the campus. It is to be given entirely in French. The role of Cyrano will be enacted by M. Briola, who made a success of "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" last year.

PIONEER TO BE BURIED TOMORROW

M. K. Chandler, Who Came West in 1882, Will Rest in Evergreen Cemetery

Moses K. Chandler, pioneer who died Wednesday at his ranch home near Burbank, will be laid at rest in Evergreen Cemetery tomorrow following funeral services at 10:30 a.m. in the Roscoe Community Church, three miles north of Burbank.

The obsequies will be conducted by Rev. Miles G. Nelson and Dr. Don Nichols. Mr. Chandler's grandsons, Ralph J. Chandler, Norman Chandler, Harry Dennis, Fred Dennis, Harrison Chandler and Philip Chandler, will be the pallbearers.

Mr. Chandler, who would have observed his ninety-fourth birthday anniversary next month, came to Southern California in 1882 from Landaff, N. H., his birthplace, where he taught school and operated a lumber mill. He came in search of health and remained until his death, living uninterruptedly on the ranch he purchased shortly after his arrival. In 1927 the homestead was the scene of a family reunion in celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Chandler's sixty-fifth wedding anniversary. The couple were married at Landaff in August, 1862. Mrs. Chandler was Emma Little of Landaff.

Mr. Chandler leaves his widow, Mrs. Emma J. Chandler; three sons, Harry Chandler of Los Angeles, Lee Chandler of Burbank, and Fred Chandler of Riverside; one daughter, Mrs. David Lewis of San Fernando; fifteen grandchildren and twenty-one great-grandchildren.

Truck Runs Away With Blind Rider

A motor truck ran wild yesterday with a blind man its sole passenger, crashing into a parked car and then into a house.

Albion St. Cyr, 32 years of age, 3500 London street, the sightless man, sat in the truck, used for collecting papers and clothing for an institution for the blind, as it was left standing on a grade on Maltman street near Ellsworth street. While the driver, Raymond P. Hoffman, 4429 Andrita street, was inquiring at a near-by house door the truck coasted down grade. After coasting 300 feet it struck a parked car owned by S. L. Temple, 116 West Sixty-sixth street.

St. Cyr was hurled off and the truck climbed the curb and jammed against a building. The blind man's right leg was broken and he was cut and bruised. He was treated at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

Listing of Nation's Population Begins

First Census Enumerator Starts Work Here
Mrs. Rose Wardlaw, census enumerator, and Matthew P. Adams, State executive Secretary of Children's Home Society of California.

CENSUS TAKERS SET TO GO

First Enumerator in County Started Yesterday, While Others Prepare to Launch Task Wednesday

What probably was the first enumeration in Los Angeles county under the fifteenth decennial census of the United States took place yesterday in spite of the fact that the official census does not begin until next Wednesday. Supervisor A. C. Munson of Central District, No. 17, had Mrs. Rose Wardlaw sworn in as a special field assistant and dispatched her to enumeration Precinct No. 294, which is the Children's Home Society, 919 East Twenty-fifth street, to take its census. She is expected to complete her work today.

This preliminary move, Alva Synder, assistant to Munson, explained, was made to give Mrs. Wardlaw some first-hand experience along with the "paper work" she has been doing in preparation for the official opening next Wednesday. She is to have headquarters in the central office, Chamber of Commerce Building, during the two weeks duration of the census enumeration so that she can be dispatched at once to any precinct in the district where any of the 308 enumerators may have encountered difficulty. Mrs. Wardlaw formerly was engaged in social work here.

Supervisor Clarence L. Kincaid of District No. 16, which includes the western part of the city and county, was busy at district headquarters, 5427 Santa Monica Boulevard, yesterday schooling members of his class of 306 enumerators. Mrs. Kincaid, who is assisting him, said they wish it known that they have been swamped with applications for positions as enumerators and can not possibly use more.

"We have a good body of enumerators, they are being thoroughly trained and we will be all ready to go when Wednesday morning comes," Kincaid said.

Clyde V. Berglund of Santa Monica has been appointed, Munson announced, special irrigation field agent and will supervise the handling of irrigation district information taken by regular enumerators among ranchers. Most of the larger irrigation organizations, about 600 in number, have received blanks directly from the Census Bureau in Washington and after filling them out returned them. However, there are perhaps 1000 irrigation bodies that include only four or less ranchers and it is the acquisition of this information especially, Berglund said, that he will look after. He has headquarters in Munson's office.

Somewhat similar activities are proceeding in the offices of Supervisor C. E. Chenowith of District No. 15, 311 East Broadway, Glendale, which includes the northern part of the city and county; Supervisor Thomas G. De Goudres of District No. 19, 316 Pacific Southwest Building, Long Beach, which includes the southern part of the city and county. Supervisor W. E. Ballentine of District No. 13, 301 Citizens' National Bank Building, Monrovia, which includes the eastern part of the city and county.

Teachers in the public schools have received requests from the Washington bureau to inform pupils of the census and to have the children take the news home to their parents.

President Hoover's proclamation calling on the population to assist in the census taking has been printed on posters in many different languages, including Chinese, Bohemian, Danish, and others. The posters will be displayed in many places.

The Chamber of Commerce yesterday broadcast an appeal to merchants and manufacturers coming under the biennial census applicable to them to rush their filled-out questionnaires to the Washington bureau. This census has been under way for some weeks and is entirely separate from the census of population, unemployment and agriculture which will begin on Wednesday and continues two weeks.

GRACEFUL TURNDOWN

There were three of the street minstrels. One was a sad, thin little man who had a gay butterfly painted on his guitar; another was a wan boy with a dimple in one cheek and startling black eyes; the third was a fat peon who got sleepy, yawned, but sang right along, anyhow.

Would they sing "Estrellita" for me? Of a ciertamente, senor. And then they proceeded to sing something else.

SPRING TERM TO OPEN

With two new members added to the teaching staff the spring term at the Civic Center branch of the University of Southern California's school of citizenship and public administration will open Monday at 6:10 p.m. The schedule embraces twenty-four evening classes in engineering, governmental finance, police administration and kindred subjects. The new instructors are Asst. Atty.-Gen. Richards and George Leigh Rodgers, surveyor and engineer.

LUCK SURPRISES WINNER OF RACE

ticket he held on the sweepstakes—on the race preceding the classic.

Aside from the fact that he won the Agua Caliente Sweepstakes, there is nothing unusual about George. He is a plain, quiet-spoken chap who has bumped over a lot of rough spots in the road. Mostly he has followed the mining game, not the promotion end, and he pretty well knows his pyrites and galena. When Lady Luck singled him out he was weighmaster at a Butte smelter. For eight years he was clerk at the Bixby Hotel here where he is now stopping, and is a member of the Greeters.

"Funny," said George yesterday, "but there's nothing you can say about me except that I won that sweepstakes. Nope, I'm not going back to the mines; I'm going to take it easy on the interest from that $51,750 and I know right now where I'm going to invest it. I wish you'd say something about that. Real estate and automobile salesmen are pestering me to death and I'm not in the market for anything—not even a bicycle.

"Sure I was offered plenty for my ticket before the race was run. One fellow offered me $1000 and then $2500 but I had a hunch when I got that telegram and I figured I'd stay with it."

George is going up on a ranch for a vacation as soon as he gets the $51,750 invested in the spot he has already picked out, after which he'll come back to Los Angeles and take things easy.

He is 51 years of age, a bachelor, and he is not looking for a wife.

PRAISE GIVEN COAST SCHOOLS

Dewey forecast the time when practically everybody will have a high-school education and a large part of the population a college education.

Dr. Dewey said that in considering the religious situation in Russia it should be remembered that the Russian church was a branch of the Czar's regime and was corrupt.

Dr. Barnes said that with the liberation of education from the carryover of past ages, great progress would be made.

Dr. Dewey is on his first trip to Los Angeles and expressed himself as charmed. Dr. Barnes was impressed with the growth of Los Angeles since his last visit here some years ago. They leave Sunday night for the East. Dr. Dewey will speak today at U.C.L.A. on "Philosophy and Education."

Speedboat Loses Race With Train

Fourteen hours and twenty-nine minutes out of San Francisco for Los Angeles, the A-2343, a thirty-eight-foot seagoing speedster, piloted by Harry C. Wilson, arrived inside the breakwater at Los Angeles Harbor last night at 9:22 o'clock. The sea-going speedboat left the Golden Gate at 6:53 a.m. in an attempt to beat the twelve-hour running time of the Southern Pacific's Daylight Limited between the two cities. Wilson held the steering wheel all the way. His engineers were Edward Offutt and A. O. Leavitt. All were local speedboat hull and engine manufacturers. A crowd of 300 persons awaited the fast boat's arrival at the California Yacht Club landing.

he can rely upon the world in which he lives. Dr. Compton declared that this principle has not been won without a struggle and in his address he recalled the history of its acceptance, considered what the new physics has to say regarding the reliability of the world and declared that in the advancement of science lies the hope of the future of civilization.

PROF. THOMPSON SPEAKS

"The science based upon this faith in the reliability of the world has certainly brought about a great change in the mode of life in the western world," he said, "and it would seem that this change is an improvement. We are freed from the fear of the anger of whimsical gods and we laugh at the threats of black magic. Seeing that man already has done to adapt his world to his needs, we have the great vision of man as the master of his own destiny, and, unconsciously, we plan to make the future better than the past. Thus the belief in a reliable world is making us to a large extent, the masters rather than the slaves of nature."

Described as a man who stands out pre-eminent in all the world as a skillful master of presenting facts of science, Prof. John Arthur Thomson, regius professor of natural history from the University of Aberdeen, Scotland, next spoke on "Biology and Human Life."

Declaring that the University of California at Los Angeles by reason of its strategic position, has acquired the responsibility of being the chief organizing ganglion of research and higher learning for the whole surrounding region, and that from the biological viewpoint, the university is eminently fortunate by its proximity to the local museums, botanic gardens, experimental stations and natural fields for research.

GIRLS SERVE TEA

"The place," he said, "is auspicious, and so is the time. For biology is in the first chapter of a new volume, in which it is being more definitely oriented toward human enlightenment and 'the relief of man's estate.' Our slogan today is biology in the service of man.

"In this respect biology strengthens man's hands, as when it shows him how to improve his races of domesticated animals and cultivated plants, perhaps even himself, or leads him to further victory over the ills his flesh is heir to and in countless other ways.

"It enlightens his mind, making the world of life more intelligible. It scatters the clouds of ignorance and superstition and shows us a blue sky, and lastly, biology is beginning to render this further service to mankind, that it strikes an ethical note. From the study of living creatures, man finds increasing guidance to help him in the conduct of his own affairs—warnings against taking things too easily, against luxury and sheltered existence, against overpopulation against letting the body rule the mind and numerous other things. At the same time it offers encouragement in fully as many directions, so that it may truly be claimed for biology that it is a lamp to man's feet and a light to his path."

Following the meeting, girls of the student body of the university served tea in a lounge in Royce Hall to the visiting delegates. During the morning student directors took the visitors through the building and around the campus and a student committee also has arranged transportation for all of the delegates and their wives to take them to and from all sessions of the dedication to their hotels. Dr. Moore will be their host today at a luncheon at the Bel-Air Country Club.

A crowd which filled Royce Hall was present at the dedication program last night.

Dean Walter Morris Hart, vice-president of the university, acted as chairman and music was provided by the A Cappella Choir. Three-minute talks were given by a number of delegates of other universities, all of whom were attired in scholastic cap and gown.

NOTABLES SPEAK

Among notables from California universities and other institutions of learning were Dr. Rufus Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California; Robert Eckles Swain, acting president of Stanford University; Dr. William Bennett Munro, California Institute of Technology, who also represented Harvard University and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences; Edwin Powell Hubble, astronomer of Mt. Wilson Observatory, representing the University of Oxford; Susan M. Dorsey, retired superintendent of Los Angeles public schools, representing Vassar College; Rev. Joseph Sullivan, president of Loyola College, and several others.

Sir Joseph W. Flavelle, LL.D., of the University of Toronto, in a brief talk, declared that the cordial relations existing between the United States and Canada are proof that two distinct nations, with only an imaginary border separating them, can get along amicably. He suggested that the example might be studied to advantage by warring European nations which are almost incessantly at war.

Extending the greetings of the University of Louvain, Rev. Thomas K. Gorman expressed sincere gratitude to the University of California for its important part in the work of rehabilitating his Alma Mater when it was virtually destroyed some years ago. Louvain is profoundly grateful to all the American colleges and universities which responded in its hour of need.

SPEAKS IN LATIN

Sir John Adams, delegate from the University of London, paid tribute to the progressive spirit of Los Angeles, pointing out that it is crystallized to a remarkable degree in the new and splendid university just completed. In accordance with the custom of the London institution, his formal message of greeting was delivered in Latin. Dean Hart replied likewise.

Dr. Wallace Walter Atwood, president of Clark University, likened the occasion to that when the Wise Men of the East were attracted by a bright star in the West, adding that the Los Angeles university, which already has achieved great things, is in reality only beginning its career.

Lucien N. Brunswig, delegate from the Académie Universitaire de Paris, gave a brief history of that institution, one of the oldest in the world, having been founded in October, 1253, by Robert de Sorbon, whose own struggles during ten years' study of theology convinced him of the dire need of a place where students might find help. The university was launched in quarters donated by King Louis IX of France and his Queen, and in modern times has been called "the mother of universities."

No Good Poker Games Here, So She Goes Back North, Husband Complains

Sam Halpin divorced his wife, Hilda, in Superior Judge Fleming's court yesterday, because, he said, she is a poker fiend.

"When we lived in San Francisco, she sat up all night to play poker," said Halpin. "Then we moved to Los Angeles, and when she couldn't find a good game here, she left me and went back north. She said Los Angeles is too slow."

sent out 6000 letters of inquiry by this morning to persons whose names appear on the petitions but who have not been counted as o.k., for several asserted legal reasons. An opinion on six of these reasons for rejection of signatures, will be submitted to the City Clerk today by City Attorney Werner, it was said at the City Hall yesterday. The City Clerk, following the decision, will be armed with legal opinions on which he will make a full canvass of the returns from the letters sent out.

He has been restrained, however, from reporting his findings to the City Council by reason of an injunction suit started by Wilke Woodard, a Bell engineer. The writ is returnable April 3 before Judge Doran of the Superior Court.

Connley and Quirin are to appear on Monday for sentence. Verda and Bruno were released. Judge Killits ordered that the large still, the alcohol, the mash and motors used in the liquor making be destroyed, "by dynamite if necessary."

After being discharged several of the jurors said there was no evidence that connected Verda and Bruno with operation of the liquor plant.

KANSAS GOVERNOR TO VISIT AIRPORTS

On a tour of airports in Southern California which he declares are models for the building of others in various sections of the country, Gov. Clyde M. Reed of Kansas will be escorted on a special flight by Lieutenant H. H. Ogden, round-the-world flyer, and a party of notables, today. Before starting the flight in Lieut. Ogden's "Ogden-Osprey" plane, from the municipal airport this morning, Gov. Reed will witness a test flight to be made by Capt. Frank Hawks, in the glider in which he will attempt a flight to New York. In the Governor's party on the tour of airports will be Judge F. C. Trigg, C. M. Matson, A. W. Poole, manager of the aviation department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and Lieut. Ogden.

SEVERAL PROJECTS FINALLY APPROVED

The City Council yesterday adopted the final ordinances for the improvement of the Bundy Drive and Norman Place district, the improvement of the Hyler avenue and Langdale avenue district, the improvement of Union Pacific avenue from Esperanza to Velasco streets, the improvement of Glendon avenue from Wilshire Boulevard to Wentworth avenue, the installation of lighting appliances in Echo Park avenue between Sunset Boulevard and Temple street and the installation of lighting appliances in Stanley avenue from San Vicente to Pico boulevards.

OPOSSUM LANDS IN CALABOOSE

Stray Beast "Locked Up For Trespassing In Rear Yard Shed

After receiving a call from an excited householder that a wild animal had taken possession of a shed at the rear of 3240 Garden avenue early last night, it was with some trepidation that police officers approached the building. Opening the door sufficiently wide to direct a beam from his flashlight into the dark interior, Patrolman Blackwell of Central division discovered, resting on some sacking in a corner, a marsupial quadruped, otherwise known as an opossum.

The wild beast was taken in captivity to Central Police Station.

Will Fighters Charge Insanity

The state of Mrs. Cecilia Mossin's mind just before she died at the age of 80 years, leaving $150,000 to the mother superior of St. Vincent's Hospital, was not as peaceful as it might be, according to the testimony of her niece, Florence Henry, who took the stand in Superior Judge McDaniel's court yesterday.

"Mrs. Mossin used to get up at night and imagine she was directing a battle," Miss Henry said.

Nieces and nephews brought suit charging the aged decedent was insane when she made her will.

TAILOR SHOP THIEVES STEAL COSTLY CLOTH

Tunneling through the rear wall of a tailor shop at 1058 South Broadway, burglars early yesterday morning stole 100 bolts of cloth valued at $2400, according to E. Brockow, proprietor. After gaining entranse to the establishment the burglars opened a window and through this passed the bolts into an alley where they apparently had an automobile parked.

GLIDER WILL CAST LOOSE ABOVE CITY

Capt. Hawks to End Tow from San Diego Today in Spectacular Fashion

Angelenos who scan the skies above the metropolitan area at approximately 9:30 a.m. today are scheduled to witness the first glider to be cut loose from a towing airplane over Los Angeles.

Capt. Frank Hawks, holder of transcontinental nonstop air records, will be at the controls of his novel cabin glider Eaglet, in which he proposes later to be towed from here to New York City.

The glider is expected to take off at 8 a.m. today from Lindbergh Field, San Diego, behind the Waco biplane Texaco No. 7, piloted by J. D. Jernigin, Jr., and carrying Wallace Franklin, youthful designer and builder of the Eaglet.

Jernigin will tow Hawks with a 500-foot cable and Hawks will cast loose over the city at an altitude sufficient to allow an easy glide to Los Angeles Municipal Airport, Inglewood.

Hawks, who is 34 years of age today, will be met at the local airport by his mother, Mrs. Charles M. Hawks, and will celebrate his birthday tonight at the family residence, 2060 Whitley avenue, Hollywood.

At daybreak Sunday Hawks will take off behind Jernigin on the first attempt to cross the nation in a towed glider.

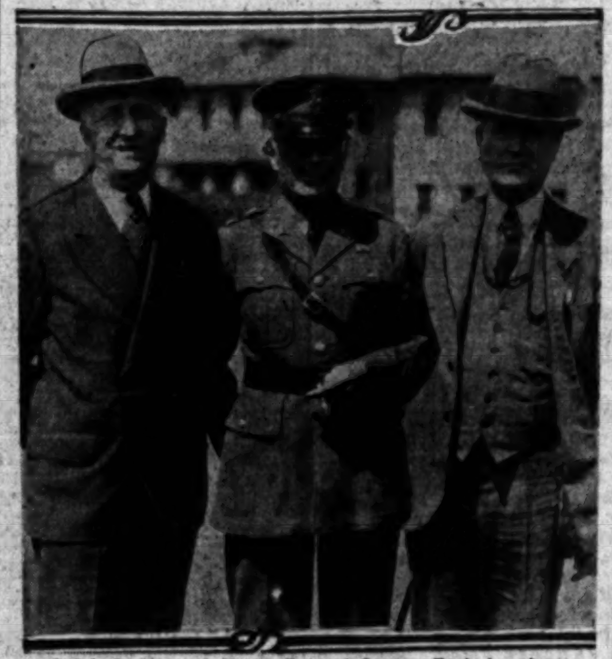
Financier Fined and Ordered to Jail for Usury

Found guilty of usury in connection with a loan made by him, Harold Fisch, official of the Fisch Finance Company, 254 South Broadway, was sentenced to serve sixty days in jail and to pay a fine of $500 by Municipal Judge Pope yesterday. Before imposing the sentence Judge Pope denied Fisch's motion for a new trial. Fisch gave oral notice of appeal from the sentence, on which the court set bail of $1000.

Deputy City Prosecutor Chotiner called Frank A. Stone and his wife, Mrs. Pauline Stone, 10607 Lou Dillon avenue, as witnesses against Fisch. They testified he accepted $30 interest from them on a $320 loan for two weeks. Stone recently was awarded triple interest against Fisch in a civil judgment arising out of the same transaction.

FORT MacARTHUR SURPRISED

Camouflage Hides Inspector-General



Quick Sortie and Hasty Retreat Leaves Post Agaping

Maj.-Gen. Hugh A. Drum, new Inspector-General for the Army (left,) inspects Fort MacArthur. Middle—Lieut.-Col. W. C. Waller, post commandant, and Col. D. P. Quinlan of the co-ordinator's office.

A QUICK sortie into Fort MacArthur and a hasty retirement, leaving the command gaping with the suddenness of the thrust, were accomplished peacefully yesterday morning by Maj.-Gen. Hugh A. Drum, new inspector-general of the Army.

He arrived from Washington by way of San Diego half an hour ahead of schedule and civilian attire permitted him to accomplish his mission before most of the command knew he was there. Gen. Drum was accompanied by Col. D. P. Quinlan of the co-ordinator's office, and was received by Lieut.-Col. C. W. Waller, post commandant.

"I was appointed inspector-general just a month ago," he explained, "and am merely familiarizing myself first hand with the different posts."

Asked about plans for fourteen huge railway rifles for California, he said they are indefinite due to lack of appropriations. The recent shift of the Sixty-third Coast Artillery, an antiaircraft regiment, to Fort MacArthur, he explained as in line with the Army's ideas of improved defense as well as better training.

Gen. Drum rose up through the infantry and was chief of staff for Pershing's fighting forces during the World War. He and Col. Quinlan left late yesterday for San Francisco.

Grandmother Gets Probation

Mrs. Lamberta Calderon, 80 years of age, convicted of possession and sale of liquor, was granted six months' probation by Municipal Judge MacCoy yesterday. In suspending a sentence of thirty days in jail and a $300 fine, Judge MacCoy provided that the Mexican woman's grand-daughter be responsible for her behavior.

Mrs. Calderon was found guilty of selling a pint of moonshine liquor to Ray Jordan, police operative, for $2 at her home, 2918 Pennsylvania avenue. Police Officers Frey and Hamrick, who arrested her, testified at her trial that they found six more pint bottles of liquor when they searched her home.

AGRICULTURISTS DISCUSS WATER

Use and Conservation of Rainfall Studied

Civil Engineer's Irrigation Committee Meets

Leaders in Five Fields Give Views on Problems

Agriculturists from all parts of California met yesterday at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to discuss research problems in the consumption of water and the conservation of rainfall, at the call of the local subcommittee of the irrigation division of the American Society of Civil Engineers. J. A. H. Kerr, vice-president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, opened the meeting.

This conference, which closes tonight, is divided into five parts, with discussions by irrigation research workers, forest research workers, engineers, agriculturists and foresters. Each group is represented at the conference by outstanding leaders.

During yesterday morning's session, papers were presented by Frank Adams, professor of irrigation investigations and practice, University of California, Berkeley; W. W. McLaughlin, associate chief, division of agricultural engineering, United States Department of Agriculture, and L. D. Batchelor, director citrus experiment station, University of California, Riverside. Dr. Batchelor's paper was read by Prof. S. H. Beckett. All of these papers dealt with various phases of experimental work in the consumption of water by different types of vegetation.

In the afternoon, C. L. Hill, California forestry experiment station, Berkeley; W. C. Lowdermilk, California forestry experiment station, Berkeley; Prof. A. W. Sampson, forestry division, University of California, Berkeley, and C. J. Kraebel, California forestry experiment station, Berkeley, read papers dealing with forest influences on water conservation.

Discussion of papers read during the morning was led by S. T. Harding, professor of irrigation, University of California, Berkeley, and W. R. Schoonover, citriculture specialist, University of California, Riverside. Afternoon discussion was in charge of Spence D. Turner, Los Angeles County Forester. General papers were read by F. E. Clements of the Carnegie Institute, Santa Barbara, and Prof. N. W. Cummings, San Bernardino Valley Union Junior College, San Bernardino.

The conference is being conducted under the direction of A. L. Sonderegger, chairman, subcommittee of the irrigation division, American Society of Civil Engineers.

STATE WANTS DAM SESSION

Willing to Meet Arizona and Nevada to Seek Pact, Says Bacon, Commission Chairman

California will be willing to meet with Arizona and Nevada and try to reach a tri-State agreement on the Colorado River problem if requested to do so, John L. Bacon, chairman of California's Colorado River commission, stated at the conclusion of a meeting the commission held in Los Angeles yesterday.

The members met to acquaint themselves formally with the terms of the recent power allocation agreed upon by the California groups interested in procuring Boulder Dam power. The commission is charged with making a settlement with the other States on the Colorado River problem, particularly as to the division of the waters of the river. The California commission has taken the position that the matter of power allocation is and should be in the hands of the Secretary of the Interior. Arizona, with the tacit support of at least some of the Upper Basin States, wants to make the power allocation and price the subject of an interstate compact.

CONGRATULATIONS SENT

Earl Pound and F. H. McIver of Imperial Valley and W. B. Mathews attended the meeting yesterday.

The Board of Water and Power Commissioners of the city, the Metropolitan Water District directors, and the Southern California Edison Company were congratulated by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce yesterday for the agreement the three groups arrived at recently on the allocation of power to be developed at Boulder Dam.

ARNOLL'S LETTER

A. G. Arnoll, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, sent the following letter to the heads of the three groups:

On behalf of the board of directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, I desire to convey to you its heartiest appreciation of and congratulations for the decisive and courageous manner in which all interests involved in Southern California reached the agreement with regard to the allocation of power to be generated by the dam in the Colorado River at Boulder Canyon.

We know that this presages an early completion of this important matter in the signing of the definite contracts now being negotiated.

You have rendered your community and the Southland a service of inestimable value.

METROPOLITAN WATER AID GROUP FORMS

Organization of the Metropolitan Water District Advancement Association was completed at a meeting of representatives of nearly a score of Southern California cities held at the Beverly Hills Hotel last night.

As explained by Paul Schwab, Mayor of Beverly Hills, who acted as toastmaster, the purposes of the organization is to acquaint officials of the cities of Southern California with the aims and operation of the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California. Officers of the new organization were elected as follows:

President, C. E. Kinlin, Mayor of Glendale; treasurer and secretary, J. W. Charleville, City Manager of Glendale, and vice-presidents, W. J. Sanborn, president of Los Angeles City Council, Joseph Long, Mayor of Riverside; Chris Campbell, Mayor of Alhambra; Herman Michaels, Mayor of Santa Monica.

There were talks by Mayor Porter of Los Angeles, W. P. Whitsett, chairman of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Water District; W. J. Carr, chairman of the State Railroad Commission, and Northcutt Ely, executive assistant to Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, who is in Los Angeles carrying on negotiations with local groups for Boulder Dam power.

The association will hold meetings once a month at various cities on the coastal plain.

SURVEY CLUB TO MEET

A joint meeting of the Survey Club of Los Angeles and the Los Angeles chapter of the American Association of Social Workers will be conducted April 2 at 6 p.m. at Windsor Tea Room, Brack-Shops. Justin Miller will speak on "The Place of the University in the Social Work Program."

Gas-Price War Still Unchecked

No change occurred yesterday in the so-called gasoline war, which started more than a week ago and caused the price of motor fuel to drop throughout California, according to officials of the major oil companies. Prices ranged from 10 cents to 16½ cents a gallon at filling stations.

Stations operated by the producers maintained a tank-truck price of 15½ cents and a retail price of 18½ cents a gallon. Independent dealers ranged their prices from 10 cents to 15½ cents a gallon and some of the stations gave a quart of oil with every ten gallons purchased.

Pasquale Bruno Found Guilty of Slaying Herrera

After a two days' trial before Superior Judge Fricke without a jury, Pasquale Bruno yesterday was convicted of second-degree murder.

Bruno was charged with fatally shooting Manuel Herrera, 42 years of age, on December 31, 1929, following a quarrel over Bruno's attentions to Herrera's daughter, Consuelo, 18. Sentence will be pronounced Monday, Judge Fricke ruled.

The shooting is asserted to have occurred at Herrera's home, 1009 Bartlett street. John Oliver, deputy District Attorney, prosecuted.

According to the daughter's testimony, her father ordered Bruno to leave the house. Bruno is asserted to have walked across the street and then opened fire on Herrera, who was standing on the lawn. Herrera collapsed, fatally wounded.

Rifling of Mail Laid to Desire to Find Family

In spite of a plea that he had extracted letters containing money from mail boxes in apartment houses in Long Beach, in order to obtain money to search for his wife and child, whom he has not seen since 1926, Alfred F. Cote was sentenced to five years at McNeil Federal prison yesterday by United States District Judge Killits. Cote had pleaded guilty.

Cote told the court, in a plea for probation, that in 1926 he and his wife agreed to a separation. He said there was another man in the case; that a Seattle millionaire had promised to finance a trip to Germany for his wife. In 1928, he said, he became lonesome for his wife and started a search for her, rifling mail boxes to finance the search.

MORE THAN 600 AT BAR GROUP MEETING

More than 600 persons attended the monthly meeting of the Los Angeles Bar Association last night at the Alexandria. A musical program was presented. Past presidents of the organization were honored guests. Henry W. O'Melveny, 1919 president, delivered an address in honor of the late ex-President Taft and William J. Hunsaker, 1904 president, spoke on the early days of the organization.

Today's Bible Text

All Israel shall be saved: as it is written, There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob: For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins.—Romans xi, 26, 27.

SO NEAR AND YET SO FAR

Those bull movements in Wall street, since the crash, remind one of the story of the frog trying to get out of the well.

LOSES EITHER WAY

Chicago wife wants a divorce because her husband failed to carry out his threat to commit suicide. Sort of a Hobson's choice for friend hubby.

GANGSTERS EXCEPTED

Crime statistics reveal that out of sixteen murders in Chicago, one person is apprehended for the offense. Probably the odd one of the Bryan ratio is not a racketeer.

REINFORCEMENTS

Charlie Chaplin does not stand alone in his battle for the silent movies. Thomas A. Edison is pulling for the old-fashioned shadow screen, too. But then Edison is deaf and Mary Pickford is his favorite film actress.

GREEN, BUT GROWING

Greenbriar, Ark., has sent another rookie to Connie Mack's baseball training camp in Florida again this year. That town with scarcely 500 people has furnished five big leaguers. They must grow 'em on the briar bushes.

SAYS IT WITH WORK

President Hoover's answer to his critics came in the form of bricks and mortar and steel and lumber when the Senate passed bills appropriating $363,000,000 for building jobs. And labor will get most of it.

AT A DISTANCE

The fellow who wrote "Snow, Snow, Beautiful Snow," evidently was inspired in Southern California, where you can bathe in the warm waters of the sea and watch the play of lights and shadows on the white-capped mountains.

REAL ANGLER'S PARADISE

It will be aggravating to fisher fans to read that there is a place where fish are so hungry that they fight to get the hook and then learn that the fish heaven is 2400 nautical miles away. There always is a catch in those stories, anyhow.

DYING HAPPY

The French nobleman who disowned his daughter for marrying against his wishes and then willed her his fortune will rest more easily in his grave than the parents who carry the spirit of unforgiveness into the unknown.

THE NEGRO VOTE

Arkansas Supreme Court upholds State Democratic rule barring negroes from participation in party primaries. That is more in keeping with the spirit of the Jm Crow law. The usual practice has been a little different. A visitor to Norfolk, Va., noting the tremendous black population, remarked to the Mayor, "This city must go Republican." "Wall," said his honor, with a knowing look, "on a fair count it goes Democratic."

THE MUNY IN DETROIT

Beauties of municipal ownership of street railway systems are hardly better illustrated in Detroit by the $375,000 deficit which the municipal system has incurred in the past three months than by the letters which have just become involuntarily public from the system's employment manager.

In one of the letters, the manager remarks that men or women "who had previously been associated with candidates opposing Mayor Bowles will not be considered," and in another, addressed to members of a fraternal organization, he expressed gratification of his ability "to assist our fraternity to a more or less extent."

Comment is unnecessary, and no one will need to ask, after reading such letters sent out by a public official, why red ink decorates the books. Municipal ownership everywhere, generally speaking, is just like that in Detroit, but in most places employment managers are a little more discreet.

LIQUOR IN CANADA

Testimony indicating the failure of the government-sale plan in Canada, such as was given before the House Judiciary Committee by E. C. Drury, former Premier of Ontario, is as valuable for the prohibition cause as anything that has been brought before the committee. It furnishes an answer to the strongest wet talking point, or at least the one about which the wets have been making the most noise—the claim that government control of liquor is a panacea for abuses and that, with government "control," Canada has something superior to prohibition.

Mr. Drury's declaration that drinking, drunkenness, crime, bootlegging and illicit liquor sale have all increased in Ontario and other parts of the Dominion since prohibition was abandoned and government sale substituted, and his further declaration that Canada will be forced to return to the liquor ban which nearly all the provinces enforced at the close of the World War, ought to be eye-openers to those who have gained their ideas of Canadian conditions from wet propaganda.

It is plain from Mr. Drury's testimony that Canada's solution of the liquor problem is no solution at all. Admitting that the figures of Canadian sales do not truly reflect actual Canadian consumption, because of the considerable amount sold to American tourists, the former head of the provincial government declared that the native Canadian hard-drink bill has increased tremendously under the official liquor-store plan.

Illegal liquor sales in Ontario, he quoted figures to show, have more than doubled in ten years. Arrests for violation of the liquor act were 3953 in 1923, under prohibition, and 7812 in 1928, under government sale. The increase in general crime is shown by jail commitments, which rose from 8036 in 1924 to 23,786 in 1928.

Under prohibition Ontario had 298 automobile accidents causing mortality, in 1926. In 1928 the number rose to 477 and in 1929 to 561.

The phrase "government control" as applied to Canada, the witness said, is a misnomer.

"All we have in Canada is government sale, with consumption in the home or the hotel bedroom. No longer is drink a man's vice. Women and children are exposed to it. The home is the last place in the world where liquor should be drunk. Crime is increasing, drunkenness is increasing and motor accidents are increasing in our province. Whatever the solution of the liquor problem may be it is not 'government control'," said the witness in summing up.

Another important witness was John J. Lentz of Columbus, O., who presented insurance figures showing a rapid falling off in the death rate, an average of about 20 per cent since the enactment of prohibition. These figures, gathered from the files of seventy-seven insurance companies, show, according to Mr. Lentz, that the life of the average citizen has been materially increased. Nothing but the prohibition law and the lessened consumption of alcohol that has followed it, Mr. Lentz said, account for the change.

Insurance figures are strong evidence, of course, since they apply only to abstainers and so-called moderate drinkers—heavy drinkers are not insurable.

Less should be heard from now on of the peans of praise for the Canadian system that have been going up from wet throats.

FATHER SULLIVAN

The transference of Father Joseph A. Sullivan to the Jesuit Retreat House at Los Altos has brought many expressions of regret from the friends and admirers he leaves behind him in Los Angeles and Southern California. Such changes are inevitable and in accord with the rules of the order with which Father Sullivan is affiliated. He may be counted on for the same faithful service in his newly assigned position, knowing that in the foundation of the Loyola University in the Del Rey Hills and in his various other civic and religious activities, he has made the mission field he is leaving one of eminent usefulness to the twin causes of religion and education.

Father Sullivan won the esteem, the respect and the affection of all with whom his work here brought him in contact for the broad and tolerant spirit which he always displayed toward those, whatever their faith or affiliations, who like himself were striving to make life purer in spirit and loftier in principle. While a devout son of his own church, he co-operated heartily in every movement designed for the betterment of society at large, Catholic, Protestant, Jew, Gentile, orthodox or unaffiliated, if the fight was against godlessness, corruption and evil living.

It was largely due to Father Sullivan that the transfer of Loyola University to its new and beautiful home overlooking the sea at Del Rey was made financially possible. His four years' presidency of that famous seat of learning, and the liberal policies he installed there, popularized it as no strictly sectarian interpretation of duty could have done. So it was natural when a school of religion was proposed for the University of California at Los Angeles, on a broader basis above all and yet including all sects and faiths and creeds, that Father Sullivan should have been one of the moving spirits in this broadening and quickening of church responsibility.

In many public addresses has the good father stressed the need for co-operation of all church people, regardless of sect and creed and dogma, in the general battle for more practical religion in our everyday life. Speaking before the Breakfast Club last October in these words he specially recommended the spirit it displayed: "Los Angeles must now be worth while if her people so loved the ideal of friendship as to raise this shrine to it. If the people of Los Angeles will radiate this same spirit of friendship in their homes and offices, they will soon rid this city of all the evil that infests it."

As president of Loyola University Father Sullivan has won a high place among the educators of Southern California. He has earned a still higher distinction as a Christian leader who knows how to reconcile the offices of a church with the universal needs of humanity at large.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

NO CULTURE!!!
HOW AMUSING!

THE other night we heard a man who tries to pose as an intellectual make a speech in which he said Southern California is about the finest place on earth—except that it has no real culture.

We will admit he didn't show much, just then; but one shouldn't judge other people by himself too much. It shows such pitiable ignorance. For one of the amazing things about Southern California is that culture is being put within the reach of all, and almost forced on a great many of us. Here, where only sixty years ago we had no educational institution of high school rank, we now have great and famous universities, the faculties of which contain about 100 people who are listed in Who's Who. The number of noted authors, musicians, scientists, artists and architects here is impressive. And the way in which the school children of even the suburban towns of the Southland, as well as of the cities, are being developed culturally is little short of astonishing. In even a little country school you may hear a harmonica band or a chorus good enough to be heard anywhere, and our 6-year-old and 7-year-old sons bring home from school samples of their "art" work which beat anything we ever were able to do. They are being given an understanding of art and a discerning eye for it which we never were taught to acquire.

Our Rise as a Music Center

Music being one of the most cultural of the arts, it is worth mentioning that now thousands of students come every year from other parts of the country because of the exceptional advantages for studying music—the noted teachers who spend all or part of their time here and the splendid concerts to be heard. And it is a fact that many tourists are impelled to spend the winters in or near Los Angeles because of the Philharmonic concerts. Since 1919 W. A. Clark, Jr., has been giving $150,000 a year for the support of the Philharmonic Orchestra. With such support, in addition to the revenues from tickets, this orchestra has been enabled to give Los Angeles music which ranks with the best in the world, and this music is being made more popular with the general public than is music of equal standard in most cities. The interest Los Angeles generally takes in its orchestra is actually comparable to the interest New York takes in the Giants and the Yankees, if you want a real standard of comparison.

Where Multitudes Hear Good Music

Artie Mason Carter deserves credit for a great deal of this interest, for it was Mrs. Carter who inspired and brought into existence the Hollywood Bowl, where every summer several hundred thousand people listen to symphony concerts under the stars. People who never would have attended concerts in a theater have got into the habit of attending those concerts and eventually have been waked up to the wonders of music. Mrs. Carter went before nearly every woman's club in Los Angeles, as well as before many other organizations, to create the sentiment which resulted in the Bowl, and now it has become such an institution that probably it will go on forever, an institution not dependent on any personality. It has been going since 1922, and this summer its concerts will be heard, by radio, all over the West.

Good Business to Spread Culture

What could be better evidence of the growing culture of Southern California than the fact that big business houses find it profitable to have regular series of lectures and broadcasts on the Philharmonic concerts and the Bowl concerts? Every Wednesday before a Philharmonic concert Sarah Ellen Barnes, a real authority on the subject, lectures at Barker Brothers auditorium, and every morning of a concert date during the Bowl season she speaks over the radio, so that people who are going to hear the concert either at the Bowl or over the radio will understand the music, know the history and the impulse of every composition.

Every other Saturday Dr. Bruce Gordon Kingsley lectures and interprets the music to be played in the next Philharmonic concert, at Bullock's. Every Thursday the Standard Oil Company broadcasts a program of selections rendered alternately by groups from the Philharmonic Orchestra in Los Angeles and the symphony orchestra in San Francisco, and every Saturday night the concert at the Bowl is broadcast all over the West by the Union Oil Company. In this way hundreds of thousands of people are brought to appreciation and understanding of classic music both of the old school and the new.

Women's Clubs a Force

Every woman's club in Southern California has a music section which is keeping up with some one of these activities and perhaps with several of them. Mrs. Gertrude Ross, composer, lectures every Monday in Pasadena and every Tuesday at the Knickerbocker Hotel in Hollywood. Miss Bess Daniels at U.S.C. does her best to convince even college students that jazz isn't everything. And there are dozens of others who regularly are engaged in creating musical appreciation among the general public as well as among music students.

Rather Worth Considering

Of course there's not much use in arguing with a chap who says there is no culture in a community which in so short a time has built up U.C.L.A., U.S.C., Loyola, Caltech, the Huntington Library and Gallery of Art, the Bowl, the Pilgrimage Play, the Mission Play and the Philharmonic Orchestra, not to mention the Ebell Club, the Friday Morning Club, the Writers and many similar organizations. Still, it's just as well to take stock of our blessings now and then. And if our colyum were only longer we could take a lot more stock.

LOS ANGELES BOAT SHOW

In Southern California, where people take naturally to all kinds of outdoor pastimes, the opportunities afforded for yachting, boating, marine motoring and other aquatic sports were certain sooner or later to attract a crowd of devotees. Our miles of seacoast, the numberless bays, lagoons, islands and inlets between Santa Barbara and Lower California have brought these sports every year into more prominent notice. Ten years ago the value of yachts owned in Los Angeles was placed at $420,000. In 1929 the value had risen to $14,330,000, and the demand for motor boats, rowboats and other water craft has increased proportionately.

The time was, therefore, ripe for staging in Los Angeles an exposition of the present proportions and future prospects of the boat industry as it has developed along the southern shores of California. Conducted by the Civic Regatta Association of Southern California and our Junior Chamber of Commerce the first annual Los Angeles Boat Show will be held in the Ambassador Auditorium from Saturday, March 29, to Saturday, April 5. It will house a collection of pleasure craft and equipment of all descriptions and will illustrate for all interested in water sports the definite place yachting and boating now hold in the life of the modern business man.

From the luxurious steam yacht to the humble rowboat there will be on display types of water craft to suit all tastes and all pocketbooks. The Gielow Company of Bath, Me., has supplied models in exact replica of twenty-five of the most famous yachts owned by eastern capitalists and the Savoia Marchetti, the largest flying motor boat, will also be on exhibition. The boat show will have a lure not only for the enthusiast, already well versed in the art of navigating, but also for the layman not yet thoroughly alive to the water pleasures afforded by sail and oar and putt-putt motor.

Boat shows are already proven successes in New York and Chicago. This is the first one to be staged in Los Angeles. But since our people take like ducks to all kinds of water sports, it will undoubtedly be the first of a series to add another success to the exposition record of this city.

DON'T SHOOT!

Would you call all that wet noise in Congress "liquefied gas"?

WARNING

By James J. Montague

We have driven the man-eating tiger
To the forests of far Hindustan,
We have harried the bear to his pine-bordered lair,
Where he hides from all-conquering man.
The wolf roams aloof on the prairie,
The lion roams only by night,
While the rattlesnake creeps through the forest-clad deeps
And carefully keeps out of sight.
But the fly on the wall moves along at a crawl
And, in spite of our might, is not worried at all.

A bag of a few human beings
Is all that the tiger desires;
The bear and the snake will depart through the brake
Upon smelling the smoke of man's fires;
The lion will run from the hunter,
The wolf upon scenting his trail
Will hie him away till the close of the day
In some sheltered and sheltering dale.
But the fly spreads disease upon cake, meat and cheese,
And on butter and bread and on baby's knees.

He is little and feeble and flabby—
A battalion could camp on your palm—
Yet he sits on your nose while you lie in a doze
And you feel not so much as a qualm.
He is light as the downiest feather;
You could whisk him away with a breath,
But the every bite of the germ-laden mite
May mean sickness or trouble or death.
So if flies you may spot in your lowly, thatched cot,
Just end their careers with a good, sounding swat!

Just Too Bad

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] If the man or woman of 40 wishes to be fit at 65 it is possible to so live that the three-score-and-ten line will be reached in the full vigor of health. But few will pay the price; most of us seem to be willing to die at 57 of heart trouble or some other degenerative disease. Doubtless, if the average citizen knew that his death warrant was already signed and sealed, to be executed in his fifty-seventh year, he would be more careful. But we all think that the average thing will happen to Brown and not happen to us. Brown will die at 57, according to the fixed laws worked out by the insurance experts, but we will live on merrily to a green old age—oh, 80 or 90, at least.

Can we be fit at 65? Sorry, but under the present system, social, hygienic, therapeutic—there is no hope. The answer is No, at 65 you will not be physically fit; you will have been dead about ten years.

Why? We have had the present system of social, hygienic and therapeutic methods for 50 or 100 years; death rates are increasing—premature deaths increasing.

In the face of all our knowledge and notwithstanding the efforts of all systems of prophylaxis and cure from mental to medicine—we are dying faster and faster. If our cases of insanity increase in the next fifty years as they have in the past and if the death rates for degenerative diseases increase in the next fifty years as in the last twenty years, the condition of the American people will be deplorable. Modern systems of therapeutics are not stemming the rising tide of sickness, physical ills and premature deaths. Contrary to common belief, fostered by some who should know the truth, the adults of today do not live a day longer than the adults of 150 years ago, or thirty years ago. The life span of adults is not increasing.

Jury System Still Best

LOS ANGELES, March 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It may be there has been a miscarriage of justice in the Fall and Doheny cases, but the jury system still remains the best-known means of meting out justice between litigants. Intent is the essence of crime and proof of intent is seldom, if ever, easily obtained or proven. What is in the mind of a man who contemplates doing an act, in reference to a corrupt or honest purpose, can only be determined by extrinsic facts attending the act itself, and other minds charged with the duty of judging of the motive of the act, may be led to different conclusions and yet be faithful and conscientious judges.

"El Camino Real" Again

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your editorial of recent date concerning the trail now being blazed for the new highway, you did not ask that names be submitted, but suggested it might be done. I beg leave to suggest, therefore, that the King's Highway is a most appropriate name and hope some day I may travel over it.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Hit-Pin Baseball?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Hit-pin baseball, which is played with an Indian club on each base, is taught free in the woman's gymnasium at the Gardena Evening High School, Normandie and Palm avenues, Gardena, on Monday and Tuesday evenings, 7 to 9. In addition there is instruction in calisthenics, posture improvement, folk dances and volley ball. Women of all ages, tourists and newcomers are equally welcome. The instructor is Miss Flora Lee Cole, who is an all-'round athlete, having played basketball on the University of Southern California team.

There is also a men's gymnasium on the same evenings, where match games are arranged for business teams and where setting-up exercises are taught by a licensed physical education man.

Sixty years have passed since the final spike connecting the Atlantic and the Pacific by railroad was driven. Then pony express riders, covered wagons and prairie schooners helped the squat locomotives convey cross-country travelers, but now busses, cars, airplanes and electric lines assist at the business.

DOWN WITH THE MARK

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Having just received my lambkin's report card . . . in the main highly satisfactory . . . I am moved, nevertheless, to question the virtue of the mark system at school.

As it has been in vogue so long, it seems almost like sacrilege to suggest a change. All the same, those dratted marks occasion more heartaches, create more inferiority and superiority complexes, and generally cause more torment than the situation warrants. Besides, alas, even teachers, who are in the main "nice" people, can be careless.

For instance, suppose a child is a fool at arithmetic. I was . . . and shed bitter tears throughout my girlhood because of it. I was shamed at every school I ever attended . . . began awaiting the ghastly exposure to come the moment I was entered at a school. The fact that I was reasonably bright in numerous other directions never saved me from this everlasting contumely. I could embroider the finest flower on the altar cloth, darn a sock with the best of them, write quite interesting compositions, positively trill my history (except the nasty dates) . . . but none of those talents made up for the misery of daily bad marks in arithmetic.

On one occasion, a few years back, I was shocked to see a "4" placed beside "cleanliness" on my child's report card . . . 1 being high mark. Now the child takes a bath before dinner every night of his life, keeps his teeth shining clean (because a long session with the dentist for teeth straightening through the years had imbued this particular virtue) and wears clean clothes. The poor kid was utterly shamed and wretched as he showed me that horrid mark on the report card. A private talk with the teacher and a little investigation on her part resulted in her agreeing she was mistaken.

On another occasion there was a bitter "4" in agriculture. Yet that child adored agriculture and came home and worked like a Trojan in his home garden. He improved it so that the family preened with pride in him. The day he brought that hateful "4" home he was utterly dejected . . . "4" meaning "weak." Weak . . . when he had ardently put in hours every day on it and talked of becoming a farmer. From that day on he lost all interest in the garden and suspected his male teacher of disliking him. Whatever the results at the school agriculture, that child was certainly entitled to encouragement for honorable effort.

I talked with some elementary teachers recently, who told me the new vogue in the schools is "creativeness." All efforts are now toward encouraging creativeness in the small people. Well, that's good, but no one can ever encourage creativeness by giving poor work bad marks. These teachers agreed that the mark system is often very cruel, unfair and has a most discouraging effect on youngsters. "I hope the day will come when the mark system will be abolished," said one, who is a leader in her little realm.

As for the system in some colleges, by which a good athlete is treated with special consideration in his marks rather than have him flunk out, and the college thus lose a good football player . . . well, the effect of this on the other students is bad. It undermines their faith in the whole system . . . naturally.

Yet at the same time, education today is far superior than formerly. I love the things they teach my smallest boy. These clever modern educators, cannot they think up some plan that would abolish the often unfair and frequently unkind marking system? There must be a method which would be more just, more genuinely encouraging and work toward better all-'round development.

A new play will shortly be shown here from Germany. . . . "The Cause." In this we find the "failure" meditating on his wrongs and tracing them back to the teacher of his youth, who continually exposed his weaknesses and shamed him, so that he developed a stutter and a dreadful inferiority complex. In the last act he strangles her.

BOOK DECORATIONS

Architects and decorators have awakened to the fact that cultured folk think a home is not complete without provision for the growing book collections of the various members of the family. No longer are houses designed for bookless people, but instead, recognizing the highly decorative effect of colorful book bindings on an open shelf, the architects are planning book panels beside the fireplaces, book nooks in the den, hanging bookshelves for the guest room and cunning low shelves "stepped-up" for the nursery. Scarcely a homelike interior view but shows its bookshelf, its reading lamp and comfortable chair inviting reading. F. H. H.

King Advocate of Dance

One of the most enthusiastic patrons of the dance at Cannes, France, during the winter season was the King of Denmark. He frequently attended the new night club called "The Brummell," and always stayed until the last number was played. But he never dances himself because, as he explained to his hostess, "my legs are much too long."

Scotch Fishing Promising

With the opening of rod and net fishing on most of the salmon rivers in Scotland it was announced that the 1930 fishing prospects are good, especially on the Don and Dee, and that nearly all the famous fishing places have been rented. The rents are as high as last year, in some cases $75 a week being paid for half-mile stretches of water.

COURT MOVES TO SICK ROOM

Mrs. Angie Rusch, victim of an automobile accident, was unable to go to court yesterday to give testimony, so Superior Judge Archbald, the jury and attorneys adjourned to her bedside at her home, 216 West Seventy-seventh street.

The action was brought by Mrs. Rusch against the American Steel Pipe and Tank Company of Alhambra and Robert Evans, a driver of a truck owned by the concern. She asks $36,000 damages for injuries which she asserts she received when her automobile was struck by the truck. The accident occurred June 27, 1929, at San Dimas. W. A. Rusch, husband of the plaintiff, also has brought a suit for $4000.

FURNISHING HOME TO BE EXPLAINED

Expert Who Equipped Leimert Park Residences Will Lecture Tomorrow

BY OLIVE GRAY

Outvieing in interest former talks, the lecture to be given by Edgar Harrison Wileman, in the auditorium at Barker Brothers tomorrow at 10:30 a.m., is pleasantly anticipated by all owning or hoping to possess small, livable homes.

Those who have viewed the many model homes in Leimert Park, will delight in hearing from the expert who furnished and decorated them the reasons for choice in materials and objects therein placed.

Of especial concern to those who dwell or will take possession of houses, modest in dimensions and to be completed interiorly within the confines of a moderate budget, are these homes and the talks explanatory of the logic by means of which they are brought within the realm of good taste.

Mr. Wileman's talks, during the past several seasons, have attracted many interested listeners, and many have carried into their homes, the benefits of his expert and practical knowledge.

The present lectures are intended to bring to the more convenient downtown district, the features which have pleased visitors to the homes in Leimert Park, concrete examples of which will be exhibited during the talks by the expert under whose advice those charming homes have attained distinction.

JURY HEARS RECIPE FOR BEAUTY AID

Practitioner Reads Her Formula in Defense of $80,000 Damage Suit

Women who thronged the courtroom of Superior Judge Edmonds late yesterday leaned forward breathless and expectant when Irene Hobson, rejuvenation expert, seemed about to reveal her principal trade beauty recipe. Miss Hobson testified she is 60 years of age. She appears not older than 35.

The beauty specialist was testifying in defense of the action brought against her by Mrs. Charlotte Lisette Pferder, who asks $80,000 damages, asserting that while taking a treatment for her face from Miss Hobson she lost the sight of her right eye. Miss Hobson's attorney, George J. Tapper, asked what formula she had used on Miss Pferder's case.

"I have the formula here," said Miss Hobson, waving a paper before her, "for the inspection of the court, counsel and the jury. I would not, however, like to read it in open court. It has taken me years to get this together and it is a formula of my own."

It was finally decided that Miss Hobson be permitted to read the ingredients, but not disclose the quantities of each.

Woods Not Yet Decided About Entering Race

Whether he will enter the race for Lieutenant-Governor was left an open question yesterday by James Woods, prominent hotel man and southern representative on the California Boxing Commission.

At his office in the Associated Realty Building, Woods said he has been urged to run for office and he has taken the suggestion under consideration.

Woods will remain in Los Angeles several days before returning to San Francisco. He is stopping at the Roosevelt.

Rambo Enters Controller Race

C. J. Rambo, 1829 West Forty-third Place, yesterday announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Controller. Mr. Rambo is a certified public accountant with offices in the Citizens' National Bank Building.

Emmet S. Tomkins, an attorney, will manage his campaign.

GIRL ATTAINS HIGH SCORE IN AIR TEST

Edith Bond

An average grade of 95 per cent, declared to be one of the highest examination ratings ever attained by an applicant for a Department of Commerce commercial pilot's license, has just been recorded by Edith Bond, a student of the Standard Flying Schools, 9401 South Western avenue, it was disclosed yesterday.

The aviatrix who succeeded in achieving this grade is a daughter of the superintendent of schools of Santa Paula. At first somewhat reticent to approve a flying career, the youthful flyer's parents were not only reconciled to it by the girl's high grade, but now are enthusiastic boosters for her chosen profession, according to officials of the Aero Corporation of California, which operates the school.

GUBIN SUIT CONCLUSION ANNOUNCED

Fight of Jeweler and His Wife Reported Settled Out of Court

Marital difficulties, aired for six weeks in court between Mr. Rhonia Gubin and her husband, Frank Gubin, Los Angeles jeweler, were settled late yesterday out of court. This was revealed when a property settlement giving Mrs. Gubin more than $100,000 was announced by her counsel, Attorney Ben Cohen.

Mrs. Gubin brought suit against her husband for separate maintenance. He filed a cross-complaint for a divorce. At the time of the trial Gubin asserted he had no property and that the only money he received for living expenses was from his brother, Oscar Gubin. Mrs. Gubin, however, contended her husband had ample means and that the purpose of her suit was to prevent him from dissipating the family fortune, which she helped accumulate. The trial of the case was before Superior Judge Tryon.

Mrs. Gubin accused her husband of spending large sums of money on race horses and on gambling games.

The wife was represented in the long trial by Attorneys Ben Cohen, Sam Wolf and C. C. Montgomery. Attorney Paul Schenk appeared for the husband.

Washburn Bribe Case Dismissal Will be Asked

Dismissal of bribery charges against Thomas B. Washburn, Los Angeles police officer, will be asked by the District Attorney today when the case is called in Superior Judge Wilson's court, it was announced yesterday.

Washburn is scheduled to appear in court for a resetting of his trial after winning a reversal in the Appellate Court of a conviction obtained in Judge Wilson's court three months ago.

The defendant was convicted of accepting a $800 bribe from Harry D. McDonald, confessed bootlegger.

According to E. J. Dennison, deputy District Attorney, who prosecuted the case, dismissal will be asked on grounds that there is insufficient evidence to warrant further prosecution.

ROAD VALUE DECIDED ON PASS STRIP

City Disappointed Over Cahuenga Land Award and Project Hangs Fire

On what city officials think about the fairness of Superior Judge Hanby's award of $311,886.42 for a strip of land in Cahuenga Pass will depend their course in proceeding or not with the construction of another roadway through the pass, it was stated after the close of condemnation proceedings yesterday.

The city sued the Hollywood Holding and Development Company in condemnation proceedings to acquire part of a roadway east of the Pacific Electric tracks, and a parkway adjacent. Appraisers for the city valued the strip at $200,000, and appraisers for the defendant put its worth at around $400,000.

City Attorney Werner and Arthur Loveland, his deputy, handled the case for the city. The City Attorney expressed disappointment with the figures, stating he thinks they should be lower.

The land condemned consists of an irregularly shaped strip from the junction of Highland and Caheunga Boulevards, 600 feet northward up the pass.

Salvation Army Band Will Give Special Concert

Led by Staff Captain Ernest D. Higgins, son of Gen. Edward J. Higgins, head of the Salvation Army forces of the world and successor of Gen. Bramwell Booth, the San Francisco western territorial band of thirty pieces will give a concert and music festival in Trinity Auditorium April 27. The staff captain formerly was head of the citadel band of Los Angeles.

The festival is under direction of Brigadier James C. Bell, commanding officer of the Los Angeles and south coast division.

In addition to the program of band music, solos will be presented by Robert Laurie, tenor; William Beckwith, cornetist, and Fred Spiller, trombonist.

The band will give five public performances on April 27—at the temple, 832 West Ninth street; at the citadel, 125 East Fourth street; at Trinity Auditorium, and two open-air concerts.

BAKER RITES CONDUCTED

Life Insurance Official Had Been Active in Social and Club Life of Los Angeles

Funeral services for Danford Morse Baker, senior vice-president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, who died Tuesday following a paralytic stroke, were conducted yesterday at the family residence, 500 Mapleton Drive, Beverly Hills. Interment was at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Scores of friends of the Baker family attended the services which were conducted by Dr. Robert E. Gooden, suffragan bishop of St. Paul's Cathedral, and hundreds of floral offerings gave evidence of the esteem in which Mr. Baker was held by his associates in business and social life.

Pallbearers were A. C. Parsons, W. C. Green, F. J. Woodbury, D. C. MacEwen, E. S. Nelson, F. J. Steinebrey, H. E. Moore, H. S. Dudley, L. W. Morgan and Douglas E. C. Moore, and the honorary pallbears included scores of men prominent in the commercial and club life of Los Angeles.

A native of Union, Ct., Mr. Baker, who was 66 years of age, began his career in the insurance business at his home city in early youth. He had been a resident of Los Angeles since 1906, in which year he became vice-president of his company and assistant superintendent of agencies. Illness caused his retirement from active business last year.

Keenly interested in every movement that had to do with the development of Southern California, Mr. Baker was a member of the Midwick Country Club, Los Angeles Country Club, California Club, Wilshire Country Club and the Bohemian Club of San Francisco.

Besides his widow Mr. Baker leaves a son, Danford M. Baker, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Letts, Jr.

EXHIBITION

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th, 9 A. M. to 10 P. M.

AFTER many years of constant traveling throughout the art centers of the world, I have decided the city of Los Angeles is now to be compared with the largest art centers in this country and abroad. After several successful sales held in Los Angeles in past years, and finding many art connoisseurs and lovers of art located here, I finally made decision to establish here permanently. I have one of the finest Galleries, which can be compared with the best to be found in any part of the world.

The greatest collection of European and art treasures collected from Patrician families by me will be on display. The collection is the greatest from point of size, importance, value, merit, rarity and authenticity ever offered. From the ensemble one can vision the home life of the great nobles in their elegant chateaux and great palaces during the Renaissance and later periods.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Of more than usual interest to society of the Southland is the announcement made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. George K. Hooper of 889 South Madison avenue, Pasadena, of the engagement of their daughter, Louise, to Everett R. Smith, son of Dr. Rea Smith, of 268 South Norton avenue, and Mrs. Georgia Knight-Smith of Paris, France. No date is set as yet for the wedding.

Miss Hooper was graduated from the Westridge School of Pasabea, while young Smith, one of the prominent members of the Bachelors, claims Stanford as his alma mater and is a member of Chi Psi fraternity.

Sorority Rush

Beta Delta chapter of Chi Psi Omega Sorority opened its spring rush season the 9th inst. with a formal tea at the home of Mrs. Harry M. Crosthwaite (Floris Byrd) in St. Andrews Place. The president, Miss Ruth Lund, and Past President Mrs. Crosthwaite presided at the tea tables from 3 to 6 o'clock. The following Wednesday bridge formed the feature of entertainment, this second of the series having been planned by the local alumnae chapter and given at the home of Mrs. Barbara Moyle Woodruff. High score was made by Miss Ruth Lund and second by Mrs. Harry Van Doren.

Those included were Mrs. Dorsey F. Woodruff, Mrs. Maboda George, Miss Jean Cunningham, Miss Lucille Pogue, Miss Marion Eckersley, Miss Goadys Donlan, Miss Marie Gephart, Miss Juanita Hart, Miss Mary Brown and Miss Carol Moyle.

Delightful Affair

A most delightful affair at the Victor Hugo last Saturday was the farewell bridge-luncheon given by Mmes. C. V. Wilson and J. P. Cogley in honor of Mrs. Everett Kelloway of 435 North Stanley avenue, who will leave for Toronto, Can. Spring flowers decorated the tables. Among the guests were Mmes. B. A. Willis of Minneapolis, Carl De Vreese, Gilmore, Roy Hunter, William Flower, Carol Martin, Bob Whitis, Otto Bauman and Weir Cassiddy.

Birthday Anniversary

Mrs. John Fay entertained with a charmingly arranged affair in the Pompeiian Room of the Arcady Wednesday evening, the occasion honoring Mrs. Mary Fay, mother of the hostess's husband, who celebrated her eighty-seventh birthday anniversary.

The long table was beautifully decorated with a large centerpiece of vivid spring flowers surrounded by maidenhair ferns, green nutcups and place cards carrying out the spring motif, while the piece de resistance was the great birthday cake beautifully iced, adorned with green candles. Those included were Mrs. Karl Krug, Jr., Mrs. George Joffee, Mrs. Harry Kuhlman, Mrs. Moody Feurt, Mrs. John Comer, Mrs. John McNaughton, Mrs. George W. Roberts, Mrs. A. A. Peick, Mrs. Charlotte Neeb, Mrs. Amelia Ilsle, Mrs. Kathryn Splain and Mrs. Daisy Ross.

Anniversary Dinner

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis I. Levinson, 6243 West Sixth street, was the scene of an enjoyable wedding anniversary dinner Monday evening, at which time forty of their friends assisted in celebrating the happy occasion. Throughout the day flowers, gifts and congratulatory telegrams poured into the home and during the evening Mr. J. C. Overdorff, as a climax to the happy events of the day, presented Mrs. Levinson, who is the president of the Jewish Music and Art Club, with a $500 scholarship, which she immediately turned over to the organization. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. C. Louis Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. Burnet Wolfson, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wolfson, Mrs. Florence Rose, Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. Hattie Harris, St. Paul, Minn.; Mrs. Bessie Bowes, Mr. and Mrs. M. Segal, Dr. and Mrs. Albert I. Tierman, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Friedman, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Halperin, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Raab, Mr. and Mrs. Nate Schierson, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gill, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goodfriend, Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Casseleth, Mrs. Minnie Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Locus, Mr. Herbert Rosenstein, Mr. and Mrs. Mayer Smuckler.

Luncheon Party

Honoring Mrs. A. E. Chamberlain of Inglewood, a prettily appointed luncheon was presided over by Miss sic department of the Los Angeles city schools, and Mrs. O. W. Jessup, assistant supervisor of music, at the Surf and Sand Club last Saturday afternoon. Spring flowers in fragrant profusion graced the table at which were seated twenty-five members of the music staff of the Los Angeles city schools. The honor guest, before her re- Kathryn E. Stone, head of the mu- cent marriage to A. E. Chamberlain, president of the Inglewood Chamber of Commerce, was Miss Katherine Pownall, and was a member of the music faculty of the Los Angeles schools.

Formal Chapter Dance

One of the pleasant affairs of the past week on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles was a formal chapter dance held by the Alpha Zeta Chapter of Theta Fraternity at its new home, Franklin Hall, 629 Gayley avenue, West Los Angeles. Lieut. Smizer of the military department represented the faculty. There were many among the guests who represented the local sororities of the Westwood Hills campus. Music was furnished by one of the leading campus orchestras.

Outstanding Event

Of outstanding social interest was the luncheon held Wednesday noon at the University of Southern California in honor of the Grand Duke Alexander of Russia, who addressed a large audience of Trojan students and friends at 11 o'clock.

Those present at the luncheon, which was held in the president's parlors, were the Grand Duke Alexander, Messrs and Mmes. Frank C. Touton, Gerald F. Walton, William C. Cavin, H. Wildon Carr, Stephen Vavra, DeWitt Hutchins, Mmes. Rufus Von KleinSmid, Seeley W. Mudd, Walter J. Murdock, Gurdon W. Wattles, Oliver P. Clark, Oliver F. Hershman, George O. Robinson, Edwin J. Marshall, Walter F. Fisher, Lyman Farwell, James H. Adams, William T. McFee and Dr. Mary Sinclair Crawford, Col. Warren B. Bovard, Dr. Ferdinand C. S. Schiller, Harry Chandler, Arkay Romanoff, Theodore Kittay, Dean Karl T. Waugh and Dean Lester B. Rogers.

SUBDEBS WILL ENTER COLLEGE

Girls Prominent at Glendora School

[Credit Sergis Alberts studios]

Misses Hazel Heinecke and Petrea Conzelman

AMONG the charming subdebs who are planning to enter college after completing four years at Girls' Collegiate School at Glendora are Miss Hazel Heinecke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Heinicke of San Clemente, and Miss Petrea Conzelman, daughter of Mrs. Jane G. Conzelman of Clayton, Mo., the former having made the grade at Stanford and the latter at Wellesley College.

Both these subdebs are popular members of the senior class at Girls Collegiate and prominent in all the activities on the campus there.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 9 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

UNDER AND OVERFEEDING HAVE DISTINCT SYMPTOMS

One would imagine that the mother could easily decide whether her baby were under or overfed. Seemingly, however, her mind runs only in one direction. No matter what the obvious evidences of gain in weight, she is more than likely to feel that he needs more food; while the baby who is actually starving is usually considered to be suffering from colic. We have never quite satisfied ourselves why this is so, but the overwhelming evidence of our mail convinces us that these are the facts.

The tiny baby, so new and puzzling to the mother anyway, offers her a constant problem, for she is never quite sure whether he is doing well or not unless he eats and sleeps all day long. Sometimes even then she worries for fear he sleeps too much!

CRYING DOESN'T MEAN HUNGER

If he cries, she attributes it to hunger, and gives him more to eat. If he still cries she continues, unaware that crying is not a good sign of what is wrong with a child, but only that something may be wrong. What that "something" is, she must decide by a process of elimination. Is he gaining as he should? Is he having too many or no movements a day? Is he sleeping well in the daytime and staying awake half the night? Or is he awake most of the day and sleeping well during the night?

Large gains in weight usually indicate too much food. If, in addition, the baby is wakeful during the day and sleeps well at night (when he has fewer feedings,) or if he has several very large movements daily or a small movement in practically every diaper, we could be even more certain that he was fed too often, or had too large feedings of a very rich breast milk, or cows' milk formula.

SYMPTOMS ARE DISTINCTIVE

On the other hand if the baby gains only fairly well, neither a very low rate of gain, but not quite up to the mark we want him to make, if he is constipated, sleeps fairly well in daytime, but is wakeful and fretful during the late hours of the afternoon or early evening, then our conclusions are quite different. We feel certain that he is underfed.

This subject is discussed in more detail in two leaflets we have to offer readers—"Symptoms of Under and Overfeeding" and "Types of Stools." Both of them will even more successfully help the mother to determine whether the baby neds more or less to eat.

In making this decision a scales for weighing baby weekly is a necessity. One weighing up to twenty-five pounds can be bought for as low as $2.50 and probably will be useful until baby is at least 8 months old. The scales weighing up to fifty pounds are variously priced from about $8.50 to $15. One should not guess about baby's weight. He may "look" bigger to the mother and still weigh the same week after week. He may be gaining tremendously and still act in a manner to beguile the mother into believing that he is hungry. One has to know. The weekly weighing is a ceremony that for the first year, at least, is as essential to a knowledge of baby's welfare as any one other item of his whole care.

Patent Leather Shoes

One housewife uses a bit of her furniture polish on a soft rag to clean up and freshen her patent-leather shoes, and claims it beats any of the shoe polishes for this sort of leather.

Health and Diet

ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday:

SUNDAY

Breakfast—Cottage cheese, Melba toast, baked apple.

Lunch—Mushrooms en casserole, string beans, salad of sliced tomatoes.

Dinner — Roast chicken with shredded wheat biscuit dressing, asparagus, buttered parsnips with parsley, salad of head lettuce, chilled avocado cream.

MONDAY

Breakfast—Coddled eggs, retoasted cereal biscuits, pear sauce.

Lunch—Glass of grapejuice.

Dinner—Tomato and celery soup, broiled steak, green peas, cooked celery, salad of raw spinach, cup custard.

TUESDAY

Breakfast—Wholewheat mush with cream, no sugar, stewed raisins.

Lunch—Baked squash, string-bean salad.

Dinner — Clear tomato soup, broiled filet of sole, cooked cauliflower, sliced tomatoes on lettuce, jello.

WEDNESDAY

Breakfast—French omelet, Melba toast, stewed prunes.

Lunch—Glass of buttermilk, ten or twelve dates.

Dinner—Roast mutton, cooked lettuce, baked parnsnips, salad of chopped raw cabbage, pineapple snow.

THURSDAY

Breakfast—Grapefruit as desired.

Lunch—Spinach and cheese en casserole; raw celery, ripe olives.

Dinner—Vegetable soup, boiled lean beef, cooked carrots and peas, shredded lettuce with peanut butter dressing, prunes in gelatin.

FRIDAY

Breakfast—Poached eggs on Melba toast, stewed apricots.

Lunch—Celery soup, string beans, salad of tomatoes, lettuce and parsley.

Dinner—Baked halibut, cooked lettuce, mashed turnips, salad of sliced cucumbers, dish of berries (canned without sugar.)

SATURDAY

Breakfast—Waffle with butter and a little honey, crisp bacon.

Lunch—Glass of orange-milk.

Dinner—Baked ham with whole tomatoes, string beans, salad of shredded cabbage, celery and minced ripe olives, applesauce.

Baked ham with whole tomatoes: Purchase a slice of ham from the center cut, about two or three inches thick. Trim off the fat and place in a baking dish with sufficient water to allow for an hour's baking. Have ready the whole tomatoes (by plunging into boiling water for a second the peel will easily slip off) and place them around the ham, being careful not to leave too much liquid in the pan. Return to the oven and bake about twenty minutes or until tomatoes are thoroughly done. Serve together on a platter garnished with sprigs of parsley.

Special Stamps Will Be Issued

The Postoffice Department is preparing to issue two new special two-cent stamps in commemoration of historic American events, Postmaster P. P. O'Brien announced yesterday.

One will commemorate the two hundred and sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the Province of Carolina and the other the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of Massachusetts Bay Colony. Both will be placed on sale at the philatelic agency of the department, April 11, next, and at other postoffices as soon thereafter as production will permit.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. W conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CARROT AND PEANUT BUTTER LOAF

One cupful of grated raw carrots, one cupful of tomatoes, one cupful of boiled rice, one medium-sized green pepper chopped, one chopped pimiento, two-thirds of a cupful of peanut butter, one-half of a small onion chopped fine, one cupful of bread crumbs, three tablespoonfuls of melted butter or shortening, a seasoning of salt and paprika; mix all the ingredients together, place in an oiled baking dish and bake in a moderate oven for one hour, turn out on a hot platter, and serve with a caper sauce.

STEAMED APPLE PUDDING

Sift two cupfuls of sifted flour with four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and one-half a teaspoonful of salt, chop into this three tablespoonfuls of butter, and when well mixed add three-fourths of a cupful of milk, place the mixture on a floured board, pat and roll out half an inch in thickness, place on this mixture, four large apples, that have been peeled, and cut in eighths, sprinkle with sugar, that has been mixed with a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, half a teaspoonful of cinnamon, and nutmeg, bring the dough up around the apples, and pinch tightly together, place in a well-buttered mold, cover tightly, place on a rack in a kettle containing boiling water, and steam for one hour and a half. Add more boilink water as the water boils away. Serve with a Huntington sauce.

HUNTINGTON SAUCE

Place in a saucepan one cupful of molasses, add to it two tablespoonfuls of butter, and allow to boil slowly for eight minutes. Remove from the fire, add two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, beat well, and serve hot.

PORK PATTIES

Cut up small pieces of left-over roast pork, and add to it an equal quantity of chopped celery, place the celery in a saucepan with just enough water to keep it from burning and cook until almost tender, add this to the pork with the little water in the pan, and make a cream sauce to which has been added one or two bouillon cubes, two cupfuls of sauce, will be enough for one cupful of meat and celery. Add a few grains of cayenne pepper and a seasoning of salt, and paprika, and one tablespoonful of parsley. Place the mixture in dividual baked pie shells, small baked circle for the top.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

A LESSON LEARNED

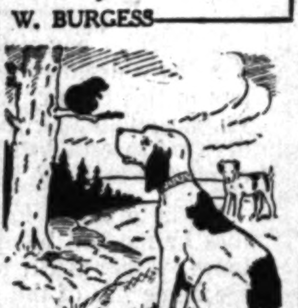
Some part of wisdom he has earned
Who has a lesson truly learned.
—Old Mother Nature.

A lesson may be very severe and painful, but sometimes it is worth all it costs if it is thoroughly learned. Flip had thoroughly learned his lesson. Never again would he meddle with Prickly Porky the Porcupine. Never again would he be heedless of the warning of Bowser the Hound. Bowser had done his best to keep Flip out of trouble, but Flip had been willful, prideful and full of curiosity. And so he had had his face driven full of Prickly Porky's sharp little spears.

Even after his wounds had all healed and he was as good as ever, Flip refused for some time to go over to the Green Forest. Bowser would tease him to go over, but Flip would refuse. He would stand and look longingly over toward the Green Forest, but somehow he didn't want to go. You see, he couldn't forget what had happened to him there.

At last one day he did venture to go over with Bowser. Bowser led the way and Flip sedately followed him, which was very unusual for Flip. Bowser went down the Lone Little Path. By and by they drew near the place where Flip had been taught his lesson by Prickly Porky. Flip stopped for a moment. Then he made a wide circle around that place. Yes, sir, he went around in a big circle. Bowser said nothing but he grinned. Presently Flip joined him once more and they went on their way. Bowser didn't let Flip see him grin. You see, Bowser knew all the time that Prickly Porky the Porcupine was no longer in that particular part of the Green Forest. But he didn't say so. He wanted to find out just how thoroughly Flip had learned his lesson.

At last Flip seemed to feel more like himself. He began running ahead. He became interested in everything he saw and heard. He ran this way and that way in his old eager manner. It was quite clear that Flip meant to see all there was to see. He was eager to find something new. But at last Bowser noticed that Flip was coming back from one of these little side trips and he was coming very much as if he were afraid of something. He kept looking back over his shoulder. Had he had a long tail, I suspect it would have been between his legs. However, having only a stub of a tail, it couldn't possibly have been put between his legs.



"Come on, Flip," he called. "Prickly Porky is up on the top of a tree

"What's the matter with you?" inquired Bowser.

"Nothing," replied Flip.

Bowser turned aside and headed in the direction from which Flip had just come. Flip hung back. It was very clear that Flip didn't want to go over there. He pretended to be busy in another direction.

"Now I wonder what Flip found over here," thought Bowser to himself, and began to use eyes and nose as only he can. He had gone only a little way when he discovered a few of Prickly Porky's little spears—the quills, you know—scattered on the ground. It was clear that Prickly Porky had been along that way and had shaken some of them loose. He does shake them out once in a while.

Bowser grinned. "So this is it," said he to himself. "He discovered those little spears and that was enough for him. Well, I don't know as I blame him much. Any one who has once been slapped by Prickly Porky's tail isn't likely to want to get anywhere near Prickly Porky again. I wonder where the old fellow is? He probably is around here somewhere."

Bowser sat down and began to a tree not far distant, up near the top, he saw a black bunch. "Come on Flip!" he called. "Prickly
Porky is up in the top of a tree.
look up in the trees. Presently, in
He won't hurt you."

What do you think is needed in this recipe for Hot Chocolate?

Put 2 squares chocolate and a pinch of salt in a saucepan with 1 cup cold water. Boil one minute, stirring the chocolate until it melts. Now add 3 cups milk and heat without boiling. Beat with egg-beater and serve at once.

ANYBODY who makes hot chocolate frequently knows that sugar is needed in this recipe. Two to four tablespoonfuls according to taste. It is sugar that makes this popular beverage enjoyable.

The taste-appeal of many other foods can be improved by the use of sugar. Sugar on fruits and cereals makes them more inviting and appetizing. A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt in cooking vegetables improves their flavor so that you eat them with relish. Try a dash of sugar in French dressing.

Doctors and dietitians approve this use of sugar as a flavor even in the preparation of children's meals. There is no reason for essential foods with their vitamins, mineral salts and roughage coming to the table tasteless or flat. And remember that wholesome desserts—puddings, custards, cakes and ice cream have their place in the normal diet. The Sugar Institute.

Hills Bros Coffee tastes better because it is roasted a few pounds at a time by a continuous process

BROILING the steak evenly on both sides seals in the juices and makes the meat tender. Roasting coffee as Hills Bros. do—a few pounds at a time by a continuous process—roasts every berry evenly.

This process—Controlled Roasting—produces a flavor that bulk-roasting methods cannot equal. And what a flavor it is! Smooth, exhilarating, satisfying! Always uniform in its goodness.

ICE BOX ROLLS

Two-thirds of a cupful of sugar, six tablespoonfuls of butter or shortening, one teaspoonful of salt, two cupfuls of boiling water, two eggs, one cake of yeast, one-half a cupful of lukewarm water, ten cupfuls of flour, measured after it has been sifted and then sifted again. Dissolve the sugar, salt and shortening in the boiling water, dissolve the yeast in the lukewarm water, allow the sugar mixture to become cool, then add it to the yeast. Sift in the flour a little at a time, until you have added one cupful, add the well-beaten eggs, and then the remainder of the flour, and as soon as it is thick enough to knead it, turn out and knead until stiff and elastic. Oil a bowl, place the dough in it, brush over the top with melted butter or shortening. Cover tightly with waxed paper and place in the ice box. Will be good as long as it lasts. Take off the amount of dough that is wanted, return the remainder to the ice box, and let stand outside the icebox for three hours in summer and four in winter. Mold it into rolls, place in pans, brush over with melted butter and let stand for three hours in a warm place before baking. Bake in a hot oven for the first fifteen minutes, then reduce the heat and finish the baking.

BISCUIT DOUGH

For biscuit dough or for pies to keep them from becoming soggy, brush before filling them with the slightly beaten white of an egg to which has been added one tablespoonful of cold water.

WIENER SCHNITZEL

A. S. M., Los Angeles, Cal.: Chop two slices of rather thick salt pork into small dice, place them in a Dutch oven or thick saute pan and add one medium-sized onion sliced and fry until the onion is a golden brown. Take one pound of veal steak, or chops. Roll it in flour, which has been seasoned with salt and pepper and cook until browned on both sides. Cover with cream, reduce the heat and add two teaspoonfuls of paprika. Cover tightly and simmer gently until the veal is tender. Can be served with dumplings or noodles.

THREE-LAYER PUMPKIN PIE

B. A., Hollywood, Cal.: This is a three-layer pie that I made at the class and it is very satisfactory. I have still another one which I am going to try out and if successful will later on publish it for you.

One and one-half cupfuls of strained pumpkin, two teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, one-half a teaspoonful of ginger, one cupful of rich milk or cream, three eggs, one cupful of brown sugar, one teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of mace, beat the eggs, add the sugar, salt and spices and mix well. Then add the milk or cream, beat this well and place in an unbaked pie shell, place in a hot oven for the first ten minutes, then reduce the heat and bake until the mixture is set. Cool the pie and spread over the top of it a custard made by scalding one and one-fourth cupfuls of milk. Beat the yolks of four eggs slightly, and add to them three-fourths of a cupful of sugar that has been sifted with three tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and one-half a teaspoonful of salt. Pour the scalded milk over the beaten eggs, beat thoroughly, place in a double boiler and simmer slowly until the mixture is thick. Remove from the fire and when cool, spread it on top of the pumpkin, make a meringue of the whites of the eggs, cover the custard with this, place in a very slow oven and brown.

Verdict Given in Girl's Death

A Coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict that Magdalene Reber, 22 years of age, of 116 West Forty-eighth street, died as the result of an illegal operation. The jury announced inability to place responsibility.

Detective Captain Bean later announced that the District Attorney refused to issue a complaint against Dr. Roy Milsap, 52, 1126 West Forty-sixth street, and Fremont Gulbinsen, 20, 938½ West Forty-seventh street, who had been held as material witnesses following the girl's death Sunday. Dr. Milsap and Gulbinsen refused to testify at the inquest.

"DELICATE MEMBRANES can be severely injured or inflamed by the use of too coarse a toilet tissue." This is the warning of 580 doctors and 223 hospital superintendents recently questioned on the subject.

Unaware of these facts, many housewives are innocently exposing themselves and their families to danger by buying harsh, inferior toilet tissue.

ScotTissue, Sani-Tissue and Waldorf are three famous tissues specially processed to satisfy the requirements doctors say toilet tissue must have to be safe: absorbency—softness—purity.

These three health-protecting tissues are made from specially processed fibres—"thirsty fibres." Crumple a sheet in your hand. Feel its unusual softness—its cloth-like texture.

No dangerous cutting edges to cause serious inflammation.

RADIO LAUDED AS SPORTS AID

J. G. Jackson, Polo Tourney Sponsor, Tells Benefits

Home Interest in Contests Declared on Increase

Light Opera Program Listed by Don Lee Station

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. Dr. Philip M. Lovell, editor of "Care of the Body." World-wide News at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

J.G. JACKSON.

"Radio is doing more for American sportsmanship than any influence ever brought into the play," said J. G. Jackson, largely responsible for the success of the polo tournament which has been featured by playing of the Argentine team. "A deeper appreciation of true sportsmanship has been engendered by the air contact."

"Perhaps the public does not realize that there are literally thousands of men, incapacitated in hospitals and institutions, who feel the old thrill of sports competition as they listen to broadcasts of football, baseball, prizefights, basketball, polo and other games. In fact, radio has made sportsmanship a paying proposition, as is attested by the returns to the University of California for the season, amounting to nearly $500,000. Such amounts of money placed in the hands of a student body give promise of a future in sports hitherto unknown in the United States.

INTEREST IN POLO

"Of course, I am particularly interested in polo because I consider it the top-notch game of today. The contestants in the competitions at the Midwick Country Club have received no portion of the gate receipts. On a pay-as-you-enter proposition, our good friends from the Argentine have shown us what real sportsmanship it.

"It is our expectation that next year the polo games will be actually broadcast. I desire to extend the tribute to radio which it deserves, for the interest shown by the public. It was clearly indicated that the interest shown was a direct result of radio announcements.

"The presentation in person of Manuel Andrada of Argentina and our own peer of the turf, Eric Pedley, together with Capt. Wesley White, as referee, threw into the contest a personal touch that could not have been obtained in any other way except through radio.

"Of course, being loyal to Los Angeles and without any unkind thought, we are hoping that the Midwick twenty-six-goal team will defeat the Argentine contingent next Sunday. Whatever the result, sportsmanship has entered the American home as never before in the history of polo on the Pacific Coast."

DIAL POINTS FOR TODAY

KHJ at 7:30 p.m. will present a light opera program featuring Carl Omeron, KHJ's popular tenor. Dr. Omeron will sing "All Hail Thou Lovely Dwelling," from "Faust." A string ensemble, male quartet and orchestra will participate in selections from "Pirates of Penzance," "Chauve Souris" and "The Chocolate Soldier." At 8:30 p.m. the Don Lee Concert Orchestra, under the baton of Raymond Paige and with Don Lee soloists, will entertain. Chain broadcasts notwithstanding, these featured half-hours by KHJ staff stars, with a leader of Paige's ability, compare more than favorably with the best from the East. At 9 o'clock tonight True Story Hour will bring Mary and Bob back to the "Covered Wagon Days."

PLAYGOER'S MEMORIES

KFI will feature at 3:15, Wedgewood Nowell in his "Playgoers' Memories." While Nowell is a constantly featured artist on KFI, his musicianship is worth dialing. At 7:30 p.m. Paul Roberts and the Schonberger Trio will feature what are termed "ballads of the jam-heart." At 9:30 tonight Harold Spaulding, as soloist, with the Packard Concert Orchestra, will hold the dial with salon music.

KNX in two periods tomorrow, the first at 10 a.m. to 12 noon and the second from 2 p.m. to 4, will feature the dedication ceremonies of the University of California at Los Angeles. Many prominent speakers and excellent music will be heard.

KFWB at 7:10 tonight is to feature "The Rainbow Trail to Colorland," a musical continuity, with Emma Kimmel, soprano, Buster Dees, tenor, and the Southlanders, bringing semiclassic, classic and light operatic selections.

HOT WEATHER BRINGS LIST OF BEACH 'DON'TS'

Anticipating a record early-season attendance at the Los Angeles municipal beaches tomorrow and Sunday if the warm weather continues, advice to swimmers in the form of eleven "don'ts" was issued yesterday by C. P. L. Nicholls, aquatics supervisor in the playground and recreation department.

The list warns against practices which might result in injury or drownings. At the same time, announcement was made of additional safeguards to be provided over the week-end by the municipal life-guard system, of which Nicholls is the head.

The life-guard crew will be augmented by nine more men, with extra guards to be added if needed. A new emergency motor boat, which has been under construction at the Venice life-guard station, will be placed in service for the first time tomorrow, and will patrol the Venice shore line at a distance of 400 feet out.

Following is the list of "don'ts" for swimmers:

(1.) Don't overestimate your swimming ability at any time, and especially at the beginning of the swimming season when not in training. Overenthusiasm is often fatal.

(2.) Don't bathe immediately after eating; cramps frequently result.

(3.) Don't bathe in remote places, but always stay near where a life guard is stationed, for your own protection.

(4.) Don't make long-distance swims alone; always swim accompanied by a strong swimmer.

(5.) Don't use inflated rubber apparatus, such as tires, tubes and water wings, in the surf; you may be carried out to sea on them and be unable to return.

(6.) Don't call for help unless actually in trouble, as you may call sometime when you do need a life guard and not be noticed; always call for help when you need it, and don't be timid about asking for assistance.

(7.) Don't swim near piers or pilings, as they cause strong currents and have sharp cutting surfaces.

(8.) Don't take "dares" in the ocean.

(9.) Don't go to the assistance of a life guard until he calls for help, as he can handle the situation, and he may have to help you.

(10.) Don't dive into unknown water, but always explore thoroughly before running into the surf. When in doubt ask the life guard, as he is paid to know.

(11.) Don't lie in the sun and try to acquire a quick tan; it will always result in painful sunburn. Don't sleep in the sun, as you may oversleep and wake up a cinder.

TAILOR'S LABEL MAY IDENTIFY DEAD MAN

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, March 27. (Exclusive)—Police examination today disclosed identifying marks on the clothing of a man's body washed ashore here last night. On the coat was a tailor's label reading "McBrae, Stockton," and on the linen was a laundry mark, "2 B-11." The dead man was less than 35 years of age, and had been in the water about two weeks. A bullet had been fired into the right side of the head.

PARK TREES TREATMENT PROJECTED

City Council Votes to Award Contract to Davey Company for Surgery

After an aggressive address by Park Commissioner Barnes, the City Council yesterday unanimously instructed the City Attorney to draft a contract with the Davey Tree Surgery Company of Los Angeles to treat the trees in four city parks at a cost of $17,682. The company already has been paid $480 for a survey.

Councilman Williams expressed surprise at the unusual procedure and asked an explanation of the haste. He said he had "heard rumors" but had nothing definite to state. However, he suggested caution. Under the charter, contracts of more than $2000 must be awarded by bid, except in the case of "scientific and expert services."

Commissioner Barnes said the trees are deteriorating and need attention. He said Mayor Porter appointed him to make an analysis of the city's trees and that he had spent $250,000 in learning what he knows about trees.

In answer to questions from Williams, Barnes admitted that Van Griffith, president of the Park Commission and a member for many years, opposes the Davey contract.

RAT POISON PERILS SIX CHILDREN

All Rushed to Hospital and Saved After Eating from Can Found in Alley

Rat poison last night prostrated six small children, the oldest 9 years of age, and the youngest 11 months. They ate the deadly mixture from a can they found near their home, police reported. The stricken children are Lorena McCoy, 9; June McCoy, 7; John L. McCoy, 5; Irene Gerardin, 6; Lorena Gerardin, 3, and Theresa Gerardin, 11 months, all of 1315 North Highland avenue, Hollywood.

Detective Lieutenants Rathbun and Speck reported that the children found a can in the alley near their home, and ate the sweetish paste. Immediately they became deathly ill, and their cries attracted their mothers. The Hollywood police ambulance rushed the children to the Dickey & Cass Emergency Hospital, where they were treated and transferred to General Hospital. The detectives found the can which was labeled "Rodent Poison, 1.5 arsenic."

ARLISS PLAYS SIX FOR WARNERS

Doris Kenyon Signing With Lasky for Bancroft Lead; Jack White Plans Forty Films for Educational; Percy Marmont Arriving Next Week

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

It will be some time before George Arliss returns to the stage. Warner Brothers have exercised their option on his services, and he is to star in six more pictures for that organization.

The talking film rights to "Old English" have at last been secured. It is said that John Galsworthy, who wrote the play, waited until he saw the results with "Disraeli" before selling the rights to "Old English." After he had seen it, he congratulated Arliss, and decided at once to release the rights to the play in which the star lately made such a success on the stage.

Arliss and his wife have been in England, but are returning to this country April 12, when rehearsals will at once begin on the production. Florence Arliss, the star's wife, is to play the same role in the picture which she played on the stage.

Alfred Green is to direct the picture, his success with Arliss in "Disraeli" having made him the logical one, think the Warners, to guide the star in the new picture.

DORIS KENYON WILL BE PARAMOUNT LEAD

DORIS KENYON

Doris Kenyon, according to announcement yesterday made by Jesse L. Lasky, has been signed by Paramount to play the leading feminine role in "The Cave Man," the story of a battling hero of the steel mills, which is to serve as George Bancroft's next talking picture vehicle.

Production is due to start within a fortnight under the direction of Victor Schertzinger, who is now completing work on Buddy Rogers's musical comedy, "Safety In Numbers."

Miss Kenyon was formerly a First National star, and also has played leads in a number of Fox and other pictures.

Jack White's New Year

JACK WHITE

Jack White is preparing for his next year's productions of Jack White Comedies, to be released through Educational. He has filmed a large number of comic talkers during the past year using many noted players.

These two reeler comedies have been so successful that he will produce forty comedies during the ensuing several months, beginning his working schedule around the last of June and employing the same players who won so much success last year.

In the meantime, while planning his next year's output, White is planning a trip to Europe, visiting France, England, Italy, Spain and Germany, with a view to learning what brand of comedy is preferred in those countries.

He will, of course, engage players familiar with foreign tongues for foreign versions of his two-reelers.

Among the players who will appear in the Jack White Comedies during the coming year are May Boley, Franklin Pangborn, Taylor Holmes, Bobby Agnew, T. Roy Barnes, Helen Bolton, Monte Collins, Eddie Lambert, John T. Murray and Vivian Oakland, Al St. John, Norman Peck, John Litel, Raymond McKee, Sidney Bracey, Harold Goodwin, Wallace Lupino, Lloyd Ingraham, Marion Byron, Alma Bennett, Addie McPhail, Nancy Dover, Anita Garvin, Betty Boyd, Estelle Bradley, Eva Thatcher and Cissy Fitzgerald.

Percy Marmont Arriving

Percy Marmont

Our old friend, Percy Marmont, that very excellent English actor, is returning to Hollywood. He will arrive on April 2, and will at once prepare to resume picture work here.

Our informant lets us in on the fact that Marmont has two excellent picture offers as well as a stage offer, so that he will no doubt be busy all the time, especially now that the talkers are the thing.

Marmont has just finished a London stage engagement, and he also while in England appeared in a number of talking pictures.

His stage engagement is at the Vine Street, in a play the title of which is not yet announced, but which is to be produced in the course of a couple of months.

Jeannette Loff to Travel

For the very first time, Jeannette Loff is to go to New York. And under most pleasant circumstances, too, inasmuch as she is to view the premiere of Paul Whiteman's Universal Revue, in which she plays the feminine lead, while there.

Miss Loff is leaving next week, unless film work should prevent.

Collier, Sr., With R.-K.-O.

William Collier, Sr., has been signed for one of the featured roles in "Tommy," which R.-K.-O. is producing, we learned yesterday. Mel Brown is directing.

Arthur Lake and Sue Carroll have the other featured roles.

Collier has been borrowed from Fox, as was also Miss Carroll, for the production.

Russell Simpson in It

Russell Simpson is to have an important role in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Billy the Kid," which King Vidor is to direct.

He will play the role of McSween, one of the famous historical characters of the old west. McSween was the leader of the faction in the famous Lincoln county, New Mexico, war, to which Billy the Kid, noted outlaw, allied himself. The most dramatic scenes of the picture center around the three-day siege of the McSween home by opposing cattlemen.

Robert Woolsey With R.-K.-O.

Now fans can be happy. Robert Woolsey has signed a long-term contract with R.-K.-O., and will be teamed with Bert Wheeler in a number of pictures.

Woolsey was to have signed the contract a couple of weeks ago, but he had vaudeville contracts which made it look for a while as though he would have to be separated from Wheeler, his partner of many vaudeville and musical comedy sketches. But the trouble has all been smoothed out, and the comedian will go on with his picture work.

Joe E. Brown's Contract

Joe E. Brown, comic of stage and screen, has just signed a new year's contract with First National, we hear.

He has appeared in a number of Warner Brothers and First National pictures, following a long and successful career on the stage.

ATMOSPHERE OF TROPICS REALIZED

Languid Tale of South Seas Meanders Way Into Million Dollar

BY ELENA BOLAND

The lazy indecision of the tropics hangs like a pall over the Million Dollar, where "Dangerous Paradise" is the latest film attraction.

This is a first-run Paramount picture starring Nancy Carroll and featuring Richard Arlen. It was directed by William Wellman in a manner somewhat conveying the exotic languor of the South Seas as contrasted with evil lurking in their midst.

A melodrama of love and death, of people homeless, aimless and eventually "finding" themselves, is "Dangerous Paradise," from a novel by Joseph Conrad. Four murders are its greedy toll, and there is foul play in abundance. It is a picture which seems to grope its way along, never exactly certain of what it should show next. It is a collection of incidents sharply turned on and as sharply turned off.

As haphazard as the climate in which it is spoken is the dialogue. It says very little and does not say that well. Perhaps it is this which keeps tugging the story back from a swift advance to a climax.

Some of the scenic arrangements are pleasurably atmospheric. Without gong to the South Seas, Mr. Wellman occasionally captures their mood. He employs native singers and dancers to distinct advantage. The one jarring note is the pervading elegance with which the picture is dressed. An island, deserted save for one white man and his two servants, is imagined as possessing all the comforts of home. But then it is effective, and no illusions of this real native island are shattered.

Miss Carroll is a girl violinist; she is the excuse for the story and, incidentally, the indirect cause of some murdering. She is found more or less marooned in a native village and pursued by all sort of villainous characters. First of all comes Warner Oland, the proprietor of the hotel, and also her employer. He loves Miss Carroll with all his evil heart; and, as he finished killing off his rival there appear in the doorway three menacing persons: A gambler and a gentleman, Gustav Von Seyffertitz; his henchman, Francis McDonald, a killer with an ingratiating smile and a habit of slithering knives along the nearest spine, and finally, Pedro, a muscle-bound youth, whose recreation between "jobs" is to gnaw on meat joints.

Miss Carroll, in the meantime, has hidden away on Mr. Arlen's boat and is on her way to his private island. Mr. Arlen is the first wholesome human being to come into Miss Carroll's bewildered life. After doing away with every one handy, the three desperadoes follow the young people and arrive in their paradise just as love is flowering. Additional butchering, two neat graves and a fade-out of the lovers realizing they have at last found their paradise, complete the story.

Nancy Carroll is decorative in her role. Naturalness has always been one of Richard Arlen's strong points, but it would seem advisable for him to be more definite in his speech.

The picture by no means fills the Million Dollar program. Other features are "The Bearded Lady," a comedy, and six acts of vaudeville headlining Sonia and her revue internationale from the Palladium Theater, London.

Martin Flavin's "Spindrift" Unique Impression

Sketching of Art Colony's Characters Deft

Interesting Impersonations Add to Interest

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The life of an art colony—to the life! Martin Flavin keenly analyzed an esthetic community in his play, "Spindrift." One could spare the earthquake (not for patriotic reasons) in this deft impression of a charming futility, but then it turns out that this "fateful" happening is, after all, more an incident than not. It is always a question, though, whether the providential event is a thing to call upon in play-making, especially when it would appear to be the climax of a scene.

"Spindrift" is having its premiere presentation at the Pasadena Community Playhouse, and is very admirably cast as to types. The performance is of the higher standard for this theater. There are faults, to be sure, in the keying of certain portrayals, and there is a touch of amateurish insecurity here and there, but on the whole the production is notably good. The appearance of Gilmor Brown, director, in an important role; Stuart Buchanan, Gypsy O'Brien and one or two others increase its professional interest, and there are roles unusually well done by Martha Dean, James Hawks, Blanche Phillips Coolidge, and, it may be added, with some reservations, by Joseph Sauers, who enacts a very leading character.

One can guess the locale of "Spindrift." The place is not named, but there are plenty of clews. An art colony by the seaside—unquestionably the western seaside. The earthquake? Well, that is a touch, to be sure. It shakes down the chimney of the home of one Peter Doremy, painter, and results in the obliquely tragical death of the maid-servant. No other casualties. The futile Bohemians go on living gracefully, and upheaval notwithstanding, slip with ease back into their customary ways. All their thoughts of practicality are quickly thrown to the winds; they glide into their sphere of pretty half would-be sophistication just as if nothing had intervened. The curtain falls on them talking ensemble, interested in dreams, sentiment, cynicism, a little work and the detail of replacing the chimney on the house.

It would seem that "Spindrift" is a play primarily for the community theater presentation. I cannot imagine it being exactly broad in appeal. It is delicious for those who know and understand the sort of colony presented—especially should it appeal to those who suspect the exact one.

There is drama, of course—quite a bit of it, but the drama is rather esoterically mental. Tempests of mood, rather than of reality, are the ones depicted. They are not tempests familiar to the world at large, and necessarily at times the interest must drop for those audience members who are not keenly interested in the theme itself.

In the plot there is a romance between a youth and a woman "who has lived," that shocks even the "esthetics." That is perhaps the mai nelement—but then, what of it? This is a play chiefly of atmosphere. Its story is secondary to the portrayal of a certain peculiar jeu de vivre expressed in its title.

Personally, I enjoyed this play very much, because it is artistic in spirit, very airily done (except perhaps for the seismic disturbance) and with characters that are in various instances most delightful. I think of them all that Konrad Brandes, the sculptor, is the best, with his brusque, mechanical attitude on the subject of the "eternal feminine;" that scarcely conceals his persistent sentimentality.

His inamorata, Gypsy, is another well-drawn personality. So, too, are the two brothers, Doremy, with their undying "urge." The invader, the glue manufacturers, totally out of place in the environment, is well sketched. And so one might add is the housewifely (sublimated) Mrs. Doremy.

Mrs. Payne is a more familiar personage of the play but good. Mr. Watts is amusing with is carpentering, interspersed with Beethoven study. The Witbecks, too, fill in very well. The husband's suicide provides a minor note. The real-estate girl with her ambitions for sudden riches suits, and is well done by Esther Saenger.

Brown, Buchanan, Miss O'Brien, Hawk, Miss Dean are the best, I should say, in the order named, as regards the impersonations. Buchanan has one especially dis-

It is an interesting, and rather sardonic divertissement, this play.

Adventures on Yacht Fashion Gripping Film

BY P. K. S.

One of the best first novels ever penned by a contemporary writer is "Ordeal," by Dale Collins. A magnificent story of the sea and its moods, it suffers only from a lack of sympathetic focus on the characters who appear in it. Now Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has filmed "Ordeal," and under its new title, "The Ship from Shanghai," it landed yesterday at the Boulevard Theater. Carefully photographed, well cast and possessing the attribute of good dialogue, the picture has not succeeded in concealing the one defect that kept the book from greatness.

Reduced to essentials, "The Ship from Shanghai" is a detailed account of the effects of storm, heat, privation and a steward known only as Ted upon a party of idlers—English and American—aboard a yacht bound out to America. They are scarcely up the gangplank before Ted relieves himself on the subject of all "toffs" and their ilk to the ship's cook who, cheerfully acquiescent, lifts an affirming glass to his lips with a grunted "Skoal!" A sudden disastrous squall, stripping the boat of its gear, places the passengers more securely in the grip of this unpleasant ruffian who would be monarch of all he surveys, demands the love of the heroine. She shall be queen to his king!

The denouement hinges on that curious class consciousness, never quite killed in one who has served many masters in his time, which the girl drives home with stinging shafts of impassioned invective even as he is about to claim her for his own. Crying "They've beaten me! They've beaten me!" Ted, the steward, leaps overboard; and a shark's fin flashes briefly.

In the book, this same psychological twist is applied rather differently; but I am not so sure that it is any more effective. The fact that the girl Dorothy is played by Kay Johnson, and that Conrad Nagel is her lover, recalls a similar situation in which the two were involved in "Dynamite." On the present occasion, however, the other man is Louis Wolheim.

Mr. Wolheim gives what seems to me his most able talking performance as Ted. His voice, keyed lower than it was in "Condemned," is admirable for the character. He is most effective in his moments of pleading for a love which can never be his—a strange, gentle, almost wistful quality contrasting oddly with his brutish exterior.

Miss Johnson still imbues her moments with a sincere strength rare in actresses. In a really genuine part, she will amaze us all some day. Mr. Nagel is only nominally the hero; and other players are Holmes Herbert, Carmel Myers, Zeffie Tilbury, Jack McDonald and Henry Armetta.

John Howard Lawson wrote the adaptation, and Charles Brabin directed. The camera work is noteworthy. As for the recording, the poor sound-projection at the Boulevard makes it impossible to tell whether it is worth mentioning or not.

NEW STYLE OF PIRATE EXPLOITED

Rod La Rocque Portrays Combination of Villain and Hero in Film

BY JOHN SCOTT

Rod La Rocque takes a turn into the realm of travesty and emerges "The Delightful Rogue." This very "different" picturization of a magazine story holds forth at the R.-K.-O. Theater for the next six days and nights; and for its originality alone should rate more than passing interest.

Essentially a character study of a combination villain and comedian, the production is more or less an experiment. La Rocque portrays Lastro, the terror of the South Seas. His ship is a splendidly equipped yacht, built to suit the suave Latin who murders and strums his guitar with equanimity.

At no time dramatic, "The Delightful Rogue" may be called amusing, revealing a spirit of romantic conquest. Its few moments of seriousness are relieved immediately with touches of humor. Lastro places women and wild animals on the same basis, nice to look at, but impractical as pets. Yet in the last scene he and the heroine sail away in search of a minister.

The glamour of adventure heightens interest in the film, especially when La Rocque defies the constabulary of the Island of Tapit, which, a warning subtitle reads, "should be in the South Seas." The romantic pirate walks into police nets and, like the hero in the story books, always escapes, sometimes alone, and again with the aid of his trusty men, some of whom, by their appearance, were recruited from our better drawing-rooms.

Native scenes are pleasing and as authentic as necessary. There is good-natured comedy in the antics of the police department of Tapit, which functions as a body, never as individuals.

La Rocque presents an interesting character in Lastro, the pirate. His forced Spanish accent at times grows tiresome, but is acceptable. He laughs, sneers and cajoles in the best manner of hero-villains who would be romantic.

Rita La Roy, a comparative newcomer in pictures, is a pretty and capable heroine, while other roles are well taken by Charles Byer, Ed Brady, Harry Semels, Sam Blum and Bert Moorehouse. Adaptation and dialogue are by Wallace Smith, who also wrote the original. Leslie Pierce and Lynn Shores co-directed.

Bill Robinson, "The Dark Cloud of Joy," reappears on the local stage at the R.-K.-O. this week. Robinson has lost none of his ability to make tap dancing an art. He is called the peer of tap dancers and rightly deserves the title. Other acts were fair. The Six American Belfords juggled each other on their feet, and Howard and Newton sang. Teck Murdock offered a skit called "O. Henry," assisted by Iris Kennedy.

"HONEY" AT PARAMOUNT GAY FARE

Nancy Carroll's New Star Film is Sentimental Trip to Musical South

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

"Come Out of the Kitchen," a farce which served Ruth Chatterton on the stage and Marguerite Clark in the movies, is Nancy Carroll's latest starring vehicle. One of the better musical talkies, it was screened yesterday at the Paramount Theater. Now it is called "Honey."

More polite than "Sweetie" (and now that the series is well launched, we may expect "Babykins" along almost any time) the present piece is none the less agreeable for that. Indeed, while it is not exactly old-fashioned, "Honey" retains the sentimental qualities of the original and provides a few of its own in several pleasant song numbers. These are, notably, "In My Little Hope Chest" and "I Don't Need Atmosphere to Fall in Love With You."

Miss Carroll is supported by an excellent cast of troupers, most of whom have had experience in the melody theater. Stanley Smith represents the typical juvenile; Lillian Roth the "blues" school; Jobyna Howland, the haughty madame of innumerable musical shows; Harry Green (with little to do here) the varieties, and "Skeet" Gallagher the irrepressible wisecrackers. Zasu Pitts is her usual priceless self as a tearful, fluttery maid; Charles Sellon ahems appropriately as the family lawyer, and little Mitzi Green—well, what about little Mitzi Green? Because it occurs to me that she should be given a "potch" and sent home to bed does not mitigate the fact that she is ideally cast as the precocious youngster who wreaks such havoc with her sing-song "I know a secret! I know a secret!"

Permissably idealistic, as all musical romances should be, "Honey" has for its setting an old Colonial mansion fallen upon hard days. Its two incumbents, brother and sister, rent it to a Mrs. Falkner from the Eeast, who is insistent on having a new retinue of servants during her occupancy. The fun starts when the brother and sisten, rather than disappoint the lady, assume mental garb themselves. With Nancy esconced in the kitchen, it is readily understood why young Stanley Smith finds it a good place to come into.

Miss Carroll sings the "Atmosphere" number to Mr. Smith, who joins his voice with hers in "In My Little Hope Chest." "Let's Be Domestic" is a comic patter song; and then there is the usual "hot" tune, this one called, "Sing, You Sinners," and given by a negro chorus. In this number the composer, W. Franke Harling, finds himself on familiar ground; his "Deep River," a "native opera" staged some years back, was strongly African in its rhythms. The lyrics are by Sam Coslow.

Wesley Ruggles is to be felicitated on his direction of "Honey." The adaptation from the play was made by Herman J. Mankiewicz.

The merit of being different attaches to "The Moon Bride's Wedding," a short subject with the United States Indian Band. There is, too, a peculiar element of pathos in the spectacle of a tribe of full-blooded redskins playing, singing, dancing jazz. Is this, then, the ultimate gift of the white man?

Chinese Plans Kiddies' Matinee

Grauman's Chinese Theater will celebrate a Kiddie's Leo-the-Lion matinee tomorrow afternoon. Leo, the M.-G.-M. trademark lion, will do his stunts in the forecourt of the theater. Every youngster attending will receive a souvenir.

The regular performance of Lawrence Tibbett in "The Rogue Song," which is now in its last two weeks at the Chinese, will follow. In addition to "The Rogue Song," Abe Lyman and his band will appear on the stage. Preparations are under way for the gala midnight frolic tomorrow night.

NOTED SINGER WELCOMED HERE

Claire Dux Charms With Fine Voice and Appearance

Beauty of Tone Wins Favor of Large Audience

Dr. Rodzinski Offers Choice Accompaning Program

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

One of the great concerts of the year took place at Philharmonic Auditorium last night, when Claire Dux, the beautiful singer with the fine intellect and tender heart, returned to sing rare and precious songs by Mozart and Strauss. Dr. Artur Rodkinski conducted the Philhamonic Orchestra in a Bach-Mahler suite with elegance and precision, a brilliant and witty Korngold suite and the Brahms Symphony in C minor. For program and for finished performance it was truly one of the splendid triumphs of the Philharmonic season.

Claire Dux, whose marriage to Charles Swift of Chicago four years ago made an adoring public wonder if it had lost her, sings more beautifully than ever. Choosing the aria of the Countess "E Susanna non vien" from the "Marriage of Figaro," Miss Dux sang Mozart as it is too rarely performed. Clear beauty of round and luscious tone, coupled with exquisite, smooth phrasing and a refinement of feeling that must be of the heart, made this aria, which was so sympathetically accompanied by the orchestra, unforgettable.

After the modernism of Korngold, the soprano sang three great songs of Strauss: "Freundlich Vision," "Staendchen," which had to be repeated to still the clamor of approval, and lastly the "Morgen," which was so filled with poignant loveliness that the audience, the orchestra and the conductor waited in a kind of breathless enchantment for seconds after the long tones were ended. Gracious and lovely to look at, as always, Miss Dux came back again and again to bow her acknowledgments, and the audience was reluctant to release her.

Dr. Rodzinski programmed a fascinating concert list. The Bach-Mahler Suite is familiar music, much of it, but this particular arrangement of the Bach music has not been heard here. It required a pianist, the capable Ilse Rodzinski, an organist, Dr. Hastings, and three solo flutes, Messrs. Furman, Jay Plowe and Bela Adams. Mr. Furman distinguished himself in special solo work with a musicianly understanding of Bach.

The Korngold is novelty delightful. It is a modern suite written for Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing," and, although the theme may be Elizabethan, the treatment is twentieth century Berlin in its smartest angles. The young man who wrote it, and he must have been young, is not only clever and gifted with real humor, but was perfectly at home with a medium which awes most composers into incoherence. The orchestra was small and here again the piano and organ were brought in to advantage. Ilya Bronson and Emile Ferir played melodic solo bits on the cello and viola, and every moment of the Korngold was entertaining and characteristic of the youth of this age delving successfully into the past for inspiration, thereby illuminating it for the rest of us.

MATRIMONY ACHIEVED AT LOEW'S

Daughter Wins Husband in "She Steps Out" Despite Mother's Efforts

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

There must be a lot of people wondering about this "she" who is occupying headline billing at the local motion-picture palaces of late.

First, it was "She Could't Say No," then "The Girl Said No," and now it's "She Steps Out." The last-described act occurs this week at Loew's State Theater and involves Marguerite Churchill taking unto herself a suitor and a husband.

To be specific, "She Steps Out" is a Fox talking picture adapted from the stage play, "The Family Upstairs," by Harry Delf. It's amusing, human and full of homely realism.

Miss Churchill plays Louise, the eldest daughter of the Joe Haller family, a comfortable middle-class group. The mother worries because Louise has no "young man," never realizing that it is mamma with her anxious pushing ways who is thwarting daughter's success in the matrimonial field.

Eventually, Louise captures, at a concert, a promising young candidate. By steering clear of the family hearthside, she manages to conduct her romance successfully. That is, till the young man calls one Sunday morning to escort her to a picnic. Mamma starts at long-deferred campaign and almost scares the poor suitor off. Of course, she doesn't quite succeed.

The role of Joe Haller, the bespectacled, good-natured father, who alternates between trying to pound common sense into his jazz-crazy son, and keeping mamma from interfering with daughter's romance, is carried by William Collier, Sr. He steals the picture. He has a natural, sanely human role, which he plays capitally and for good comedy.

Miss Churchill is appealingly sweet as Louise, although so "Polly-Anniah" at times as to be not quite believable. Charles Eaton does a grand job of Willie, the lazy young brother whose only talent and ambition is in his jazz-mad toes. Rex Bell, as the suitor, is thoroughly personable, but needs a little more work in dialogue. Charlotte Henry, Dixie Lee, Elizabeth Patterson and Dot Farley are in other roles. Hamilton McFadden directed in a workmanlike fashion.

Georgie Stoll presided over a Fanchon and Marco stage show which features Singer's midgets. There is a Hal Roach comedy of cowboy locale in which Harry Langdon cuts capers. Nancy Dover is his pretty leading lady.

CORDILL CLEWS FOUND IN BOAT

Missing Lawyer's Effects in Skiff Adrift at Sea

Woman Flyer Makes Find on Fishing Expedition

Note to His Wife Contained Threat of Suicide

The mysterious disappearance of R. M. Cordill, attorney, of 2930 South Norton street, missing since last Monday night, was believed solved last night with the discovery of an open skiff found drifting five miles off the Santa Monica coast.

Mrs. Juanita Burns, woman flyer who located a lost air liner in the mountains three weeks ago, sighted the skiff from the Kitty-A, fishing boat.

In the small open craft Santa Monica police reported that they found a brown coat, a pair of sox and garters and a quantity of rope. Papers, cards and stationery in the coat established beyond a doubt, Santa Monica officers stated, that it belonged to Cordill.

The boat was towed to Santa Monica by Capt. Scotty La Cade, skipper of the fishing craft.

LETTER TO WIFE

Cordill wrote his wife a letter last Tuesday stating that he intended to take a small boat, put to sea and commit suicide, according to local police reports. He gave as his reasons worry and overwork.

A check on his letter showed that a small boat, declared by Santa Monica officers to be the same boat discovered yesterday, had been dragged to the water's edge at Malibu Beach. Nothing has been seen of the boat or Cordill since.

The next day the scribbled letter was introduced in Municipal Court as evidence in a civil suit of the Sun Realty Company against Cordill's father, Tunis S. Cordill, for $600 balance due on a note which had been signed by Robert M. Cordill and his wife and apparently guaranteed by the father.

The letter declared that Tunis Cordill did not sign the note, but that the son signed his father's name without the latter's consent or knowledge.

Cordill is 37 years of age and has been a practicing attorney in Los Angeles for nine years. He has no children.

THEATER IN TOPEKA ACQUIRED BY FOX

A deal has just been completed, the president and general manager of the Fox West Coast Theaters announced yesterday, whereby the Crystal Theater at Topeka, Kan., will be added to the Fox theaters. It will open about June 1 under the Fox banner.

JURY ASKS BURKHART'S DETENTION

Inquest Fails to Name Slayer, But Recommends Investigation of Husband

At the inquest yesterday into the death of Mrs. Ann McKnight Burkhart, a Coroner's jury recommended that the husband, William Henry Burkhart, be held for further investigation. The jury's verdict was that Mrs. Burkhart died of gunshot wounds at the hands of persons unknown. The jurors were unable to determine where the shooting was done.

A sister, Mrs. Joy Hoskins, identified Mrs. Burkhart's body. Mr. and Mrs. James S. Thompson, 6742½ Franklin Place, testified that Burkhart, who lived near by, called them to their door Monday night and said that he was drunk and his wife was ill. The Thompsons added that there was blood on Burkhart. Thompson told of finding the body lying outside the Burkhart bungalow and of calling police.

May Company's Anniversary to be Celebrated

Celebration by the May Company of the seventh anniversary of its store at Eighth street and Broadway begins at 9 a.m. tomorrow, it was announced by Tom May, managing director, yesterday. He added that more than $2,000,000 worth of Spring and Easter merchandise had been selected to be offered in the thirty-two large modern departments at sale prices which will be anniversary gifts to the customers.

Present to participate in the celebration is Morton May, president of the May Company, which has stores in Los Angeles, Denver, St. Louis, Cleveland, Akron and Baltimore. He voiced pleasure at the growth of the May Company store here in what he termed its "seven magic years" during which its business has increased 120 per cent. In the period the concern has booked 351,000 charge accounts. He traced the extensive additions made since 1923, the store now having a total floor space of 1,500,000 square feet.

MILK INSPECTION FEE PROPOSAL OPPOSED

The Federated Civic Organizations yesterday filed with the City Council a protest against the proposed inspection fee charge on milk imported into Los Angeles, stating that it will inaugurate the dangerous precedent of taxing foodstuffs. The Health and Sanitation Committee, although already indicating it disapproves of the idea, will conduct a hearing next Tuesday.

MERCHANT PAID LAST TRIBUTES

N. B. Blackstone Funeral Draws Throng, Including Many Pioneers of City

Attended by nearly 200 persons, including employees of the N. B. Blackstone Company store and many pioneers of Los Angeles, funeral services for Nathaniel B. Blackstone, who died last Monday, were conducted yesterday at the family residence, 1226 West Twenty-eighth street. Interment was at Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Following the singing of "Lead Kindly Light," by H. Griffith Lott, Dr. Carl S. Patton, pastor of First Congregational Church, of which Mr. Blackstone was a member, spoke in tribute.

A native of Livermore, Me., Mr. Blackstone, who was 87 years of age, left school at an early age and went to Brockton, Mass., where he worked for some time as a store clerk. From Brockton he went to Boston and, after a few years in the store of Ewing Brothers & Co., he became a partner in the concern.

Returning to Brockton, he married Miss Louise Robinson, daughter of his former employer. Mr. and Mrs. Blackstone came to Los Angeles in 1887.

With J. W. Robinson, his brother-in-law, Mr. Blackstone established the Boston Store and later Mr. Blackstone organized the N. B. Blackstone Company. In 1917 he erected the Blackstone Building.

Piano Dealer's Widow Passes

Mrs. Clara Youell, 63 years of age, widow of a pioneer piano dealer, died yesterday at her home, 1948 North Van Ness avenue. She was the widow of W. W. Youell.

Mrs. Youell leaves three stepdaughters, Mrs. Stella A. Deaton, Mrs. Jane S. Brubaker and Miss Henrietta Youell, one stepson, F. S. Youell, and a sister, Mrs. R. L. Powell. Funeral services will be conducted at 9 a.m. tomorrow at the W. A. Brown funeral parlor, 1815 South Flower street.

William Van Berkel, magician of Holland, will give a free entertainment to the veterans at Sawtelle this evening at Memorial Hall. Cigars and refreshments also will be provided by Mr. Berkel.

OIL COMPANIES IN COURT

New Gas-Waste Case Defendants Fight Injunction; Others Seek Modification of Order

Representatives of twelve oil companies operating in the Santa Fe Springs Field, who have been made new defendants in the injunction suit brought by the State to stop the wastage of natural gas in the area, were before Superior Judge Hazlett yesterday on an order to show cause why they should not be enjoined from wasting gas.

The hearing was begun Tuesday and continued over until yesterday. It will be resumed today.

Representatives of several other companies, against whom an injunction order was issued on the 20th inst., were also in court asking for a modification of the restraining order recently to the amount of oil production permitted at new wells which have come in since the order was entered. These companies were represented by Attorneys Charles E. Stanley, Robert B. Murphy, Neil S. McCarthy and George W. Nilsson.

WELLS KILLED

According to a statement of Attorney Murphy, several oil wells have been killed in the field by their operators' endeavoring to conform with the court's injunction order. By attempting to shut down the gas production the wells have been killed, he asserted.

Principal among the witnesses yesterday was Prof. Stanley C. Herold, called by the State, but who asserted he was in court to aid both sides, as he is not interested in the field in any other way than as a petroleum geologist.

Other witnesses during the day were Fran E. O'Neil and Joseph Jensen, two of the three petroleum engineers appointed by Judge Hazlett to assist the court in determining actual conditions in the Santa Fe Springs field.

GEOLOGIST'S VIEWS

Prof. Herold said in one part of his testimony: "Justice is impossible unless the demands of the injunction are in full accord with the laws of nature. An emergency exists at the present moment. In my opinion a temporary alleviation of a distressing situation may have been more equitably based upon a flat cut throughout the field. If it is determined that the outlets for the field, plus the wastage, amounts to 285,000,000 cubic feet, and the total amount of gas produced amounts to some 530,000,000 cubic feet, then it would be necessary to cut production 53.7 per cent. If each operator is then required to cut the gas he is producing by this percentage, the total production of the field will be reduced to the required amount of 285,000,000 cubic feet and each can produce as many barrels of oil as possible, so long as his gas allowance is not exceeded. He can take the oil from any zone he chooses.

"According to the foregoing notes, nature penalizes an operator for possessing property high on structure. We can do nothing to relieve this penalty. Nature offers her own compensation for such a position. She promises to postpone edgewater troubles until after she has first dealt with those lower on the structure. If we base curtailment solely upon gas produced from the field, in so far as I can see, we do not in the least affect either the penalty or nature's offsetting compensation."

Shriners Give Easter Party for Shut-ins

Al Malaikah Temple's uniformed patrol and drum corps, led by Illustrious Potentate Fred J. Wadley, Jr., and other prominent Shriners, yesterday made merry for several hours with crippled children at the Children's Hospital at Sunset Boulevard near Vermont avenue.

Vaudeville entertainers contributed their portion to the program, which was in the nature of an Easter party. Other city hospitals are to be visited in order and similar programs of entertainment given.

Dolls and other toys and ice cream and candy were distributed in abundance.

Funds for carrying on this work in the city's hospitals are obtained from donations at the weekly luncheons of the Shriners.

ANOTHER BAKING DAY FOR COOKING SCHOOL

Today is another baking day at the Los Angeles Times' free cooking school and Chef Wyman is to prepare such a diversity of desserts that the program should interest every housewife. The dishes to be demonstrated are date and nut torte, oatmeal cookies, rhubarb pie and French fried doughnuts. In addition Chef Wyman will prepare an asparagus salad in aspic, colored green and served with green mayonnaise—a dish especially suitable for a luncheon party. Everyone interested in cooking is invited to be the guest of The Times today—and every Friday and Tuesday—at 2 o'clock in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

OXY FAVORED OVER POMONA

Tigers Expected to Cinch Win Before Relay

Rival Athletes Rest Today Before Crucial Test

Wendall Smith High Scorer for Bengal Tribe

BY BRAVEN DYER

Having done their heavy work and issued their final premeet appeals or wails, athletes and coaches of Occidental and Pomona College track teams were prepared today to do a lot of heavy resting in preparation for tomorrow's dual engagement at Patterson Field.

WENDALL SMITH

Occidental still rules a favorite to have the meet salted away before the relay is run. Coach Joe Pipal says Cecil Howard, his best sprinter, is under the weather, but Bob Strehle, Pomona mentor, comes back with the statement that Henry Cobb, his leading 440 man, returned only yesterday from New York and will be in very poor shape to ramble a swift lap against Freddie Appleton and Johnny Walker.

Mr. W. M. (Bill) Henry, who has slight Occidental leanings, left a dope sheet on my desk yesterday which gives Oxy a 75-to-65 victory. Mr. Henry opines that the meet will be decided by the relay. In this he does not agree with the writer. But he opines that Oxy will win the relay rather handily and in this expression he is in harmony with the composer of this contribution.

With the exception of one or two events there isn't much dispute about first places. Howard should win the 100, but may have to bow to Harvey Bear in the furlong. Bear has been laid up with the mumps, however, and Strehle says the sprinter hasn't come back yet.

The 440 and half are Oxy's without a doubt, regardless of what men Pipal elects to use. If he keeps Appleton out of the half he can win it with Crawford or Walker. Or if he keeps Walker out of the quar-

HE'S AT IT AGAIN

Jess Mortensen, Southern California's all-around athletic star, having helped Capt. Nate Barragar round up some kind of a football championship, and having aided Capt. Johnny Lehners knock down the Pacific Coast basketball crown, is now about to do a bit of championship-ing on his own hook, and hopes to pilot the Trojan track squad into the Pacific Coast and I.C.A.A.A.A. titles. He makes his first appearance in collegiate dual meet competition tomorrow against California at Berkeley.

Carlyle Gets Three Hits in Four Chances

SAN DIEGO, March 27.—Hustling through the game in one hour and eighteen minutes, the fastest contest they have played this season to date, the Hollywood Stars conquered the Harding Colts of the San Diego City League, 6 to 3, here today. It was the second clash of the teams, the Sheiks having chalked up a 9-to-7 win last week.

FRANK SHELLENBACK

Starting his first game of the year, Frank Shellenback, veteran spitball flinger, pitched six innings and allowed seven hits and three runs. Vance Page, who relieved Shellenback, blanked the Colts in hits and runs. Shellenback homed in the sixth with none on to prove his hasn't lost his batting eye.

The Colts collected two runs in the opening inning. Lou Catina, shortstop, who was borrowed from the Stars, singled, Gingiardi walked, Cy Ramage sacrificed, scoring Catina, and Giniardi came in on Rod Luscomb's single. Peterson tallied the Colts' third marker in the third, walking, going to third on Luscomb's second bingle and scoring on Compton's fielder's choice, Luscomb being forced at second.

A two-bagger by Johnny Bassler, catcher, drove in Mickey Heath, first sacker, who doubled, and Otis Brannan, second baseman, who walked. In the third, Clee Carlyle, center fielder, doubled in the third after two were out and came in on a single to deep center by Albert McNeely, San Diego rookie, who played right field.

Bassler's second double chased in Dudley Lee, who tripled in the fourth and Bassler crossed the plate on Carlyle's single. Shellenback's homer in the sixth ended the scoring.

Speedy Sprinter Smashes Five-Furlong Record at Agua Caliente

AGUA CALIENTE, March 27.—Establishing a new track record of 58 4-5s. for five furlongs, My Dandy of the Reichert Brothers' stable finished with a burst of speed to capture the Golden State Handicap, which featured today's program here. A. A. Baroni's Crofton was second, beaten half a length, and Shasta Bullet of the Allo Carrodio stable was third. Seven went postward.

With Jockey Johnny Parmalee at the controls, My Dandy, never far from the pace, passed Crofton in the last furlong and was going away at the finish. Shasta Bullet made a game bid coming into the stretch, but couldn't overtake the leaders.

My Dandy toted 126 pounds in smashing the mark of 1m. 1-5s. set by Speedy Shaw. Baron Long's Ervast, public choice, was fourth, having met with interference in the first half-mile. The results:

First race, six furlongs—Dolly, first (Lyons;) Wickwack, second (Depass;) Shasta Ornament, third (Cleverley.) Time, 1:14 4-5.

Second race, one and one-sixteenth miles—Caravan, first (Riley;) Whiskey Run, second (Cleverley;) Boss Jones, third (Keiser.) Time, 1:46 3-5.

PIRATES ANNEX SERIES OPENER

Corsairs Collect Nineteen Hits During Tilt

Two Big Rallies Ice Clash for Buccaneers

Crowd of 8000 Fans on Hand for Wild Battle

BY BOB RAY

If the brand of baseball served up by the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs yesterday at Wrigley Field is what the fans get in the National League, then the Coast League variety is still good enough for us. Jewel Ens's battling Buccaneer romped off with yesterday's four-game-series opener, 15 to 10, and the ball game was just what the score would indicate.

JEWEL ENS

The rival athletes started smacking the tar out of the pitchers from the start, and some two hours and forty minutes later it was discovered that the Pirates had collected nineteen hits to fourteen for Joe McCarthy's National League champions. If that is major-league pitching, Santa Claus is a Scotchman.

The Pirates got so far out in front by the time the sixth inning was over that the only enjoyment the 8000 customers could get out of the contest was in giving the National League champions the w.k. raspberry.

TWO BIG RALLIES

Two big rallies, one in the fourth for five runs and the other in the sixth, when seven Pirates pattered across the plate, iced the game for the Smoky City representatives. The

M'LARNIN GO IS SELLOUT

Clash With Jack Thompson Tonight at Garden Likely to Draw $50,000, Advance Shows

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—Jimmy McLarnin, smiling Irish kid with a clout that is deadly in earnest, and Black Jack Thompson, no mean hitter himself, completed their chores today and rested for ten rounds of battling in Madison Square Garden tonight.

While the young sockers finished work, Garden box-office men neared the limit, too. So brisk has been the demand for tickets that the 18,000 seats around the famous battle pit will probably be sold by tomorrow noon. A gate of about $50,000 is in prospect.

JIMMY McLARNIN

Although Thompson has never fought before in New York, where McLarnin has registered several of his finest triumphs, the San Francisco negro is only a 5-to-9 underdog in the betting odds. Thompson's best victory was a two-round knockout of Joe Dundee in an overweight scrimmage before Dundee lost his welterweight crown.

Both boys finished training today well within the 147-pound weight limit. Since McLarnin lost a lightweight title bid to Sammy Mandell two years ago, he has won steadily as a welterweight in New York bouts. His last victory was a quick knockout of Ruby Goldstein in the Garden.

EDDIE MUNSON DIES

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—Eddie Munson, 55 years of age, official timekeeper at Madison Square Garden died here today after a month's illness. During his fifteen years of service at the Garden gong he was also a clerk in the New York postoffice. He was famous for his shout to the knockdown timekeeper near the close of every round: "Ten seconds—and he can't go out."

Joplin Ghost Takes 79 as Youthful South Carolina Pro Leads Noted Field in North and South Open Play; Elements Play Pranks on Famous Golfers

BY DILLON GRAHAM
Associated Press Sports Writer

PINEHURST (N. C.) March 27. (AP)—The stubborn, subtle number two Pinehurst Golf Course joined forces with the elements today to hold its par barrier of 71 unbroken through the first two rounds of the twenty-eighth annual $5650 North and South open tournament. More than 100 link experts led by young Henry Picard of Charleston, S. C., matched prowess with the treacherous layout.

HORTON SMITH

With a cold, driving wind sweeping across the tricky course, the youthful South Carolina pro started out to match perfect figures and clung near standard marks throughout the two rounds to post a 146 for the thirty-six holes and gain a one-stroke lead over the field.

Today's play saw Horton Smith, defending champion, thrust far back to the rear, eight strokes behind the leader. The blond shotmaker who placed second in the La Gorce open at Miami last week, shot a poor 79 this morning and came back in the second round for a 75. His lack of a putting touch cost him most of his lost strokes.

Picard shot the first round in 74 and landed in a four-way tie for second place, two strokes behind the pace setter, Paul Runyon of Bloomfield, N. J. He opened his bag of tricks in the afternoon for a 72, which included six birdies.

Tied for second place with the tournament half over were Frank Walsh of Chicago and the veteran Tommy Armour of Detroit, with 147's.

Runyan, whose 72 gave him lead-

TRAFTON SUSPENDED FOR DIVE IN CARNERA BOUT

KANSAS CITY, March 27. (AP)—George Trafton, Chicago heavyweight novice, was indefinitely suspended by the Missouri Boxing Commission for failing to offer any semblance of fight in his fifty-four-second swooning session in the ring here last night with Primo Carnera, Italian.

PRIMO CARNERA

Announcement of the suspension, which is expected to extend to other States affiliated with the National Boxing Association, was made by Harry Davis, Kansas City member of the State commission.

While not criticising Carnera for the outcome of the bout, Davis said the Italian would not be permitted to box in Missouri again unless a "worthy opponent" is produced.

The European invader, who, under the crafty managership of the French boxing stable owner, Leon See, has collected more than $100,000 by bowling over a dozen selected second and third-rate foes on his tour of the United States, is scheduled to sacrifice Jack McAuliffe, one of the ancients of the industry, at Denver tomorrow night.

This despite the ruling of the Colorado Boxing Commission that the venerable Jack is not a "suitable opponent" for Primo. The West Side Athletic Club of Denver obtained a court injunction restraining the Colorado commission from interfering with the spectacle. District Judge Henry Bray decided the club had gone to considerable expense and should be permitted to go through with the bout.

Kansas City fans in protesting to the Missouri commission today bemoaned the price they had paid to see Carneha dispose of Trafton, who apparently had no desire to do any work for the $2500 purse he received.

The former Chicago football player took three trips to the canvas

MISS ORCUTT WINS AGAIN

Clever Golfer Collects Midsouth Championship from Brilliant Field of Stars

SOUTHERN PINES (N. C.) March 27. (AP)—Miss Maureen Orcutt of Haworth, N. J., metropolitan champion, won the second annual midsouth golf championship for women here today over a field of golfers which included the national champion, Miss Glenna Collett, and several members of the American team which will sail for Europe soon.

Miss Orcutt made the title safe by her sterling play on the first two rounds of the fifty-four-hole tourney, when she scored a 78 the first day and a brilliant 76 the second day. She had an 87 today.

GLENNA COLLETT

The metropolitan champion's total of 241 led Miss Collett by three strokes after the national champion turned the course in her final round today in 80 strokes to close the gap of ten, which separated her and the leader before today's play started. Miss Collett showed a total of 244 for the fifty-four holes.

Mrs. O. S. Hill, veteran Kansas City golfer, who was runner-up to Miss Orcutt at the end of fifty-four holes, made a game struggle to head the metropolitan champion, but two disastrous holes put her out of the running. She turned in an 85 today for a total of 245 and third place in the tournament.

In fourth place came Miss Louise Fordyce of Youngstown, O., many times champion of her home State, with an aggregate of 248, made possible by a final round of 82.

Next came Miss Edith Quier of Reading, Pa., a member of the all-American team, and Miss Helen

Don Carter Throws Shot 52 Feet 6 Inches as Poly Team Wins Meet

FRANKLIN AND LINCOLN LOSE

Franklin Weight Star Leads Southland Putters

Lloyd Reed, Tiger Captain Wins Both Hurdles

Lindsey, Rinehart Clear 12ft. 7 1-2in.

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Although Coach Eddie Leahy's Poly Mechanics won the three-way track and field meet yesterday afternoon at Patterson Field between Lincoln, Franklin and the Mechanics, it was the Tiger and Panther athletes that furnished the thrills.

EDDIE LEAHY

Poly amassed 53 5-6 points, with Tony Spangler's Franklin team in second place with 40 1-3. Lincoln was close behind with 36 5-6.

What was perhaps the best performance of the day was made by Don Carter of Franklin in the shotput. Carter forged his way to the front of the list of Southern California prep weight tossers by pushing the twelve-pound ball 52ft. 6in. Practically all of his puts were better than 51ft., his first attempt going 51ft. 9in.

Jobe and Howard Sayles, both of Franklin, added their names to the growing list of 220-yard runners who have beaten Cooper of Poly, by trimming the diminutive Mechanic star in 22 4-5s. Cooper was nosed out by Sayles for second by inches, while Jobe was an easy victor by two yards.

One of the biggest upsets was furnished by Lloyd Reed, Lincoln captain, who beat Glenn Mack of Poly in both hurdle races. Reed took the highs in 16s. and the lows in the fast time of 24 4-5s.

GOOD VAULTERS

Proving that the City League pole vault record is as good as beaten, Dick Lindsey of Poly and Bill Rinehart of Lincoln tied for first in the pole vault at 12ft. 7½in., which is 3-8 of an inch better than the existing record of 12ft. 7 1-8in. held by Lineburner of L. A. High.

Norman Curtis, Mechanic miler, took the four-lap by twenty yards from Wall of Lincoln, winning in the fast time of 4m. 42 3-5s. Vernon Graves, Poly two-lap man, ran his customary race, nosing out Ray Roark of Franklin in 2m. 5s.

Franklin showed surprising strength in the broad jump, taking first and second, with Sam Gettys winning at 21ft. 5in., while Hood cooped second with 21ft. ¾in.

100-yard dash—Won by Cooper (P.) Jobe (F.) second, H. Sayles (F.) third. Vimare (L.) fourth. Time, 10 1-5s.

220-yard dash—Won by Jobe (F.) H. Sayles (F.) second, Cooper (P.) third. Ralph (P.) fourth. Time, 22 4-5s.

440-yard dash—Won by Lott (P.) Le Due (P.) second, H. Sayles (F.) third. Duda (L.) fourth. Time, 52 1-5s.

880-yard run—Won by Graves (P.) Roark (F.) second, Thornton (L.) third. Molliner (P.) fourth. Time, 2m. 5s.

Mile run—Won by Curtis (P.) Wall (L.) second, Turner (L.) third, Glidden (P.) fourth. Time, 4m. 42 3-5s.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Reed (L.) Mack (P.) second, Gutterro (L.) third. Stockbridge (P.) fourth. Time, 16s.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Reed (L.) Mack (P.) second, Held (P.) third. Berger (P.) fourth. Time, 24 4-5s.

Relay—Won by Poly; Franklin, second; Lincoln, third. Time, [illegible]

Shot put—Won by Carter (F.) 52ft. 6in.; Gibson (P.) second, [illegible]; Gutterro (L.) third, 44ft. 4in.; Pastore (L.) fourth, 41ft. 7in.

Broad jump—Won by Gettys (F.) 21ft. 5in.; Hood (F.) second, 21ft. ¾in.; Gibson (P.) third, 20ft. 4⅛in.; Dallam (P.) fourth, 20ft.

High jump—Won by Draper (L.) 5ft. 10½in.; Gutterro (L.) and Vignola (P.) tied for second, 5ft. 10in.; Costes (P.) fourth, 5ft. 8in.

Pole vault—Lindsey (P.) and Rinehart (L.) tied for first, 12ft. 7½in.; Stankovich (P.) third, 12ft. 3in.; Gyers (L.) Rollins (P.) and Larsen (P.) tied for fourth, 10ft. 6in.

Final score—Polytechnic, 53 5-6; Franklin, 40 1-3; Lincoln, 36 5-6.

BELMONT BEES BEAT FREMONT IN CLOSE MEET

Belmont High School advanced forward the Class B championship of the Minor City League yesterday by defeating the Fremont Bees, 48 to 46, in a meet held on the winners' track. The meet was a thrilling affair, Fremont leading up to the final event, the relay. The Belmont sprinters finished first in the baton-passing event, however, and won the meet. Warnus of Belmont cleared 5ft. 6in. to turn in the most sensational mark of the day. Cowell, also of Belmont, got off a nice jump of 20ft. to win the broad jump.

The Fremont Cees won another close meet held on the same field by beating out the Belmont Babes in the relay. The score was 41½ to 35½. Faust and Goldberg starred for the winners by annexing the fifty-yard dash and the furlong, respectively, in good time.

The summary:

CLASS B

100-yard dash—Won by Bodenhofer (F.) McVamp (B.) second, Tabor (F.) third. Time, 10 3-5s.

220-yard dash—Won by Davis (F.) Bixler (B.) second, Chesnut (B.) third. Time, 24 2-5s.

660-yard run—Won by Crawford (F.) Calamia (F.) second, Kerr (B.) third. Time, 1m. 31.6s.

1320-yard run—Black and Kuo (both of Belmont) tied for first, Turner (F.) third. Time, 3m. 33 1-5s.

70-yard high hurdles—Won by Shima (F.) Brown (F.) second, Howe (B.) third. Time, 9.8s.

120-yard low hurdles—Won by Howe (B.) Shima (F.) second, Ellis (B.) third. Time, 14 3-5s.

Relay—Won by Belmont. No time announced.

Shot put—Won by Lovell (B.) Walker (F.) second, Tabor (F.) third. Distance, 44ft. 8in.

Broad jump—Won by Cowell (B.) Tabor (F.) second, Peterson (F.) third. Distance, 20ft.

High jump—Won by Warnus (B.) Kerr (B.) Delmore (F.) and Guise (F.) tied for second. Height, 5ft. 6in.

Pole vault—Stitch and Soule (both of Belmont) tied for first, Webb (F.) Childress (B.) Paren (B.) and Ellis (B.) tied for third. Height, 10ft. 6in.

Final score—Belmont, 48 1-12; Fremont, 46 11-12.

Final score Class C meet—Fremont, 41½; Belmont, 35½.

RABBIT PUNCHES

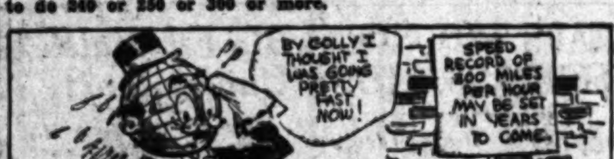
By PAUL LOWRY

WHAT'S THE LIMIT?

IT SEEMS almost incredible, but Kaye Don, in Florida, to break Maj. Segrave's record, predicts a land speed of 300 miles within the next few years. Beyond that point the English speed burner says the mark may climb to as high as 300 miles per hour providing mechanical construction and tires keep pace.

In one of the Daytona newspapers sent to me by Mr. Val Haresnape, director of the speed trials, Don is quoted about the matter as follows:

"Just what the exact limit will be is something no one knows. When Segrave did 231 last year the world was astounded and declared the mark would never be surpassed. Since he has done 231, it is not unreasonable after accomplishing that for some one to do 240 or 250 or 300 or more.



BY GOLLY I THOUGHT I WAS GOING PRETTY FAST NOW!
SPEED RECORD OF 300 MILES PER HOUR MAY BE SET IN YEARS TO COME.

"I have been asked if the time ever will come when a record of 300 miles is set. All I can do is to point to the rapid advancement of the record during the past few years and say that with the aid of modern science it should keep on advancing. Surely, however, if the record is to be pushed much higher there must come a corresponding advancement in racing-car construction."

And then Don prophesies that if a speed higher than 300 miles per hour is to be made it is likely that some material other than rubber for tires will be discovered to withstand the terrific centrifugal force exerted by wheels traveling at that speed. The tires on Don's Silver Bullet are guaranteed safe by the manufacturer up to 300 miles.

Twenty-five years ago the speed on the same sands where Don will try to better 231 was ninety miles per hour.

RAZZING JACK SHARKEY

IN THE same paper which devotes columns of space to the speed trials I find my old English friend, Mr. Trevor Wignall, nominating Jack Sharkey as the poorest excuse for an American champion ever to come under his observation.

Mr. Wignall is a feature writer for the London Daily Express, and has followed our heavyweight champions by personal observation since the days of Jess Willard.

I first encountered Mr. Wignall in Chicago, when the esteemed Mr. James Joseph Tunney and the old Manassa Mauler, Jack Dempsey, were preparing for the Battle of the Fourteen Count.

Mr. Wignall thought highly of Mr. Tunney, and so expressed himself in no uncertain terms.

But he apparently has no use for Sharkey, and less for Scott, although he does believe his countryman was fouled by Sharkey at Miami:

"I have criticised Scott," he writes, "more severely than any man alive, I believe. I have no admiration for him as a fighter and I do not think he was worthy of a place in a fight which involved even remotely the heavyweight championship. But it doesn't alter the fact that Sharkey hit him low and hard. Furthermore, I think Sharkey did it intentionally.

"I watched Sharkey in his workouts and for two weeks he practiced the punch that felled Scott. He apologized at least twenty times for striking his sparring partners. Charles, Boquillon and Grousse all felt the blows."

COLLEGE HUMOR

THE Occidental Tigers beat Pomona 73½ to 61½ on the track last year, but apparently the college correspondents are trying to talk one another out of this year's meet.

At Occidental Cecil Howard, the sprinter, is reported in poor shape.

At Pomona, the same rumors are being broadcast about Harvey Bear, the Sagehen sprinter.

Last year Bear was the only Pomonan who could win a first place for his college in the track events—one out of nine.

Pomona had the edge in the field but the Tigers' preponderance of strength in the running races offset the advantage the Sagehens gained in the six field events.

The Tigers had an all-around track team last year in big Wendall Smith, and they still have him, which is bad news for Pomona.

Last spring Smith captured both hurdles, won the shot, placed second in the discus and third in the hammer for a total of 19 points.

Smith set a new Occidental record of 15s. in the high hurdles last week-end, and is likely to step even faster before the season ends.

He is the current college iron man who recalls the days of the late Fred Thomson and Cliff Argue, the latter of a more recent era.

OUR MR. CHRISTIE

IN A Florida paper there appeared recently a picture of Walter Christie, designer of front-drive race cars.

It was a fine photo, but not of the designer.

It was an excellent likeness of Mr. Walter Christie, track coach of the University of California.

Up until a few years ago the California Mr. Christie had never driven an automobile. Hence, the striking discrepancy.

TOWNSEND LOSES WEIGHT

Allen Hires Expert Trainers to Train Vancouver Boy; Santiago in Shape

Billy Townsend weighed 138 pounds after his workout yesterday at the Manhattan Gymnasium. Ten days ago he was a full-fledged welterweight.

Jack Allan hired one of the best trainers in Southern California to handle the problem. He has Chick Lewis, the man who trains Ace Hudkins.

BILLY TOWNSEND

By coincidence the hook-up in trainers for the fight Tuesday night at the Olympic is the same as for the Walker-Hudkins championship bout which drew $150,000 at Wrigley Field.

Johnny Forbes, who conditioned Mickey Walker, is taking care of Armando Santiago at Soper's ranch. The Cuban has been at Ojai for nearly three weeks.

Frank Churchill, who makes almost daily trips back and forth from the camp to Los Angeles, says that Santiago is in far better shape than he was for the first fight which ended so dramatically.

"Santiago was sick three days before he fought Townsend and we came near having to cancel the fight," says Churchill.

"The boy is now better equipped to go back into the ring with Townsend and expects to win quickly by a knockout. I have the Cuban 'Jimmy McLarnin' in Santiago and hope to make him a champion this year."

Churchill, who is also acting as Primo Carnera's west coast agent, probably receives and sends more telegrams than all the other fight managers in Los Angeles.

He said yesterday that Carnera would leave Denver early Saturday for Los Angeles. The big giant wants to rest some from his tour, which has kept him traveling almost continually.

Carnera may sign a contract to make a motion-picture while here. It is claimed he has been offered $150,000 for one film and is favorable to accepting.

The Olympic has another dash of sentiment on Tuesday's card when Pete Sarmiento, once one of the greatest of a great lot of Filipino boxers, makes a comeback. He meets Tommy McGough of New York in the six-round semi-wind-up.

TRAFTON GIVEN BLOW BY BOARD

before he was counted out and he failed to land a clean blow on Carnera, who had a weight advantage of forty pounds.

Gabe Kaufman, promoter, admitted the fight "was a terrible failure" and criticised Trafton severely.

The purses were paid to the boxers last night, precluding the possibility that the commission might withhold Trafton's share. Carnera received $5100.

LINCOLN NINE WINS

Coach Frank Malette's Lincoln High nine added another victory to its long list of practice game wins yesterday when they took a 5-2 decision from the Fairfax High baseball team. The game, which was played on the Fairfax diamond, was featured by the heavy slugging of the Tiger batters, who collected seven safe bingles from Blankey, Fairfax hurler, in the seven innings of play.

TROJANS OFF FOR BEAR TILT

Locals Picked to Turn in Smashing Victory

Pogolotti, Mossman Lone California Hopes

to run the 100, with Weldon Draper replacing the latter in the 220. They ought to pick up no less than 16 points in the two sprints, and possibly more, although none but Wykoff looked any too good at Occidental last Saturday. California has Bisbee, Barlow and Sparks in the dashes, but Walt Christie isn't hoping for more than a couple of thirds at best.

It is entirely possible that Vic Williams, Gerald Pearson and Art Woessner will corral all 9 points in the 440. This trio has been treading right on each other's heels in some fairly fast races lately, and apparently outclasses anything the Bears can offer.

Bill McGeagh, with a mark of better than 1m. 57s. to his credit already, can gallop the half, and J. Wakefield Burke, the ex-quarter miler, may be good enough to beat out Julius Zelman for second place. This providing, of course, that Mossman runs only in the mile. If he is entered in both the four-lap and two-lap events, he may take second himself.

The mile ought to be a real battle with Halstead and Mossman putting up a merry struggle for first honors. Mossman, the premier two-miler on the Coast last season, is favored, but will have to do 4m. 25s. or better to beat Halstead. Hansen ought to finish third.

HENDERSON BEST

In the two-mile, the Bears boast a 9m. 50s. performer in Fred Henderson, who ought to beat Cromwell's entries of Chris Daniels, Lyle Fitzmaurice and Ellsworth Patterson, unless something in the manner of an upset occurs.

Capt. Al Pogolotti is favored in the highs. He has run 14 9-10s. this season, which is better than Jeddy Welsh or Bill Stokes can offer. Welsh hasn't been in any too good form, but is rapidly rounding into shape. He didn't try very hard last Saturday, against the L.A.A.C., but is ready to do some real running.

Pogolotti and Ernie Payne have both run identical times in the lows, but Payne will be fresh, and Pogolotti will already have one hard race behind him, and the Trojan may score. Bill Carls is likely to slip in for third.

Mortensen will hurl the javelin in competition for the first time this year, but can hardly be expected to beat Ken Churchill and Emery Curtice his first time out. He tossed the toothpick 193ft. in practice the other day. The two northerners have beaten 200ft.

Bob Hall has done 150ft. in practice with the discus, but can't even approach that in a meet. DeBerry might score for the Bears here, but Hall ought to win the shot. The high jump, broad jump, pole vault and relay are conceded to be purely Trojan events, without a struggle.

According to advices from the north, it is planned to start the meet at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon, and have it over by 3:30.

Those in the party leaving tonight are Coaches Dean Cromwell and Tommy Davis, Trainer Neal Miller and Student Manager Walter Rice. The athletes include Wykoff, Guyer, Maurer and Draper, sprints; Williams, Woessner, Pearson, quarter; McGeagh, Burke and Cook, half; Halstead, Hansen and Cuthbert, mile; Fitzmaurice, Daniels and Patterson, two-mile; Welch, Stokes, Vignolo, high hurdles; Payne, Carls, Powers, low hurdles; Hubbard, Mitchell, Chientzos, pole vault; Van Osdel, Norcross, Hill, high jump; Barber, Paul, Corrie, broad jump; Mortensen, Snider, javelin; Hall, Kline, Stewart, weights.

THE DUFFER SPEAKS

This, I understand, is spring,
Where all lovers' dreams come true;
Where the golden warblers sing
Underneath a sky of blue;
Yet I will not hear their song,
And I will not see the sky,
As I curse the bitter wrong
Of a blasted cuppy lie.

This is spring, or so I hear,
Where the winds no longer freeze;
Where the days are clean and clear,
And the green is in the trees;
Yet I only hear the call
Sweep across this bunkered land
As I curse a hacked up ball
In a heel print in the sand.

Let the others face the light
As it drifts above the hills;
Let them find the world is bright
With the rippling daffodils;
I must face a rougher fate
As I do my week-end bit,
Swinging with a deadly hate
In some deep, abysmal pit.

TODAY'S BEST ALL-AROUND FIGHTER

IF JIMMY McLARNIN isn't the best all-around fighter in the trade today several of those who ought to know, including Jim Corbett and Billy Gibson, are full of seaweed. Both rate him the class of the game, as it stands now from the viewpoint of boxing, punching, headwork and all-around skill.

Jimmy will have another chance at Madison Square Garden tonight to inject a little pep into a profession that has become motheaten in the last year or so.

"If the supply of set-ups runs out," says an exchange, "Carnera will have to go in for shadow boxing."

But the beautiful part about life is that the supply of set-ups never runs out. That is why, possibly, so many of us manage to slip by.

The sum of $150,000 in prize money was put up for professional golfers this last winter and spring. But figuring the number of rounds played and the number of those who played them, this only amounts to a dollar a hole, and no one had a chance to claim a foul on the second or third tee.

A REVISION

Full many a dub of purest ray serene
The brooding depths of dismal bunkers take;
Full many a duffer lifts his bobbing bean
In time to see a new ball hit the lake.

Benny Friedman might also slip Yale a tip on how to use another Oosterbaan—if some one can only dig up another Oosterbaan.

"A lot of people," remarked Joe Humphreys the other night, "still say that Gene Tunney never was so much. Well, he could box, he could hit and jolt with either hand, he could take it and he was smart. How much do they want from one man?"

CLOSER RACES, MAYBE—BUT

As far as any one can figure from baseball's training campaign up to date there may be closer races in the American and National leagues than there were a year ago, but no team yet in either league has shown enough improvement to be considered a serious rival when you come to ranking the Athletics and Cubs.

They are still the class and unless a number of their best players drop an arm or a leg they should be the class when the official count stops in September. There is a good chance that the gap between first and second place in each circuit will be thinner and this will help.

When it comes to a matter of attendance there is another detail that could help a lot. This concerns the brand of spring weather that will descend upon the various ball parks. Cold, wet weather drove away thousands in April and early May through 1928 and 1929.

And it is in April and early May that all have a chance to draw good crowds before the melancholy crusher has been placed upon the hope that springs for a month or two and then dives into the nearest ditch.

The majority of ball clubs in both leagues seem to have been strengthened. But no bolstering process should carry any of them up to the level of the two clubs who won last year, cantering down the stretch.

A SAGA OF PUGILISM

As they began to jab and block,
No foul was claimed on some low sock,
And thousands fainted from the shock.

TODAY'S GOLF WORKOUT

The point has often been discussed as to why Bobby Jones kept his feet so much closer together than most good golfers. Even on full shots his stance is comparatively narrow and on chip shots and short pitches the heels are only an inch or two apart.

The answer is fairly simple. He has found that with the feet closer together there is less body tension, less temptation to brace with one leg or the other. There is a greater feeling of ease and body rest.

Feet and legs that are spread well apart help to tie up the remainder of the body. The narrower stance calls for less body action and for easier body action and in this way gives the hands and arms a better chance to swing the club head.

There is always greater tension on the shorter shots where one hopes or expects to get the ball fairly close to the cup. On these shorter shots only slight or limited body action is needed as the hands, wrists and arms do most of the work.

With the feet only a few inches apart the body isn't braced sufficiently to crowd in more than its share of the job. Body power is distinctly reduced and put back in its place, which is exactly what should happen on a short pitch or a chip shot. The idea is to work in as much ease as possible, not as much torsion.

Monrovia Bees in Track Win

The Monrovia lightweight track-and-field team pounded out a 70-to-34 victory over the South Pasadena tracksters yesterday in a meet staged on the losers' grounds. Haskell scored nearly half of Pasadena's points by firsts in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and also copping first in the broad jump, for a total of 15 points. Heft of Monrovia garnered two first places. One in the shot and the other in the high hurdles.

100-yard dash—Won by Haskell (P.) White (M.) second, Hare (M.) third. Time, 10 4-5s.

220-yard dash—Won by Haskell (P.) White (M.) second, Pierella (M.) third. Time, 24.3s.

660-yard run—Won by Forman (M.) Olsen (M.) second, Crunst (M.) third. Time, 1m. 41 2-5s.

1320-yard run—Won by Stapp (M.) Mendenell (M.) second, Garrett (P.) third. Time, 3m. 9s.

120-yard low hurdles—Won by A. White (M.) Stanley (P.) second, Sinsa (M.) third. Time, 15 2-5s.

70-yard high hurdles—Won by Heft (M.) Stanley (P.) second, A. White (M.) third. Time, 10 2-5s.

Relay—Won by Monrovia (A. White, Pierella, Lappert, Keves.) Time, 1m. 16 1-5s.

Shot put—Won by Heft (M.) Christagher (M.) second, Chamberlain (P.) third. Distance, 38ft. 3in.

Discus throw—Won by Johnson (M.) Davis (M.) second, Clark (P.) third. Distance, 86ft. 5in.

High jump—Won by Tarler (M.) Clare (M.) second, Perella (M.) and Page (M.) tied for third. Height, 4ft. 10in.

Pole vault—Won by Rap (P.) Leicester (P.) second, Von Samingham (P.) third. Height, 9ft.

Broad jump—Won by Haskell (P.) White (M.) second, Stanley (P.) third. Distance, 18ft. 10in.

Roosevelt in Twin Victory

The Roosevelt B team won their first dual track meet of the season yesterday when they defeated the University lightweights by the score of 58 to 36. The Roughriders were not extended to any great extent in the majority of the races, which accounts for many of the ordinary times.

The Roosevelt C team won their meet even easier than the Bee. The C score was 68 to 11.

The summary:

CLASS B

100-yard dash—Won by Baker (U.) Gonsalas (R.) second, Klein (R.) third. Time, 10 2-5s.

220-yard dash—Won by Baker (U.) Klein (R.) second, Gonsalas (R.) third. Time, 24s.

660-yard dash—Won by Davis (U.) Markowitz (R.) second, Harz (U.) third. Time, 1m. 34s.

1320-yard dash—Won by Reivas (U.) Porter (R.) second, Hanson (U.) third. Time, 3m. 42.8s.

120-yard low hurdles—Won by O'Rinian (R.) Dean (U.) second, Litrownik (R.) third. Time, 14 1-5s.

70-yard high hurdles—Won by Odapaka (R.) Dean (U.) second, no third. Time, 10s.

Broad jump—Won by Avery (R.) 18ft. 10in.; Klein (R.) second, 18ft. 1½in.; Suzuki (U.) third, 17ft. 10½in.

Pole vault—Won by Dell (U.) 10ft.; Hollenberg (U.) Steinikow (R.) 9ft. 6in.

High jump—Wilde (R.) Avery (R.) Dalton (R.) Freise (R.) all tied for first. Height, 5ft.

Shot put—Won by Enisman (R.) 44ft. 8in.; Cheroff (R.) second, 41ft. 8in.; Lalian (R.) third, 37ft. 3in.

Relay—Won by Roosevelt (Klein, Gonsalas, DeFor, Gardner.) Time, 1m. 18 2-5s.

Final score Class B—Roosevelt, 58; University, 36.

Class C—Roosevelt, 68; University, 11.

John Balazs of Elyria, O., holds a record of covering 1100 miles in 231 hours on roller skates without sleep.

Riviera Stages Polo Skirmish

Polo and golf will be in order tomorrow at the Riviera Country Club. Besides the club's championship golf tourney a mallet battle between the Riviera four, headed by Snowy Baker, and an Uplifter's four led by T. Lyell Puckett. The game will christen the new field at Riviera which will be part of one of the finest polo layouts in the country. The Riviera Club is preparing to uncover three fine playing fields and one practice field for the coming Olympics. Baker has been put in charge of shaping up the plant and he already announces that one field is about ready for good competition. On the Riviera four are George Stoddard, Charles Crawford, Dick Smith and Snowy Baker. The Uplifters will send Puckett, Will Rogers, Jr., Charles Stanley and Clair Brunson into action. The game will start at 2 p.m. The public will be admitted free.

Three Meets for Mercuries and Trojans

Three more track and field meets between U.S.C. and L.A.A.C. squads were arranged yesterday. The dates are April 5, April 19 and May 17. No fields have been named as yet, although they will be held at Occidental or Bovard Field. On May 3 the Mercuries will likely tackle a picked team of all stars of the Southern California Conference at Pomona College, Claremont, where the open S.P.A.A.U. championships will take place May 10. Another big meet for local trackmen will be the Fresno relay carnival April 26.

The above meets are being held primarily to condition the Mercuries and Trojans for the National A.A.U. championships to take place in Pittsburgh in July.

PATRICK AND CORDOVA TANGLE AT COMPTON

Smart boxing men are touting Bob Patrick, kid brother of Tom Patrick, as one of the future stars of the welterweight ranks upon strength of his recent performances and are picking him to defeat Joe Cordova in the feature fight at Compton tonight.

Cliff Burrier and Vernon Gillette, 140-pounders, clash in a rematch preceding the Patrick-Cordova melee. This pair went to a furious draw at Hollywood last week.

Gus Heib meets Jack James in the special event. They are heavies. Lucky Baldwin vs. Pete Pena and Paul Leech vs. Joe Costello also are programmed.

HELENE MADISON RETURNS HOME WITH SWIM CROWNS

SEATTLE, March 27. (AP)—A cheering crowd of 6000 persons greeted Helene Madison, Seattle school girl, when she returned home today from triumphant conquest in the women's national indoor swimming championships in Florida. Mayor Frank Edwards and a citizens' committee presented her with bouquets and officially greeted her when she stepped out of an airplane which brought her from Tacoma.

ership for the first round, faltered in his afternoon play and reached the turn tied with Whiffy Cox of Brooklyn with 149 strokes.

Bracketed at 150 were Ed Dudley of Wilmington, Del., Herman Barron, Port Chester, N. Y., and Mike Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., while another quartet recorded 151's. This company included Joe Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., George Martin and Tony Manero, both unattached, and the canny Scotch moneymaker, Bobby Cruickshank of Purchase, N. Y.

After a bad 79 this morning, Al Espinosa, Chicago, fared better in the afternoon with a 73, and was toward the front with 152. James Hines of Hempstead, L. I.; Ross Somerville, London, Ont., and Johnny Golden, Patterson, N. J., also posted 152's.

The former open champion, Johnny Farrell of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Dugan Aycock, Charlotte, N. C., held close to the front with 153's, while Horton Smith, Cyril Walker of Paramus, N. J., and Fairley Clark of Savannah, Ga., had 154's. Ross Somerville, Jr., London, Ont., amateur, led the simon pures at the halfway post, also with 152.

ARROWHEAD PUCKS TAKE SERIES LEAD

The Arrowhead ice hockey team took a 3-2 lead in the local series for the amateur ice hockey championship by defeating the Shell Oilers by the score of 5-4. With the score 2-2 in the third period, Dave Patrick of the Arrowheads, tallied three times in quick succession to put his team into the lead. The Oilers rallied, with Ernie Miller and Bud Renaud tallying, but fell short of winning.

OXY FAVORED OVER POMONA

ter Appleton can take the half. Cunliffe of Pomona may win the two-mile, particularly if Crawford does not run this race.

The hurdles should be dominated by Wendall Smith, with Hall of Oxy and Hunt and Kupfer of Pomona fighting for the extra points.

On the field Smith seems ripe for first in the shot and discus, while Dew of Pomona should take the hammer. The javelin is a toss-up between Carrey of Oxy and Bishop of the Sagehens. Same holds true in the high jump where Bishop is pitted against Hall.

As for the broad jump, Pomona has the better prospects, although King, Shannon and Inman have been in the doldrums recently. Hall of Oxy might leap 22ft., in which case he will probably win.

Jensen of Oxy is a red-hot favorite in the pole vault, with Ingram of Pomona doped for second and Roselle of the Tigers slated to annex third.

Practically the only disputed first places, then, are the javelin, high jump, two-mile and furlong, with odds favoring Oxy heavily in all others. This does not mean, however, that the other events will not be worth seeing. They undoubtedly will, but Oxy's athletes appear to have a bit more class than their rivals.

Bob Strehle points out that this writer erred the other morning when he declared that Pomona was about to be thumped for the fourth consecutive season. Mr. Strehle declares that his team defeated Oxy, 78 1-3 to 61 2-3 in 1927, which makes us out something in the nature of an ignoramus. Well, it will be three straight after tomorrow.

in six rounds.

Campbell was reported to have evaded the match at his managers' behest because they "fell" for trumped-up stories of the newcomer's prowess.

Campbell will not have a chance to clear himself until the next meeting of the commission, scheduled for some time in April. He can present his reasons for a whitewash at that time.

Commissioned Woods arrived here from San Francisco yesterday and will be here about a week.

SAN FRANCISCO DOWNS OILERS

Tigers Score 2-0 Victory Over L. A. Richfields

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27. (Exclusive)—San Francisco blanked the Los Angeles Richfields, 2 to 0, in the first of a two-game series for second-place play-off in the California Ice Hockey League tonight at Iceland.

Ganton (Roly Poly) Scott, who was considered through as a hockey player two months ago, was the outstanding player for the San Francisco Tigers tonight. He accounted for both of the San Francisco goals.

In the second period he tallied on a pass from Ralph Ellis. Shortly after the start of the third and final session he scored again on a cross from "Lefty" McDonald.

The third period was the wildest session played this year at Iceland. In that period Cooke was sent twice to the penalty box. In all Cooke was in the penalty box three times during the evening for a total of eight minutes.

Los Angeles had thirty-six shots at the net, but was unable to crash it for a score. San Francisco had thirty shots at the goal.

The two teams will play again Monday night at Los Angeles. The team scoring the most goals in the two games will face the league-winning Oakland Sheiks in the final series play-off.

Sports Stars Join Benefit

Local ring and mat luminaries joined hands with stars of the theatrical and motion-picture world at the Olympic Auditorium last night to aid in the benefit for the tubercular soldiers.

James J. Jeffries, former champion; Ace Hudkins, and Bert Colima were among the ring notables who lent their services, while Ed (Strangler) Lewis, another ex-champion, and Everett Marshall and Nick Lutze represented the wrestling game. Dan Tobey, veteran announcer, presented the celebrities to the assembled throngs.

MILLER, KENNEDY DRAW IN STRUGGLE

Meeting for the third time, Hymie Miller and Don Kennedy were unable to decide their rivalry at the Pasadena Arena last night, a draw verdict being given at the end of six rounds of furious fighting. Fans thought that Miller had a slight edge. In the other bouts Mack House knocked out Hugh Shropshire in the first round; Johnny Spencer outpointed Ritchie Aguayo, six rounds; Steve Hastings beat Cecil Myers, six rounds, and Joey Rich drew with Mickey Romero, four rounds. Ray Gilmore officiated during the festivities.

PAROCHIAL MEET NEXT

Junior Olympic Games Contestants to Take Part in Early-Season Affair at Loyola Tomorrow

BY BRAVEN DYER

Junior Olympic Games contestants entered from Los Angeles parochial schools will take part in an early season meet at the Loyola High School field tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

BOYD COMSTOCK

Scores of athletes from various parochial schools will be on hand for the affair which is in the nature of a try-out and introduction to future Junior Olympic Games programs.

Robert San Jose, Fernando Ramos and Jerry Deal, champions of last year, are slated to put on exhibition stunts for the boys, showing them how the five events on the pentathlon program should be done.

Rev. Thomas J. O'Dwyer, director of the Catholic Welfare Bureau, will be in charge of tomorrow morning's program, which will be of interest to all those who are following the Junior Olympic Games' in Southern California.

Boyd Comstock, director of the games, will be among those present, as will D. W. Lott and Ralph Borgelli of the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department. The latter two will give competing youngsters some fine points on the art of chinning.

Rev. Noel Dillon, Catholic superintendent of schools, will lend his support to the program by his presence tomorrow morning.

All boys in Southern California who are interested in getting a good workout are invited to be on hand for tomorrow's meet. Loyola Field is located at 1871 Venice Boulevard.

The first sheet of Junior Olympic Games Training Tips, reprinted from the columns of The Times, has been mailed out to coaches and student executives. It contains four articles by Boyd Comstock and an exceptionally well conceived scoring chart from the brain of Sig Nylander. Those who do not receive these articles within the next few days may secure them by addressing the Junior Olympic Games headquarters, Times Building.

Increasing enrollment of boys in the Junior Olympics was reported during the week from the Los Angeles municipal playgrounds, in which growth of interest now promises to exceed that of the previous two years. Director William DuVernet of Manchester playground has now more than seventy-five entries in the competition, while steady increases have also been recorded at Vineyard, Compton, Central and other playgrounds.

Boys at Juvenile Hall were well pleased by a recent Junior Olympic Games demonstration staged under the direction of Coach Buchanan, assisted by Robert Christensen, John Getchel, Frederick Castro and John Castro. D. W. Lott of the Los Angeles Playground Department was on hand to demonstrate certain points connected with chinning.

Boys of Wilson school at Santa Barbara are training daily on the Junior Olympic events, according to word received from John Edward Armstrong, student executive. The boys are paying particular attention to broad jumping following the digging of a new pit. Baldomero Chavez has been named student executive at Owenyo in Inyo county.

Co-operating with Samuel Loose, director of physical education for Anaheim grammar schools, teachers of the various institutions are doing much valuable work in putting over the Junior Olympic Games program. Among those who are making the event a success are Miss Helen Cole, Mrs. Blanche Daniels, Miss Anzey Schaeffer and Miss Upp.

LIVE-BAIT BOATS START TOMORROW

HERMOSA BEACH, March 27.—Capt. Cliff Garner of the Pacific fishing fleet of live-bait boats announced the summer schedule for the speedy little craft yesterday. The first boat of the year will leave the Hermosa pier Sunday morning at 7:30. Garner has been waiting for the past month until the live bait showed up and now that it has finally arrived, he promises to make up for lost time.

Good catches of halibut have been brought ashore daily from the Olympic fishing barge, according to Capt. J. M. Anderson, skipper of the palatial fishing vessel. Mackerel, perch and sandabs have also been taking the hook with great regularity.

STEPHENS EXPECTS TO KAYOE ALVARADO

Jack (Red) Stephens, 128-pound star of Wirt Ross's stable of boxers, expects to knock out Jimmy Alvarado, his Mexican opponent tomorrow night at the Main-street Athletic Club. They fought a draw there a few months ago. Stephens stopped Johnny Torres in two rounds at the Main-street club a month ago only to lose on a technical foul.

Frankie Diaz and Johnny Christmas, lightweights, meet in the semi-wind-up, with Manuel Trevino and Frankie Mitchell, 120-pounders, slated for the six-round special event.

Harold Thompson Sets New Course Record

Professionals Hold Annual Meeting Today

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Oakmont Country Club golfers are busily engaged this week in first-round matches of the annual club championship.

HAROLD THOMPSON.

Gillie Eckles led a fine field of 108 qualifiers with a 73. Other low scorers were Ralph Eckles and Roy Stockburger, 76; Dick Thompson, E. G. Beynon and A. W. Robinson, 77, and Lee Mead and George Lindsey, 78.

Low thirty-two formed the championship flight, which will be played at scratch. There will also be six flights of sixteen at handicap. The defeated sixteen of the championship flight will make up the first flight.

Leo Jessen appears to be one of Oakmont's most rapidly improving golfers. He made the championship flight this year and promises to be a leading contender. Jessen gives most of the credit for his rapid improvement to one of the finest back-yard driving ranges in Glendale.

Miller Fishel reports that Harold Thompson is playing splendid golf. Harold established a new course record of 66 on Sunday, playing with Ernest Martin, Dave Martin and Carl Muller. Thompson also held the former record of 68.

The pairings:

Cubs, Pirates Meet on Links

Cubs vs. Pirates. That will be Monday's feature, not on the diamond, but on the links, when Charley Grimm and Cliff Heathcote, Chicago stars, face Paul Waner and Pie Traynor of Pittsburgh in a special match at the Oakmont Country Club. The noted baseball stars will be guests of the Southern California Newspaper Men's Golf Association, which is holding a tournament at Oakmont on that day.

Alumni Honor Loyola Coach

More than 500 alumni of St. Vincent's and Loyola universities gathered last night at the Ambassador to officially welcome Tom Lieb, the new Loyola football coach.

Included on the list of speakers were Bill Spaulding, U.C.L.A. coach; Marco Hellman, Jack Doyle, George Eastman, toastmaster; Frank Fay, master of ceremonies; Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, representing Gov. Young; City Attorney Ed Werner, representing Mayor Porter; Warren Bovard, vice-president of the University of Southern California; Joe Scott, Maurice De Mond president of the Breakfast Club; Father McCabe, president of St. Vincent's from 1896 to 1906; Father Malley, elector of St. Vincent's; Father Sullivan, retiring president of Loyola, and Father Mahar, the new president.

Tom Hearne, a classmate of Coach Knute K. Rockne's at Notre Dame, officially introduced Lieb, who outlined his plans and hopes for Loyola's future. Lieb played and coached under Rockne at Notre Dame.

PIRATES ANNEX SERIES OPENER

Bucks Defeat Cubs in Opener, 15-10

Cubs managed to make the score slightly less embarrassing for themselves by chalking up six runs in the last three rounds, but by no stretch of the imagination could yesterday's tilt be called interesting.

Dick Bartell, youthful shortstop, and Fred Brickell, subbing in center field for Lloyd Waner, led the Pittsburgh base hit demonstration by cracking out four bingles apiece. Bartell's quartet of safeties included a home run and a double, while Brickell punched out a trio of two-baggers to make himself pestiferous to the Cub pitchers. Hack Wilson, with four singles, and Ed Blair, with a trio of safeties, led the Chicago attack, although Stephenson, Taylor and Grimm connected for home runs.

Maybe the athletes will put on something more resembling a contest today. Hal Carlson will start on the mound for the Cubs and remain in the game as long as he can keep the Buccaneer bats silenced. Ens will pitch Larry French, former Portland southpaw, and Andy Bedmar, a spectacular youngster who was snatched up by the Pirates after a year in the Nebraska State League. Bedmar, who is only 20 years of age, won twenty-one and lost four games in his first year of organized ball and has looked so good this spring that the Pirates will probably keep him in Pittsburgh this season if he makes a good showing against the Cubs this afternoon.

Heine Meine and Jess Petty did the hurling for the Pirates yesterday, while Sheriff Blake, Al Shealy and Malcolm Moss did the flipping for Chicago. Moss, who blanked the Bucs in the last two rounds, looked the best of the bunch.

INFIELDERS IN DANGER

Both sides were belting the ball so hard that it looked for awhile as though some of the infielders were going to be either killed or maimed before the frolic was over. The Wrigley Field infield is about as hard as a cement wall and the ball was taking mean hops around the infielders' ears. What with the Angels using the diamond in the morning and the Cubs and Pirates performing in the afternoon the groundkeeper hasn't much time to manicure down the rough edges on the infield.

The Pirates started swinging their cutlasses in the opening inning, Brickell blasting a double to right center by way of greeting to Sheriff Blake. Grantham lined to Beck, but Paul Waner was safe on the Cub shortstop's error, Brickell reaching third. Clark's double down the left-field line and Suhr's single gave the Bucs three runs for the round.

Hemsley's single and Meine's double produced another Pirate tally in the second.

Stephenson's single, a walk to Blair, an infield out and Blake's hit gave the Cubs two scores in their half of the second.

The Corsairs doubled up on Blake in the fourth and rammed out six hits, five of them for two bases, to run across five more tallies.

The Cubs came back with two runs in their half when Zack Taylor homed over the left-field wall to score Blair ahead of him.

SHEALY HAMMERED

Shealy, after blanking the Pirates in the fifth, was raked from stem to stern by the Buccaneers' big guns in the sixth. Six solid smacks,, including Bartell's homer wtih two on, a walk and an error by Stephenson gave Pittsburgh seven runs in this big round.

Moss stopped the Pirates in the last three innings but the Cubs were unable to overcome the huge lead despite some hefty hitting off Petty's southpaw slants. Petty came on the scene in the sixth and struck out Blair, Taylor and Bell, the latter a pinch hitter, but was pummeled for four runs in the seventh and two more in the ninth.

Bartell provided the fielding features of the game with a couple of sensational stops that robbed Stephenson and Beck of hits. The Pittsburgh shortstop, who is a product of Alameda High, has a great arm and looks as though he'll be a star in the majors for several years to come. He is only 21 years old. Score:

ROMANS AND HOLLYWOOD BATTLE TO TIE SCORE

L. A. High's and Hollywood High's Class B track and field teams yesterday battled to a 47½-47½ tie in a meet held on the Hollywood oval. The encounter was featured by the sprinting of Truss, Hollywood dashman, who captured both the century and furlong. The 660-yard run developed into one of the best races of the afternoon. Keister of Hollywood won the event in record-breaking time after barely nosing out Hammersmith of the Roman babes. Schanne of L. A. High made the best mark of the season in the shot put when he tossed the ten-pound iron ball 50ft. 10in.

In the C meet which was held in conjunction with the B affair, the L. A. High diminutive spikesters trounced the Hollywood track and field aggregation, 51 2-3 to 21 1-3.

The summary:

100-yard dash—Won by Truss (H.) Mamlo (H.) second, Park (L.A.) Rosenthal (L.A.) tied for third. Time, 10 2-5s.

220-yard dash—Won by Truss (H.) Rosenthal (L.A.) second, Triell (H.) third. Time, 23 2-5s.

660-yard dash—Won by Keister (H.) Hammersmith (L.A.) second, Carmen (L.A.) third. Time, 1m. 29s.

1320-yard run—Won by Klein (L.A.) Lampkin (L.A.) second, Laskey (H.) third. Time, 3m. 31.5s.

Bruin Squads Call Off All Sport Affairs

All athletic contests in which University of California at Los Angeles teams were entered yesterday and today were called off yesterday by order of the university administration. The reason given was that the contests conflicted with the dedication ceremonies taking place at Westwood yesterday and today.

The ice-hockey game between U. C. L. A. and the University of Southern California that was to have been played last night on the Winter Garden rink was postponed until next Thursday night, and the baseball game slated for today between the Bruin nine and Stanford's squad was put off for another day.

The Bruin-Cardinal diamond teams will clash tomorrow afternoon in a double-header. The first game is slated to begin at 1 o'clock, with the second tilt starting around 3 o'clock. Coach A. J. Sturzenegger of U.C.L.A. has been pointing his team for two weeks for the boys from Palo Alto.

Harry Griffiths will probably be the starting hurler for the Bruins in the first game, with the choice for the second engagement lying between Eddie "King" [illegible] Ward, Lee Duke and [illegible] ston. Tommy D[illegible] the hat.

INGLEWOOD BABES TRI SANTA MONICA MIDG

Mainly by winning nine out of the twelve first places the Inglewood B track-and-field team conquered the Santa Monica lightweights, 62 to 42, yesterday in a meet held on the losers cinderpath. Buckboro of Santa Monica won the century and the shotput, and took a third in the 220-yard dash to score 11 digits for high-point honors of the day.

100-yard dash—Won by Buckboro (S.M.) Kinsery (I.) second, Myers (I.) third. Time, 10.5s.

220-yard dash—Won by Myers (I.) Kingery (I.) second, Buckboro (S.M.) third. Time, 23.9s.

660-yard run—Won by Lane (I.) Cook (S.M.) second, O'Neal (S.M.) third. Time, 1m. 28s.

THE WORDS on the back of the package still mean what they say. No "extras," which do not contribute to the quality of the smoke, are included in the price of Camels. Just the utmost smoke-enjoyment that modern science can put into a cigarette.

That statement was on the first package of Camels manufactured and has been on every one of the billions of Camel packages sold from that day to this. When it was first written, other cigarette manufacturers were giving away flags, pictures of actresses, pictures of ball players—almost anything that would make the smoker think he was getting something extra for his money. The makers of Camels believed the smoker wanted a cigarette sold strictly on its merits, with all of its cost put into quality—a cigarette made of such excellent tobaccos—so perfectly blended—so mellow—so fragrant—that it would win its own way.

The vast popularity of Camels is a tribute to that four-square policy.

BIRD TO TAKE STAND TODAY

Prosecution Closes Case Against Man Accused of Shooting to Death His "Best Friend"

After the prosecution had closed its case against Maj. Owen R. Bird in Superior Judge Hardy's court yesterday, it was announced by Defense Attorneys Lou Guernsey and David Welts, that Bird will be the first defense witness to take the stand today.

Bird is accused of shooting to death his "best friend," Percival G. Watson, following an argument at Bird's home on the night of November 25, 1929.

It also was indicated that Bird's wife probably will be called as a defense witness to testify that the shooting was unintentional.

Earlier in the day Dep. Dist.-Atty. Russell, prosecuting the case, introduced the statement of Maj. Bird made to police officers shortly after the shooting.

The statement was virtually identical to that made by Watson shortly before his death, except that Bird declared he believed the gun was loaded with blank cartridges and that he merely shoved his wife and did not strike her as Watson charged.

The shooting of Watson occurred at the Bird home, 3514 Dahlia avenue, following an argument between the two men concerning drinking. Russell charges that following the argument Bird left the room for forty-five minutes and then returned and shot his friend down.

When arrested a few minutes later Bird told officers he used a gun which he kept to start races with, believing that it was loaded with blanks and intending to frighten Watson from his home.

refusal of the witness Berman to give testimony so long as his case was set in the department to which it was assigned, were the principal causes of the delay. This situation having been adjusted, we feel that in fairness to the District Attorney, who has been placed by several of the newspapers in the position of carrying on a personal fight with certain of the judiciary on this matter, that we regard his action in the premises as an honest effort to assist and co-operate with the grand jury in its acquisition and development of the necessary evidence, of which we approve.

"With reference to Judge McComb's statement to the effect that the District Attorney apparently was not willing to make a full and complete disclosure of all information to the grand jury in this matter, the grand jury wishes to state that the District Attorney has at all times made every endeavor to co-operate and place before this body everything that could be gathered bearing on the same." This statement was signed by Foreman Morris and Secretary Townsend.

ACCOUNTANT CALLED

Under summons and waiting to follow Berman in the grand-jury room, when he is finished today, will be W. C. Kotteman, certified public accountant and at one time in charge of auditing the books and accounts of A. C. Wagy & Co., stock brokers. The firm was an adjunct of Lewis and dealt largely in the Julian Petroleum stock. After Kotteman, the jury will call Myron S. Fox and Walter H. Ingold, employees of Kotteman, and who were actually in physical charge of the stock sheets and working books of the brokerage concern. They will be followed by John Ethridge, a former general manager of the Wagy concern, and then the jury will hear Ben Blue, also a former manager.

It was indicated last night that these witnesses will corroborate evidence given by Berman on stock transactions handled in Julian overissue stock. Their testimony is expected to be short, according to Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart and Special Prosecutor Stafford, who are directing the inquiry.

GRIDER FILES MOTION

Frank S. Grider, an indicted Julian-trial juror, whose plea was expected yesterday, filed a motion to set aside the indictment, when his case was called by Judge Wood. The motion was placed on the grounds that the indictment was not properly found by the grand jury in that it was found in direct violation of a statute prohibiting the grand jury from bringing an indictment on hearsay testimony.

Dep. Dist-Atty. O'Connor asked for additional time in which to consider the move of Defense Attorney Beirne and the matter will be argued at 2 p.m. today.

LEWIS AND ATTORNEY ROW OVER TESTIMONY

S. C. Lewis, on the witness stand in Superior Judge Tappaan's court giving a deposition in the $12,000,000 Julian stockholders' recovery action against the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and a group of brokers, last night completed his eleventh day of cross-examination. At least two more days will be required to complete the examination, according to attorneys in the case.

Sharp exchanges between Lewis and Attorney Morrow, who conducted the questioning for the defendants, marked the day of testimony and throughout the examination bickering between counsel occupied much of the court's time.

Morrow spent most of the day attempting to learn from Lewis the history of various stock accounts maintained by the former president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation before the crash of the company and in efforts to force Lewis to fix the date of various conferences between himself and others regarding the overissue of stock.

At one time late in the afternoon Lewis left the witness stand and acting as counsel for himself declared to the court that Morrow was conducting his examination in an effort to force admissions from him which could be used in the criminal investigation now under way by county authorities. Morrow denied the charge and the matter was settled by Judge Tappaan ordering the examination to continue.

KRAUSE WANTS JURY FOR MUNICIPAL TRIAL

Entering a plea of not guilty to a charge of violating a city ordinance by operating as a private detective without a license Louis Krause, recently indicted for jury fixing in connection with the Julian Petroleum trials, yesterday demanded jury trial when arraigned before Municipal Judge Curtis.

Setting April 25, next, as the trial date, Judge Curtis ordered Krause released on $100 bail.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

George Olsen, orchestra director who has just completed a successful six-month engagement in the Blossom Room at the Roosevelt, has taken over the Plantation, Culver City, and will open his new night club there with a brilliant premiere Wednesday evening, April 23.

The entire structure is being remodeled and redecorated at a cost of more than $100,000. It will have a seating capacity of 600, the tables arranged on terraces leading from the dance floor. The art motif will be modernistic.

As George Olsen's, this new night rendezvous will offer Olsen's orchestra plus an elaborate musical revue, featuring a cast of prominent Broadway stars and a youthful chorus of beautiful dancers.

HISTORIC ADOBE CAFE

The La Ramada Inn, on Huntington Drive at San Gabriel Boulevard, is one of the most interesting and historical spots in Southern California. The old adobe building dates back 150 years to the days of the dons. Although it has been redecorated and remodeled the original Spanish atmosphere has been faithfully retained. A drive out to it will disclose an artistic gem, in the settings of which, a superb dining service may be enjoyed.

HOB-NOB NEW CAFE

The Hob-Nob is the latest acquisition to exclusive Wilshire district's list of tea rooms. The Hob-Nob, under the management of Miss S. R. Jordan who formerly operated the Nadroj Cafe, is located at 3828 Wilshire Boulevard, near Western avenue.

Appetizing foods temptingly served and an atmosphere of genuine hospitality are to be featured, according to Miss Jordan.

Service includes breakfast, merchants' lunch and dinner on week days and dinner only on Sunday.

EAT CHINESE STYLE

"Go Native" is the call at the Rice Bowl, Hollywood's newest cafe which Charles S. King has opened at 6060 Hollywood Boulevard. Two dining-rooms, decorated lavishly with gold and silver leaf, provide an oriental atmosphere in which real Chinese food is served in the Chinese manner.

JAIL CAFE REOPENED

The unique Jail Cafe on Sunset Boulevard near Hollywood Junction has recently been reopened by Ted Stanton. All the atmosphere commonly associated with bastiles is faithfully carried out at the Jail, even to seating the guests in cells.

Chicken and steak dinners are featured, while music and entertainment galore are provided each night from 8:30 on. A policy of no cover charge and popular prices is announced by the management.

THIS CAFE DIFFERENT

The new Hill Top Inn, overlooking the city of Montrose, represents the fruits of years travel and study by its owner, Mark Collins. Mr. Collins has utilized his long experience in the hotel business to plan an attractive and homelike place to dine that will yet be "different." Many of the fixtures and decorations have been gathered from all corners of the earth. Booth partitions are so constructed that they may be folded out of the way to clear the floor for dancing.

It is the desire of the management to make the inn a social center for the surrounding country and it is open at all times for bridge parties and other social functions.

Suit of Collins Boy's Mother Granted Delay

Trial of the suit of Mrs. Christine Collins for $55,300 against Police Captain Jones wherein she asserts false imprisonment, was continued until late in June yesterday when the case was called before Superior Judge Archbald. The continuance was asked by Attorney S. S. Hahn, counsel for the plaintiff.

The filing of the suit followed the disappearance of Mrs. Collins's little son, Walter Collins, two years ago. At the time of Walter Collins's disappearance the police turned over to Mrs. Collins a boy for her son, who was later found to be Arthur Hutchins. Mrs. Collins asserts that the police captain imprisoned her when she refused to accept the Hutchins boy as her son.

Mrs. Collins's suit was tried once before, but the jury that heard it failed to agree.

CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS GOING TO CONVENTION

Mrs. Walter J. Lumbleau, State vice-regent of the Catholic Daughters of America, and fourteen local grand regents from Southern California will leave tonight to attend the biennial State conference of grand regents of the organization at San Jose, tomorrow. The California State organization started about ten years ago, said Mrs. Lumbleau, and now has a membership of 4500.

DISTRICT HONOR WON BY ORATOR

San Pedro High Student in Lead at Contest

Venice, Santa Monica and Redondo Compete

First Interscholastic Held in Pacific Southwest

The first interscholastic contest in the Pacific Southwest division of the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution for 1930, was held at the auditorium of Redondo Union High School last night between orators of Redondo, San Pedro, Santa Monica and Venice schools, comprising District No. 37.

CLIFFORD BYERLEY

Honors went to Clifford Byerley, first, San Pedro; Elena Anderson, second, Venice, and Milton Block, third, Santa Monica.

Two students from each of the beach city schools contested. They were the first and second-place winners of their respective schools after elimination contests, in which hundreds of students participated.

TWO FROM SCHOOLS

San Pedro was represented by Clifford Byerley, who spoke on "Our Inheritance," and William Dean on "Our Federal System."

ELENA ANDERSON

Venice, by Elena Anderson, on "The Constitution, our Sacred Legacy," and Lucille Lynch, "The Constitution, Our Bulwark of Liberty."

Santa Monica, by Milton Block, on "The Constitution in the Making," and David Cowen, "Personal Freedom and the Constitution."

Redondo Union High, by Frederic Shidler, "Youth and the Constitution;" Bert Wheeler, "The Interpretation of the Constitution."

The judges were Maude Eleanor Knudson, vice-principal Inglewood High; Chester Urban Teegarden, debate coach, Inglewood High; Meldrim Francis Burrill, speech department, Huntington Park High; Doris Crook Johnson, English and debate, Compton Union High; Thomas E. Hughes, principal, George Washington High, and M. R. Kelly of Woodrow Wilson High.

MILTON BLOCK

Music was furnished by Chase Sweetser on the organ and Charles Myers on the piano.

COMPLIMENTS THE TIMES

Presiding officer was Orval Kemp, commissioner of debating, Redondo High. He felicitated the schools on the fine spirit of good sportsmanship and complimented The Times on the success of the movement which it inaugurated.

The winner of District 37 later will meet winners of other districts in Group E, comprising Districts 31 to 38, inclusive.

Allen Cherry, a senior, yesterday was declared winner of the Theodore Roosevelt High School in the final elimination at Fresno, when he defeated a field of nine contestants, speaking on "George Washington and Makers of the Constitution." Ethel Schofield was runner-up. Other participants were Oakley Hunter, Beatrice Woodbury, Stewart McKelvy, George Teckstein, Kengle Davis, Mildred McLaughlin and Leroy Wood. The judges were William Otto, principal; Lafayette Hyde, dean of boys; Eleanor Griffin, of Stanford University, and Eleanor Evinger of the Roosevelt faculty. Roosevelt will meet Fresno High and Edison Technical of the same city.

INTEREST RUNS HIGH

At Colton thirty-four contestants are preparing for the finals there. Demand for reference books has caused Mrs. Spragins, city librarian, to add many books to the library's bibliography on the Constitution. Of those preparing orations, two were in the contest last year, Evelyn Mae Corgill and Ina Lucy Savage. Margaret Ambuehl, another entrant, won first place in an interclass essay contest last year, and Lois Lloyd has the lead in the A. S. B. play.

The entire public speaking class of Burbank High, twenty-four in number, is working on an oration on the Constitution, each member in hope of being chosen to represent the school in the district finals. In addition there are six or more from other classes who will enter. All are working under the direction of A. P. Shibley, teacher of public speaking. The Burbank Daily Review, Harvey Ling, owner and manager, is offering $25 prizes in addition to those given by The Times Contest management.

After touring Europe an American recently shipped his automobile home in a huge specially made paper bag.

BANDITS BIND GIRL CLERKS IN BANK AND STEAL $864

Binding two girl bank clerks of the Rivera State Bank at Rivera with shoe strings, two youthful bandits shortly after noon yesterday robbed the institution of $864.50 and escaped in an automobile.

Entering the bank, one of the men requested Helen Elliott, book-keeper, to change a $1 bill into nickels for him, and as she was about to do so covered her and Imogene Russell, clerk, with a revolver. Still pointing the gun at the young women, he climbed the partition separating him from them and compelled them to lie on the floor. Then he bound them.

While the two clerks were being subdued the second man entered the inclosure and with his partner gathered up the money, mostly in silver, and escaped in a roadster parked near by. The robbery was accomplished while F. H. Tieskoetter, cashier and director of the bank, was at lunch, according to Deputy Sheriff Hart, who was assigned to investigate by Capt. Stensland of the Sheriff's robbery detail.

The young women were released by T. W. Noble of Pasadena, who happened by shortly after the robbery, officers reported.

SUITOR HELD FOR BRUTAL COURTSHIP

Rival Beaten With Chair and Woman Kidnaped, Says Report of Police

The asserted caveman methods of love making of Edward G. Lucey, 37 years of age, superintendent of maintenance at Leimert Park subdivision, may land him in court on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and kidnaping.

While his asserted victim, Miss Ora Morris, 25, of 1611 1-2 Pontius street, Sawtelle, and Melvin Reed, were yesterday recuperating at their homes, Sawtelle police were preparing a request for a complaint.

Miss Morris stated that she and Reed were together at her home in Sawtelle late Wednesday night when Lucey appeared. Breaking in unannounced Lucey, she said, picked up a chair and struck Reed with it and then bodily carried her out to his car. He then took her into the hills, threatened to tie her to a tree and kill her, and then took her to his home, where Detectives Bergeron and Perry, notified by Reed, said they found him still beating her.

Miss Morris declared that Lucey had repeatedly attempted to enforce his courtship upon her and that she had to move her place of residence several times to escape his attentions.

Suit Faced by Actresses on Agent's Claims

A theatrical agent's claims on percentages of the salaries of Vivian and Rosetta Duncan and Vivienne Segal form the basis of an assignee's suit filed against the actresses yesterday by Stanley B. Fish.

According to the complaint, William Morris, theatrical agent, obtained contracts for the Duncan sisters with M.-G.-M. and with various vaudeville interests, claiming as his share a percentage amounting to $9275. It is asserted that the value of the M.-G.-M. contract was $85,000 and that the sisters earned $41,750 from their vaudeville contract.

Miss Segal, it is asserted, obtained a contract in "The Three Musketeers," from which she earned $71,250. Of this the agent demands $2625 as his share.

Last Rites for Early Patriot's Kin Conducted

Last rites for Mrs. Fannie L. Reynolds, 64 years of age, were conducted yesterday at 2 p.m. from Garrett Brothers funeral chapel with interment in Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Reynolds was a member at large of the Daughters of the Revolution and of a direct lineage over a period of six generations to Richard Lockwood, who financially assisted George Washington at Valley Forge during the winter of 1777 and who was judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Delaware.

Mrs. Reynolds, who died last Monday, was an active member of the Eastern Star. She leaves her husband, James G. Reynolds; a son, James P., and a daughter, Mrs. M. J. Kavanaugh.

MANEUVERS SUPPORTED

The City Council yesterday adopted a resolution offered by Councilman Randall calling on the municipal government to lend its co-operation toward the success of the summer maneuvers of the Army Air Service, which are to be conducte din Los Angeles.

Gov. Reed Plans for Flight With Ogden Today

On a tour of airports in Southern California which he declares are models for the building of others in various sections of the country, Gov. Clyde M. Reed of Kansas will be escorted on a special flight by Lieut. H. H. Ogden, 'round-the-world flyer, and a party of notables, today. Before starting the flight in Lieut. Ogden's Ogden-Osprey plane from the municipal airport this morning, Gov. Reed will witness a test flight to be made by Capt. Frank Hawks, in the glider in which he will attempt a flight to New York. In the Governor's party on the tour of airports will be Judge Trigg, C. M. Matson, A. W. Poole, manager of the aviation department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and Lieut. Ogden.

GOV. CLYDE M. REED

Gov. Reed was the honor guest at a luncheon in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, with Louis B. Mayer as host, assisted by a number of Los Angeles newspaper publishers. Other guests were Louis B. Wiley, business manager of the New York Times; Griffith Ogden Ellis of the American Boy Magazine, and Fred C. Trigg, political writer of the Kansas City Star. Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan acted as toastmaster.

Following the luncheon Gov. Reed was shown the making of talking pictures.

Chaplin Denies Likelihood of Reconciliation

Intimations expressed in Paris, by Lita Grey Chaplin that she and Charles Chaplin may become reconciled on account of their children was all news to the film comedian yesterday.

"There is absolutely no truth to reports that the former Mrs. Chaplin and I will become reconciled," Chaplin said when seen on the set at his studio yesterday. "This rumor is all news to me."

Mrs. Chaplin indicated, according to dispatches, that there were prospects that she and Chaplin might forget the past on account of the children when she was questioned after arriving in France on the Aquitania. "The kiddies might bring us together," she was quoted as saying. The couple were divorced here a number of years ago.

Dispatches yesterday from Paris quoted Mrs. Chaplin as saying she was misunderstood by reporters. She said she is still an admirer of Chaplin as an artist and comedian but that there is no likelihood of a reconciliation.

Socialist Mayor Arrives in City

Milwaukee's Socialist Mayor, Daniel Hoan, who arrived in Los Angeles last night, is to be the honor guest at a banquet at the Alexandria tonight. Mayor Porter will welcome him to the city at the City Hall this morning and also will attend the banquet, which has been arranged by William Busick, secretary of the Socialist party here.

On Sunday the Milwaukee executive will speak at 8 a.m. at Trinity Auditorium. His subject will be "What a Socialist Administration Has Done for Milwaukee." While here Mayor Hoan will study the Los Angeles water and power system and also will hold conferences with national executives of his party.

MORELAND PLEADS FOR WATER VOTE

Citizens' Committee Chief Tells Great Need City Has for Increased Supply

That Los Angeles is face to face with a critical water problem and must protect its present wealth as well as provide for future growth by authorizing the issuance of the proposed $38,800,000 water bond issue at the May 20 election was the declaration made yesterday by Watt L. Moreland. Mr. Moreland is executive chairman of the Citizens' Water and Power Committee, a group of Los Angeles men and women who have taken over the campaign work in support of the water bonds.

WATT L. MORELAND

"There is no sense in refusing to face the facts," stated Mr. Moreland. "We must have more water and we must have it soon. Our rate of growth as a city is rapidly outrunning our available water supply and unless we procure all the available waters of Owens Valley immediately and all the additional waters that are to be had in the Mono Basin, the city will have to stop growing.

"To avoid such a possibility, the Board of Water and Power Commissioners actually require $38,800,000 to meet the situation. This is the amount of the bond issue to be voted on May 20. If we are to continue as a growing city; if we are to attract more industries, with their constantly increasing pay rolls, we must put this bond issue over with an overwhelming majority.

"The sum asked for is the minimum that will enable the city to provide the needed water and the necessary facilities in the form of additional storage space and a larger distributing system which will be needed to carry the additional flow of water in the aqueduct when it has been enlarged to meet the city's growing needs.

"Of this money more than $20,000,000 will be used for the payment of wages and the purchase of materials, a fact which it is well not to lose sight of.

"These bonds are income producing and will not increase taxes. They will be paid, both interest and principal, out of the revenues of the Water Bureau.

"The purpose for which the money is needed, is to procure for the city the needed additional water. Every item on the program has been carefully checked by the bureau's engineers; the Board of Water and Power Commissioners; the Mayor, the Citizens' Water and Power Committee, the Chamber of Commerce and other civic bodies and prominent civic, industrial and financial leaders.

"Every citizen, interested in his city's growth, will, I am sure, take off his coat and work unceasingly from now until election day and on May 20, the water bonds will go over with an overwhelming majority."

OLE HANSON'S SON WILL RIDE IN RODEO

Ted Hansen, son of Ole Hansen, former Mayor of Seattle, yesterday signed an entry blank for the fifth annual Baker ranch rodeo at Saugus, Sunday, April 27. Hansen will compete in the steer riding contest and believes he can prove he is as rough and tough a rider as any cowboy. Almost 300 cowboys and cowgirls, winners of riding, wrangling and roping contests at all the big round-ups of the last few years in the United States, Canada and Mexico, already have entered for the Baker ranch competitions.

Prehistoric Irrigation [illegible]

Not far from Phoenix in Arizona, are to be seen the remains of what was once an extensive irrigation system, built and used for agricultural purposes by an ancient race of which but little is known. Neill M. Judd, recently [illegible] the vicinity and found many evidences of the gigantic proportions of these ancient canals. Some of them were so large that it would take a battery of modern steam shovels [illegible] to construct them, using present day methods.

Under the primitive methods used by these people, who had no metal tools, it must have taken years to construct even a small portion of the [illegible] of canals we know existed during that period.
